Imperial Flour.

READ what the leading Commercial paper of America recently had to say about Duluth flour:

"Flour was dull and unsettled on spring patents, as the Duluth mills are making the market for Minneapolis not only, but getting the trade, as they are able at that point to get better wheat than Minneapolis at less cost, while not making such a large percentage of patents as Minneapolis and hence a better and stronger flour, which is taking the place of the Minneapolis brands of older reputation at less prices." AID FOR INSURGENTS

Gen. Saravia Has Arrived at Rio Janeiro Bay With Eight Thousand More Insurgent Troops.

Before Leaving Parana, He Seized Rifles, Krupp Guns and Ammunition and $250,000 in Cash.

An Incident Showing the Treatment Accorded to Government Troops by Some of Their Officials.

RIO JANEIRO, Jan. 22.—Further details from insurgent sources have been made public regarding the movements of Gen. Saravia, who is said to have arrived in Rio Janeiro with reinforcements of 8,000 troops for the insurgents. This force is said to have arrived at Rio Janeiro on the night of Jan. 15.

Before leaving Parana, Gen. Saravia is said to have seized 2134 rifles, 200,000 cartridges, two Krupp guns and ammunition for them and $250,000 in cash. All the seized articles, together with the cash, were turned over to Admiral de Mello, who gave Gen. Saravia a receipt for them.

The following incident, also from an insurgent source is given to illustrate the treatment accorded government troops by some of their officers: A private in Janeiro was severely wounded by a shell that had been fired from Fort Villegaignon, which is held by the insurgents. As the missile struck him, tearing flesh and crushing bone, the man gave a loud cry, that was heard by an officer standing close to him.

The officer, who had his sword in his hand, turned on the wounded man and dispatched him. The comrades of the man thus foully murdered sprang upon the officer and would undoubtedly have killed him, had it not been that another shell fell in the struggling crowd and exploded. Five of the men were killed by this shell, and the others returned to their posts.

LYMAN'S DYING YAWP.
Irishmen Disgusted With Lyman's "Call to Battle."

CHICAGO, Jan. 22.—The Herald says: Chicago Irishmen of every school, shade and section either ridicule or vigorously denounce the "call to battle" issued by William Lyman, of New York. Mr. Lyman signs the appeal to arms as treasurer of the Irish National League of America, an organization which Irishmen in this city who were members of it say has been defunct for many months. A call for a convention of the organization was issued by the same Mr. Lyman to be held in Chicago Oct. 1, but the call was withdrawn, because it was discovered that the branches of the league had been withdrawn out of existence. About that time Mr. Lyman issued another "call" of a wildly militant type, which was quickly repudiated by M. J. Gannon, then president of what remained of the society, and whose name was attached to the document.

The last war whom, which was sent out from New York Saturday, calling on the "exiles of Erin" to show to the world that they are ready to battle with the British, and to let the "rattle of musketry, the roar of cannon and the echo of mine explosions be heard," is believed to be Lyman's dying yawp.

So say, at least, the Irish leaders of Chicago. They regard it as a humiliation and a disgrace. Even the most rabid say that real revolutionists do not rave in the public press before hand about their plans.

PEIXOTO'S PLAN OF ACTION.
The Program Laid Out For the New Brazilian Dictator.

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—The Herald's correspondent at Pernambuco, Brazil, sends under date of Dec. 31, an interview with "a prominent officer of the dynamite cruiser Nictheroy," probably the latter gives President Peixoto's plan of action against the rebels as follows:

"We have orders to cruise off Pernambuco until we are joined by all the other vessels purchased in Europe and the United States for the loyal navy. When these are here and all in commission we shall proceed southward, probably to Bahia, and there join the Tiradentes, thence sail to Rio Janeiro and make a final determined attempt to dislodge Mello and da Gama's forces from the position they now occupy there."

"It is not our purpose to fight the Aquidauana or the Republica north of Rio. If either come to look for us, why we will simply run away from them. The Aquidauana belongs to Brazil, and it would be a pity to sink so fine a vessel. We prefer to possess ourselves of Rio bay first. When we are undisputed masters of that, then the Aquidauana will soon surrender to the legal authorities."

Prominent New Yorker Dead.
NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—Osborne Monroe McDaniel, a prominent resident of this city, died at his home here yesterday after a severe illness of two weeks duration. He was United States commissioner to the London World's Fair in 1881 and was subsequently for many years connected with the city controller's office here. Since 1890 he has been collector of arrears of Texas. He was born in Georgetown, D. C., in 1812.

WAPAKONETA, Ohio, Jan. 22.—This morning word was received here from Celina, saying that Samuel G. Nage, of this city, had committed suicide by shooting. Nage made an assignment Saturday, which is producing startling developments. He was collection agent for several large firms and the money cannot be accounted for.

BEATEN BY McKANE MEN.

Frank Cottrell Went to Gravesend to Serve Subpoenas and Was Assaulted.

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—Frank P. Cottrell, a young man living in Brooklyn, paid a visit to Gravesend beach on Saturday night, and if the story he told yesterday be true, he was the victim of an outrage at the hands of several of Boss John Y. McKane's henchmen. The scene from all accounts was similar to that in Gravesend on election day when a number of men went to that place to perform a duty delegated to them by the courts and were assaulted by McKane men.

It was in connection with election day occurrences that Mr. Cottrell visited Gravesend beach on Saturday night. He went there as the representative of the committee of twenty-five, which is now pushing the cases against McKane and his followers for the purpose of serving subpoenas on Capt. J. E. Hine, man, of the Coney Island police force, and Isaac Ring, a resident of Gravesend beach.

Both of these men are wanted as witnesses in court today. On reaching Gravesend beach Mr. Cottrell, as he states, stopped at the saloon of Florence Dovan, ex-member of the state board of arbitration, to inquire where the parties of which he was in search could be found. He claims he was immediately recognized by John W. Murphy, ex-president of the Coney Island Athletic club, and "Mort" Morris, who were in the saloon.

Murphy and Morris, Mr. Cottrell claims, without any provocation whatever, gave him a terrible beating, much to the amusement of the other men in the saloon. Then they kicked him out. His subpoena was taken from his coat pocket and was thus prevented from carrying out the work which he went to the beach to do. Besides several bruises on his face, black and blue marks, showing the print of a man's fingers encircle Mr. Cottrell's throat.

Florence Donovan, the saloonkeeper, says Cottrell was drunk and disorderly and that there was no truth in his story. McKane corroborated Donovan's statement of the case.

MEETINGS OF UNEMPLOYED.
Orderly Gatherings in Berlin Not Disturbed by the Police.

BERLIN, Jan. 22.—About 9 o'clock this morning streams of unemployed workmen began to pour in the direction of halls where meetings had been called for today. The five places in which the meetings were held were filled to their utmost capacity.

The following named Socialist members of the reichstag presided at the meetings: Herren Singer, Schmidt Vogtherr, Liebknecht and Fischer. The proceedings in each of the halls began at noon. The police were present in great force, but were stationed at the entrances of the halls, and the demonstrators of the crowds was excellent. The men who were not able to find places in the halls were gathered in groups in the streets, the police making no attempt to interfere with them.

PROHIBITION IN IOWA.
The Supreme Court Finally Squelches Constitutional Prohibition.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Jan. 22.—The supreme court today decided the famous case of J. A. Harvey vs. W. M. McFarland, secretary of state, involving the constitutionality of the prohibitory amendment to the state constitution adopted in 1882.

Ten years ago the supreme court decided that owing to certain errors in the journals of the general assembly, the amendment was not constitutionally adopted and therefore void. The state temperance alliance found proofs that these errors were in the journals only, and that all the constitutional requirements were complied with.

DOINGS OF CONGRESS TODAY.
The House Again in Committee on the Tariff Bill.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—The third and last week of the tariff debate in the house opened with a slim attendance of members and visitors. After the reading of Saturday's journal and of some executive communications, the house went into committee of the whole to consider the tariff bill.

The Senate.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—There was nothing of public importance in the morning session of the senate beyond the presentation of several remonstrances against the Wilson tariff bill. Many industries were represented in these remonstrances, but particularly the clothing and woolen goods industry.

THE PARNELLITE LEADER.
Will Demand Irish Representation on the Financial Commission.

DUBLIN, Jan. 22.—John Redmond, the Parnellite leader, addressed a meeting at Roscommon yesterday. He said that he would demand the appointment of Irish representatives of the commission to inquire into the financial relations between Great Britain and Ireland, as he would not trust a purely English commission.

He declared that at the opening of the session of the house of commons he would press the government for information on many points. The attitude of the Parnellites would depend on the replies to these questions.

THE TAX ON INCOMES

Summary of the Internal Revenue Bill Presented to the Ways and Means Committee Today.

Provides for the Collection of a Tax of Two Per Cent on Incomes Over $4000.

Playing Cards to be Taxed Two Cents a Pack and the Whiskey Tax Increased.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—The income tax bill as approved by the Democratic members of the ways and means committee was laid before the full committee at this morning's meeting. It was read in part, but the committee adjourned before the reading was finished.

The bill provides a tax of 2 per cent upon all incomes of citizens of the United States either at home or abroad, from any kind of property, rents, interest, dividends, salaries, on all amounts over and above $4000. The bill goes into effect Jan. 1, 1895.

In estimating incomes there shall be included notes, bonds and other securities except such United States bonds as are exempt from federal taxation. The tax is laid on profits realized within the year from sales of real estate, purchased within the year or within two years previous to the year for which the income is estimated, also on sales of live stock and farm products generally where grown upon one's own estate; on all incomes derived from any source whatever and the share of any person of the profits of companies, whether incorporated or partnership, who would be entitled to the same if divided, whether derived or otherwise, except the incomes received from corporations whose officers, as required by law, withhold a per centum of the dividends and pay the same to the officer authorized to receive it.

In addition to the $4000 exemption, all national, state and county taxes paid within the year shall be deducted from the profits of the person who has actually during the year from fires, shipwreck and other causes not covered by insurance and compensated for, and worthless debts, but excluding estimated depreciation of value and losses on sales of real estate. No deduction shall be made for improvements which may increase the value of the property or estate. Only one deduction of $4000 shall be made from the aggregate income of the members of any family.

Every person having an income for more than $500 shall make a return of the same to the collector of the district in which he resides, of the amount of his income, but persons having less than $500 a year shall not make such a return. In cases where a fraudulent list has been rendered a penalty of 100 per cent shall be added.

The tax shall be collected on or before the first day of each July and an additional tax of 5 per cent shall be laid on payment after that date, and interest at the rate of 10 per cent a month upon the amount of the tax.

All persons in the civil, military, naval or other services of the United States, including senators, representatives and delegates in congress, shall pay a 2 per cent tax upon incomes above $4000 a year.

Section 11 of the bill relates to corporations. It requires them to make return before the tenth day of the month following the declaration of dividends, under oath by the principal officer.

Section 12 requires the corporation to furnish, beginning 1895, on or before the first day of each year, a statement showing the gross profits, expenses, exclusion of interests, annuities, dividends, net profits without allowance for the same, amount paid on account of interest, annuities and dividends, amount paid for salaries of employees, above and below $4000.

Section 13 levies taxes upon corporations dividends, interest coupons and annuities wherever and whenever payable, to all parties whatsoever, and the corporation may deduct or retain from all payments made on account of such dividends, etc., a proportionate share of the tax so paid.

Section 14 provides that after a blank date in 1894 there shall be a tax of 2 cents a pack on playing cards payable by adhesive stamps. Section 20 provides for the cancellation of these stamps and punishment for their misuse. Section 21 requires makers of playing cards to register.

Section 20 fixes the tax, on and after the second calendar month after the passage of the act, on all distilled spirits produced in the United States on which the tax is not paid before that day at $1 per proof gallon, to be paid by the possessor on or before removal from warehouse, within eight years from the date of original entry for deposit in any distillery or bonded warehouse, except in cases of withdrawal without payment of tax as now authorized by law.

BEFORE THE SUPREME COURT.
The Legality of Prize Fights in Mississippi Being Argued.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 22.—Final argument is being heard today in the supreme court in the case of the State against the Olympic club. The case was originally tried before a jury in the lower court and the club won, it being held that the fights here were boxing contests within the meaning of the law.

The state appealed and the matter was partially argued some days ago. When the argument is concluded today, the matter will be submitted on briefs. The brief of the state covers sixty pages. Under ordinary conditions there ought to be a decision by the court within the next two weeks.

The general impression here is that the court will be compelled to find that the law has not been violated, in which case there will be no further action until the legislature has repealed the law.

BRIDGING THE ST. LOUIS.

Haugen, Baldwin and Fletcher Had a Bridge Talk This Morning.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—[Special to The Herald.]—It was expected early today that some agreement would be reached regarding a bridge over the St. Louis between Duluth and Superior. Today Messrs. Baldwin and Haugen and Mr. Fletcher, who is a member of the commerce committee, had a long conference before the session was held. Maj. Baldwin said he felt satisfied now that an agreement could be reached, probably upon one of the many bills presented at any rate, if necessary, a new bill would be drafted including provisions of the other bills, that would be satisfactory to all who had participated in this lengthy fight. The Harley interests are represented here now by Thomas Lowry, of Minneapolis, and others, in addition to Maj. Baldwin.

The visit of ex-Mayor Winston, of Minneapolis, has renewed gossip about the Minnesota patronage fight. Mr. Winston, however, claims that he is not here at this time to make a determined fight in favor of any candidates; he will support for the big offices yet to be filled in Minnesota. It is yet believed that all the delay in making not only the big state office appointments, but those at St. Cloud and Duluth and at other sections of the state, has been allowed by administrations officials to hear from Jim Hill or Mike Doran, who is supposed to represent him in patronage matters. Senator F. B. Daugherty, of Duluth, arrived in this city this morning from Florida.

THE CAUCUSES TONIGHT.
Indications Point to a Warm Contest Among the Republicans.

All indications at noon today seemed favorable for a very warm time at the Republican caucuses tonight. All of the politicians and heeler have been on the jump all day, printing presses have been turning out tickets, and there was no mistaking the fact that the political pot was boiling. Capt. Lewis' friends are more confident than ever and assert that he will unquestionably be the candidate tomorrow. H. R. Spencer has quite a following, too.

The position of M. J. Davis is quite a puzzle. He is claimed to have secured several Republican nominations not nominated by the Republican convention. He would not run, but there is a great fear nevertheless that if the Populist nomination is tendered him he will accept, indeed it has been openly asserted that he would. A Herald reporter asked Mr. Davis this morning whether he was a candidate but he refused to be interviewed.

"Is it true that you have agreed to accept a nomination by the Populists, Mr. Davis?" was asked.

"I have never been asked by the Populists whether I would accept a nomination or not," was his reply, and further than this he would say nothing.

Alderman Cox was with Mr. Davis and it is said that he will land the Sixth ward delegation for the ex-mayor. The factious alderman, however, when asked how the Sixth is going smiles, winks his eye and says "uninstructed." In the Sixth and Seventh a Spencer ticket is in the field.

The Aldermanic Contest.
The aldermanic outcome is even more uncertain than that of the mayoralty. In the First ward there are two tickets, George Long and F. J. Morris on one, and B. F. Howard and J. T. Hale and H. T. Denham and W. D. Sanford on another, with W. T. Denham as choice for alderman.

In the Second ward, W. G. Joerns, William Getty, Chris Evans and C. R. Harries are candidates with others to be heard from.

In the Third ward, Ben Johnson and R. S. Lerch are prominently mentioned. F. Kendall has a number of friends who admire his previous record in the council and think that he would be a valuable man to have there now and will endeavor to place him in nomination.

The Fourth ward favorites seem to be Fred Wieland and Charles Christensen. There is probably not a word in the city where there have been fewer candidates spoken of.

The Fifth ward has the largest supply of candidates. Ed Patterson, who was a possibility, has declined. George Goldsmith and Philip Westaway are still after the nomination. Another team which may go in is C. Leland and T. J. Barrow of Duluth Heights.

In the Sixth ward Alderman Cox and Nelson will undoubtedly get renominations, they having no open opposition.

In the eastern end of the Seventh ward the choice will be between Alderman Helm and Ole, and it will be a close contest. In the eastern end L. D. French is looked upon as the likely candidate.

The Eighth ward caucus was held on Saturday night and Elmer F. Mitchell and Thomas Olafson were nominated by the Republicans for aldermen by acclamation. No delegates were named for the convention, but will be today. J. D. Boyd, O. S. Olsen and E. O. Ballard were appointed as a ward committee.

The convention meets tomorrow afternoon in the city hall.

A Populist's View.
"A Populist" writes to The Herald as follows: "The Republicans of the Eighth ward caucused on Saturday night for candidates for aldermen. Ed Mitchell and Thomas Olafson were nominated and elected without opposition. J. A. Gray, one of the best qualified and most popular electors of the ward was also placed in nomination, but promptly declined to run. Talk on the street since the caucus seems to indicate that the ticket is a weak one, especially the Mitchell end of it. Democrats say they can do it up. Wait till Monday night and we will show them how to select good timber."

Six Prisoners Escaped.
SEARCY, Ark., Jan. 22.—About 3 o'clock this morning six prisoners escaped from the county jail at this place. They fled the locks from the cell doors and dug a hole through a solid brick wall to the outside. Murderer Falkner, who was convicted last Saturday of killing James Coffey, refused to join in the escape. The authorities have ordered bloodhounds to assist in their capture.

Republicans Caucused Saturday Night and Nominated Thomas Olafson and E. F. Mitchell for Aldermen.

Dr. Burnside and John Patterson Reported to Have Been Decided on By the Democrats.

The Case Against Young Robinson Dismissed—Spent His Ill-Gotten Money Like a King.

At the Republican caucus on Saturday night, Thomas Olafson and E. F. Mitchell were nominated for aldermen of the Eighth ward. J. D. Boyd, O. S. Olson and E. O. Ballard were named as ward committee for the ensuing year. Olafson is an ex-captain of the village and Mitchell is a prominent contractor. The Democrats are very active today, but it is quite difficult to find out what is going on. It was stated this morning that a quiet caucus was held on Saturday evening, when it was practically settled that John Peterson and Dr. Burnside would be the candidates on this ticket. Another story was circulated that the question was not yet settled and that H. C. Dent would be asked to accept a place on the ticket. One thing was quite evident, the Democrats were in a cheerful frame of mind and confident that they could put a stronger ticket in the field than the one named by the Republicans.

WAS A GOOD FELLOW.

Young Robinson Made Himself Solid With the Boys—Case Dismissed.

Thomas Robinson, the boy arrested for stealing money from the till of E. H. James, was examined Saturday afternoon. He made an open confession that he had taken small sums at various times. Out of consideration for his parents and the frank acknowledgment of the habit of treating his boy friends with the money obtained in this way, and was fast becoming a king bee among the lads about town. At one time he took a party of them up to Duluth paying the expenses of car fare and a good dinner.

Cheap Rates to California. The Northern Pacific railroad has put into effect a series of low round trip rates to California points. Tickets are good until April 30, 1894, and are good for stop over under certain conditions.

These rates will enable those desiring to do so, to spend the winter in Southern California or to visit the midwinter fair to be held at San Francisco. This latter event will undoubtedly be second only to the World's fair just closed and will repay a visit as it will exhibit the resources and capabilities of California.

St. Paul, Minneapolis and Duluth to San Francisco and return to Missouri river, $50.00, and to Los Angeles and return to Missouri river, $20.00.

WHEAT CLOSED IRREGULAR.

Good Demand Early for Cash and Wheat to Arrive.

The wheat market opened firm this morning at a higher bid than Saturday for cash and wheat to arrive and with first tender in May at 40c advance. There was a good demand for wheat to arrive and fair sales were made at about the ruling prices. Trading in futures was confined entirely to May, which ruled steady to a point at a decline of 1/4c. The afternoon session was very dull and very weak at a further decline of 1/4c on slow business for May. The close was very irregular at a higher bid than Saturday for cash, 1/2c lower for wheat to arrive and 1/4c higher for May. The following were the closing prices: May 1/2c, July 1/2c, No. 1 northern, cash, 40c; No. 2 northern, cash, 39c; No. 3 northern, cash, 38c; No. 1 northern, May, 40c; No. 2 northern, May, 39c; No. 3 northern, May, 38c; The Weather.
U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN.,
Jan. 22, 1894. The storm which was central over Western Lake Superior Saturday night and day from the Gulf states to the northern boundary of the United States, has advanced to the lower St. Lawrence valley. This storm has been followed by a cold wave which extends from British America southward to Kansas, Missouri and Northern Indiana, accompanied by generally fair weather, and this morning the area of high barometer which has overspread these regions is central over the northwest.

Temperatures of 20 to 40 degrees below
zero are reported in the region from North Dakota northward, and this morning the area of zero temperatures or below includes the Superior, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Northern Iowa, Northeastern Nebraska and Northeastern Montana.

Duluth temperature at 7 a. m. today,
12 below zero; maximum yesterday, 15 above
zero; minimum last night, 12 below zero.

Duluth, Jan. 22.—Local forecast until 8 p. m.
tomorrow: Fair; continued cold weather,
northwest to southwest wind.

Local Forecast Office.
The Pioneer Press company sells the best grade
of coal, and from the low prices now in effect
gives liberal discounts on bulk and prompt deliveries. Office, 220 West Superior street.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—Forecast till 8 p. m.
tomorrow: For Wisconsin: Fair; northwesterly winds; colder Tuesday morning. For Illinois: Generally fair; northerly winds;
slowly rising temperature; milder Tuesday evening; colder in eastern portion Tuesday morning.

Maj. Baldwin's Attitude.
According to Washington dispatches
to the Twin City paper, Maj. Baldwin intends to make a speech in congress
this week on the iron ore duty. As an agreement has been made to consider the iron schedule tomorrow, the speech
may be expected within the next twenty-four hours, but if the reports be true as to the character of the speech which he intends to deliver, the best advice that the major's friends can give him is "don't."

All the dispatches agree in stating that he will speak in favor of free iron ore,
from which it may be inferred that he is looking for support next fall from the Minneapolis Tribune (a professedly Republican paper which advocates Democratic doctrine) to offset the loss of strength in St. Louis county. The Washington correspondent of this Minneapolis paper gleefully telegraphs that
"Maj. Baldwin will make a speech exposing the inside of the iron ring, which controls the entire iron ore fields of Minnesota. He will show that a tariff is the only means whereby these monopolists can tax the consumer in direct proportion with the duty imposed. Another Minnesota member is scheduled for a speech, and will show that the state of Minnesota, having a royalty on iron ore, is interested in maintaining that tariff."

Evidently Maj. Baldwin is endeavoring to commit political hari-kari. He may claim that the Democrats of his district favor free iron ore, but he makes this claim merely for effect, because he knows well, he must know, that there are many Democrats in the Sixth district who believe that it would be disastrous to the Minnesota iron ranges to admit foreign ore free of duty. He will probably refer to the resolutions in favor of free ore passed at the Democratic
"rump" gathering at the city hall as an endorsement of his position, but what will he say when the petition from St.
Louis county protesting against free iron ore is presented to the house and read
by another member from Minnesota?

How can he then claim that he represents even his own county upon this question?
This petition contains over 7000 names of voters. Care was taken that only those entitled to vote in this county
candidates combined received 1303
votes, a total of 5535 votes outside of those cast for the Democratic candidate. Deduct this total of 5535 from the number who have signed these protests against free iron ore, 8500, and it shows that 2865 voters who supported Maj.
Baldwin in St. Louis county at the last election are opposed to free iron ore.
That is about two-thirds of the Democrats of St. Louis county favor the retention of the existing duty of 75 cents per ton on iron ore.

Yet, in the face of these figures; in the face of this great remonstrance from the people of St. Louis county, regardless of political beliefs; in face of the protest of two-thirds of the Democrats of St. Louis county, and in the face of the major's own pledge given publicly previous to his election that he would cast no vote in opposition to the interests of St. Louis county, he now proposes to stand up in the house and misrepresent his constituents by declaring for a policy that will stab one of their most important industries.

Textile Mill Construction.
The annual report of the Textile World
is the recognized authority for new textile mill construction during the year.
They were once quoted in a president's message to congress, being accepted as unquestioned authority. It is claimed that the statistics for 1893 have been compiled with greater care and accuracy than ever before, and wholly without partisan spirit or sectional bias.
They embody the result of careful research and verification and record, involving a vast amount of correspondence and labor. The figures of this year are of peculiar interest because of the change
of administration in the government.

The year 1893 was the greatest year of progress in the textile manufacturing industries in the way of new construction in the history of the industry, and it is but fair to state that a very large proportion of the new mills in the report for 1893
were projected and well under way in 1892, but were not sufficiently advanced to justify their appearance in the report of that year.

The summary of new mills for 1893 shows 172, employing 13,160 people, as against 272 employing over 30,000 people in 1892. This means that 13,160 more people than in 1892 are now given employment in mills. The average magnitude of enterprises for 1893 is about one-third less than that for the preceding year, when the average number of employees per shop was 110, as compared with 76 for 1892.

The record of new construction follows
closely the general condition of business for the year; that is to say, the great majority of new enterprises in the list belong to the first half of the year, and since July 1 there has been very little done. Of 52 new cotton mills, 42 belong to the first half of the year; of 33 new woolen mills, 23 were reported previous to July 1; of 53 knitting mills, 38 belong to the first half of the year, while of 13
new silk enterprises, only 1 is reported in the last six months.

The number of new cotton mills for 1893 is fifty-two, with 501,976 spindles,
in comparison with seventy-three mills with 1,068,024 in 1892. The total number of cotton spindles in the United States in 1892 was 16,285,099, and with the increase of 1893, the total number of cotton spindles in the country is now 16,788,075.

Many of the new mills reported in the South are for spinning and weaving finer counts than has been attempted before in this section. The growth in the Northern states has been in the line of finer goods. Five new mills have been erected in Fall River, containing 100,000
spindles and 3800 looms. Four new mills are reported from New Bedford, two of which are yarn mills of 25,000 spindles
each, the third an additional weaving mill for the Wamsutter Mills (500 looms on fine goods), and a new cotton roping
and binding industry.

The new mills in Pennsylvania are in the line of damasks, bed spreads and similar fabrics, and are all weaving mills. It is a matter of interest that one new mill reported, the Ansonia Cordage company, making yarns, cords and webbing, is operated entirely by electricity, being the only cotton mill in the country depending entirely upon this motive power.

The report on the woolen industry
shows 33 new mills for 1893, containing 66 sets of cards; 41 sets have been added
by old mills, making a total of 107 sets, compared with 157 in 1892; 1485 looms
have been put in, as compared with 1177
in 1892. This is in keeping with the trendancy which has been noted before
of the addition of looms beyond spinning capacity, and the increase in the use of cotton and imported yarns.

There are 53 new mills recorded for 1893, operating 855 knitting machines,
and giving employment to 204 hands;
21 are new mills, 22 under way, 4
make both underwear and hosiery, while 6 manufacture odd goods, such as mil-lens, leggings and fancy articles. There are 15 new silk mills in the report, and also large new finishing works in New England and in the South, 4 dyeing establishments, 4 new braids and fringe
works, 6 cotton batting and 3 shoddy
mills.

While the increase in the number of mills in 1893 has been less than the increase in 1892, the figures are very satisfactory, considering the depressed condition of the country during the past twelve months.

While the lawyers are disputing the point whether the old registration lists
can be copied by the judges, the wise
citizen who does not wish to lose his vote
in the city election will register anew. It is best to be on the safe side. Therefore, let everyone register.

"Boss" McKane's bailiwick of Grave-
send is a good place for peaceable, law-abiding people to avoid. His henchmen are toughs of the lowest type and sit in saloons waiting for a chance to assault
some one.

A St. Paul alderman is accused of having sold his influence for $15. This is altogether too cheap, as any Duluth alderman will admit. The last quotation in Duluth was $200 with buyers.

Lillian Russell was married again yesterday. The length of the present engagement is as yet indefinite.

Do not forget to register tomorrow. If you do not register you cannot vote.

THE SMOKE NUISANCE.

Alderman Hugo Writes an Entertaining Article on the Subject.

To the Editor of The Herald:
I am aware of the fearful risks I am running in daring to look horns with the editor of a newspaper, as I am informed that it is one of the ethical principles of the craft never to let the other fellow have the last word, and even if fate and facts be on his, the other fellow's side it is perfectly admissible to change ends
and kick out behind, but I am not going to enter into any controversy, nor attempt to give lessons in the proper interpretation of certain combinations of words in the English language, but merely, in humility and in fear and trembling, to suggest that you read again
the article or interview with "one of the aldermen" to which you refer in your editorial of Saturday, and if you can find in that reported interview anything to warrant you in stating that "one of the aldermen" said that the "Smoke Notary" had practically given up the attempt to regulate the smoke nuisance, and that in none of the leading cities was anything
being done to enforce the use of smoke
consumers which he declared to be costly and generally ineffective." I will pay for dinner for two at the Bethel.

I fail to see by what distortion the words I used could be so construed, indeed, I believe I said the very opposite.
I called attention to "the comparative clearness of the atmosphere and the good work done for the city in that respect by the enforcement of the smoke ordinance."
I did not say that the "Smoke Notary" is a private concern, and that it was in its financial interest to let something on the principle of the Humane society with the object of remedying
an evil supposed to exist, and which in Chicago and other large manufacturing cities does exist, but not in Duluth except in a few cases, and I do not want to see an ordinance which necessarily brings with it a trade in the city as I mentioned in the interview referred to,
and which I again affirm: I do not desire
to see such an ordinance on our books
and what I said you are guilty of, one to terms, for each guilty one you punish
you may persecute a dozen innocent ones.

The Herald does not know how this article was distorted, and I am sorry to state, not from reading newspaper arti-

ARE NOW CHAMPIONS.

Duluth Polo Club Wrestled the Laurels
From the Henriettas of St. Paul Saturday Night.

Two Games Were Played Duluth Losing
The First But Winning the Second
By One Goal.

Last Was a Great Game, the Best Ever Played in Duluth—One Goal Scored.

The Henrietta Polo club left St. Paul on Thursday with an unbroken series of victories extending over four years. Yesterday they returned home without the state championship, having been beaten twice by the Duluth team. There was a good crowd at the rink Saturday night and when the first game was called, at 9:30 o'clock, there was a solid line clear around the center and the gallery was well filled. Frank Huse was referee and Charles Maloney timekeeper.

The Duluth boys played the same as
on Thursday evening, except that Taylor took meaning's place. The Duluth boys played an aggressive game at the start and kept the ball in St. Paul's territory all the time. In three minutes Paine sent it into the goal and the crowd yelled itself hoarse. But the St. Paul boys knew a trick just as good as that
and in forty-eight seconds had the ball in Duluth's goal. When the boys broke away again there was some terrific work on both sides and it was a rush game all through. St. Paul captured a goal in five minutes and Duluth stock began to drop. In ten minutes more another goal was scored for St. Paul, making the necessary three. It was then announced that in fifteen minutes another game to decide the state championship would be played.

The St. Paul crowd was happy and anticipated an easy victory, but when they lined up again they found the Duluthians with determination in their faces and blood in their eyes. Meeting replaced Taylor and played a fine game.

This second game was probably as fine
a one as will ever be seen here. When the rush came Thomson caught the ball and down it went into St. Paul's territory. It stayed there, too, almost without a break until Duluth had made a goal 27½ minutes later. The home boys played like tigers and they found worthy foes in the Henriettas. Time and again the St. Paul boys would capture the ball and send it down to the Duluth end only to be met
there by Meining who drove it back.
McLennan played a brilliant fearless
game and though his face and hands were badly cut, he fought on, refusing to retire. Carey at the goal did magnificent work eclipsing even his record of Thursday evening. When at the end of 27½ minutes Duluth scored a goal and it was announced that only 2½ minutes
remained the Duluth people were wild with joy.

The St. Paul men were desperate and played like demons. They kept the ball dangerously near the Duluth goal. Once a terrific drive short range was made but Carey was in front of it as usual, and the ball glanced off, its force being sufficient, however,
to loosen his skate. Duluth played on the defensive and when time was called St.
Paul had failed to score, leaving the game 1 to 0 for Duluth.

The roof of the rink nearly went off
then with the wild cheers which went up.
The home crowd won considerable money, too, having backed the boys with great pluck, considering the reputation of the visitors.

It cannot but be admitted that the Henriettas play the prettier game, their long experience having perfected them in team work. When one of their men drives the ball across the rink invariably there is another there to receive it and pass it on. They play a cool, easy game,
but the last two minutes of the second game showed that they are rushers, too.
The Duluth boys play a much harder game. Thomson and Burg on the rush are veritable cyclones and afraid of nothing. McLennan and Paine play at hard game, too, and Vincent is like a stone wall. He never loses his feet.
Every time a man runs against him, the other man falls and it never "phases"
Vincent in the least.

There was one feature which deserves
the warmest commendation and that is the perfect friendliness which characterized the game. There was not a kick nor an ugly word or action in spite of the close playing, and every man in both teams proved himself to be gentlemanly and courteous. The Henriettas may always be assured of a warm welcome

when they visit Duluth.

After the game J. W. Miller took both teams down to the Ideal restaurant and served a fine supper.

THE IRON ORE TARIFF.

Report That Maj. Baldwin Will Speak in Favor of Free Iron Ore.

George H. Ely, one of the vice presidents of the Tariff League, and Col. R.
C. Parsons, of Cleveland, have been here several days canvassing congress on the question of the restoration of a duty on iron ore, says a Washington special to the Pioneer Press. They had little encouragement in the lower house. Sen.
Wheeler, of Alabama, says he can marshal forty-five Democratic votes to the support of the proposition, but the difficulty lies with the Republicans. Their policy is to have the Wilson bill as olivious as possible when it goes to the senate, and they are not willing to vote
for a duty on iron unless the Democrats who favor it will also vote with them to place wool, coal and lumber back on the dutiable list.

The senate has been carefully polled
on the subject, and it is now believed that enough Democratic senators will vote to radically amend the bill to carry
all four of these articles off the free list,
or failing in that, will vote squarely
against the bill and defeat it altogether.
It is not unlikely now that Minnesota
will be heard on both sides of the iron question in the debate next Tuesday in the house. It is said Maj. Baldwin is conceding that his political fate is near,
and will meet his extinction boldly, and
not only vote but speak for free iron.
Some of the Republicans think Minnesota as a state has enough interest in the development of the iron industry to demand from them a defense at this juncture.
The royalty derived by the state on iron taken from the state lands and the tonnage tax gives the state a vital interest in the production of every ton of ore possible, and in the name of the state
as well as of its citizens a protest will be entered against allowing iron to be placed on the free list.

Lowry and McDougall.

A Washington special says: Thomas
Lowry, of Minneapolis, and Capt. Mc-Dougall, of Duluth, are here. The former says he is here for no particular purpose. The latter admits that he is here to look after the project of deepening
the channel into the harbor at the head of the lakes. It is not unlikely that both have an ulterior purpose in connection with the Duluth-Superior bridge bills pending before congress, as both are vitally interested in that matter.

Death of Patrick Doody.
Patrick Doody died yesterday at his residence on Lake avenue south. He was taken sick a week ago and it developed into pneumonia. Mr. Doody has resided in Duluth for over twelve years. He was 30 years old and unmarried. The funeral took place this afternoon from his residence and was in charge of Division No. 1, A. O. H., of which he was a member. The remains were shipped to his old home in Hamilton, Ont., where his aged mother still lives.

New Ladies' Quartet.
At the procatheclral concert on Feb. 2
at the Temple a new ladies' quartet
just organized will sing for the first time.
It is to be known as the "Eolian" quartet
and the members are: Miss McDonald,
first soprano; Miss Farrell, mezzo soprano; Miss Calverly, first alto; Miss Rice, second alto. Their voices are said to blend perfectly and they will undoubtedly meet with a warm reception.
Sydney Brown, violinist, and Mr. D. H.
Day, pianist, will assist.

Mexico.

This neighbor of ours on the south
takes its name from a group of American cities calling themselves "Mexico,"
or "Atlix," who settled in the lake region in the center of the country, and about 1,250 built their capital on the site
occupied by the present City of Mexico.
Humboldt was of the opinion that the Atlixes were of Mongolian descent, and that they arrived in America at a time when the Aleutian islands were above water as a chain of mountains connecting Asia with our continent.

No country of the South will prove more interesting for a winter tour than Mexico. The many remains of architecture from the Aztec are interestingly show something of the civilization attained by a people whose laws, religion,
arts and skill in building astonished the Spanish conquerors of the sixteenth century. Its modern history, too, a succession of revolutions since 1811, affords an attractive field for the student. The customs and dress of the people, the strange fruits and flowers, and the perpetual spring of the climate unite to make Mexico an ideal winter resort. The resident of the Northwest going to Mexico should be sure that his ticket
from Minneapolis or St. Paul to St. Louis or Kansas City, the gateways by which were the foreign land, is over the Burlington. For tickets or information apply to your home ticket agent, or write to W. J. C. Kenyon, general passenger agent, St. Paul, Minn.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE SALE.

Whereas defendant has been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage duly made, executed and delivered by Jennie A. Farnsey, an unmarried woman, of the county of Philadelphia and state of Pennsylvania, mortgagee to Edna W.
Lay, of Baltimore, Maryland, mortgagee, which said mortgage is dated on the first day of May,
A. D. 1893, and acknowledged on the 20th day of May, 1893, and duly recorded in the office of the register of deeds in and for the county of St. Louis and state of Missouri, on the 31st day of June, A. D. 1893, at four o'clock in the day, in book one hundred and four (104) of morgages, page seventy-four (74).

And whereas, said default consists in the non-
payment of the interest on said mortgage,
which said interest was due by virtue of a certain coupon secured by said mortgage, due and payable the first day of November, 1893, without grace, and said default has continued for the space of ten days.

And whereas, said mortgage contained a condition in the following language, to-wit: "If the mortgagee shall be in default in the payment of the interest on the mortgage, the mortgagee
shall be authorized to sell the premises secured
by the mortgage, and the proceeds of such sale
shall be applied to the payment of the interest
due and payable, and the balance of the proceeds shall be paid to the mortgagor, or to his heirs, executors, administrators or assigns, or to the person or persons to whom the same may hereby be assigned, as immediately due and payable, without any notice, and proceeding to enforce the payment thereof in like manner as if the same
had become due and payable by the terms of the said note and coupons."

And whereas, one of the conditions and cov-nants of the said mortgage was the payment of the principal of said mortgage, with interest,
by the maturity of the first part, the said mortgagee, and whereas the party of the second part has elected and does hereby elect to declare the whole sum secured by the said mortgage as immediately due and payable, and whereas in accordance with the said election there is now due and payable on said mortgage the sum of twenty-four hundred and seventy-two (2472) dollars, principal and interest as aforesaid.

And whereas no action or proceeding has been instituted at law or otherwise to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now therefore notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage and of the statute in such matters made and provided, the said mortgage
will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises therein described by the sheriff of the county of St. Louis and state of Missouri, at the front door of the district court house in the city of Duluth, St. Louis county, Minnesota, on Wednesday the 21st day of February, A. D. 1894, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of said day, to satisfy the amount which shall then be due on said mortgage, with interest thereon, and the costs and expenses of sale and every other (75)
dollars as aforesaid, the sum of twenty-four hundred and seventy-two (2472) dollars
therein secured by said mortgage.

The premises described in said mortgage and to be sold are the tracts and parcels of land
situate, lying and being in the county of St.
Louis and state of Missouri, and known and described as follows, to-wit: Lot numbered four hundred and three (403) in block numbered seventy-eight (78), Duluth Proper, Second Division, according to the recorded plat thereof in the office of the register of deeds in and for said county.

LETTER FROM CAPT. LEWIS.

He Gives the Lie to Various False Stories in Circulation.

To the Voters of the City of Duluth:

Political opponents have circulated various reports to the effect that I am supported by and under obligations to the Duluth Gas and Water company, and other corporations, and that I have made various political trades and pledges. Such reports are unqualifiedly false. I am under no obligations nor have I any interest whatever in any of the corporations referred to. I have been approached either directly or indirectly by any of their representatives. My interests are identical with the mass of the voters in this city and rather against than in favor of the corporate interests mentioned.

I have made no combination or promise of office to any men or set of men, and am entirely free from any pledge to any man or set of men, or to any corporate interests whatever. In conclusion, I dislike very much to appear in print at this time, but in the coming mayoralty contest wherein I figure to some extent, these objectionable and untruthful statements have been made, and in justice to myself and many friends, I have felt that this matter should be set right. Very respectfully,
RAY T. LEWIS.
Duluth, Jan. 22.

CHARGED WITH PERJURY.

Rebecca Raab and James Pauly Arrested on Complaint of M. Daniels.

Rebecca Raab, the woman who sued Dr. C. E. Stewart for $70,000 damages for slander and obtained a judgment of $70,000 against him, was arrested Saturday night on a charge of perjury. The most startling feature is that the complainant, M. Daniels, was one of the jurors who awarded the verdict. Another warrant was sworn out against James Pauly with an attempted subornation of perjury. Mrs. Raab upon her arrest was taken to the city hall and gave bail for $700 for her appearance on Thursday next at 2 p. m. James Pauly was arraigned this morning and was admitted to bail in the same amount, his case being set for the same day.

Deafness Cannot be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound of imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface. We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. E. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio. MUST GET TRANSFERS

City Attorney Greene Decides That Voters Who Have Changed Residences Must Have Them.

All Those Who Voted Last Fall are Entitled to Have Their Names Rewritten.

As About Two Thousand People Have Registered Already This Will Cause Considerable Confusion.

In regard to the registration muddle, City Attorney Greene has written a letter to Clerk Richardson stating that in his opinion where persons have not changed their residences their names can be carried over to the new books if they voted at the bond election last fall. In case of a change of residence the voter must obtain a transfer from his old voting precinct and register in the new one. All names transferred from the old books are to stand, but those who have changed their residences and registered without obtaining transfer certificates will have to get them and register over again.

This Mr. Greene holds to be the correct interpretation of the law upon the subject after consulting with the best obtainable authorities. The attorney general has not yet given his opinion upon this point.

To say that this decision will cause great confusion is putting the case mildly. The total registration to date is about 3000 in all wards. Of this number it is safe to say at least 25 per cent have registered without obtaining transfers and that probably another 25 per cent will not be taken off the poll list of last year and properly registered on the new lists. This is about the usual percentage of names that for various reasons, either from strange judges or careless work, gets lost in the hurry of rewriting the names. Too much stress cannot be laid on the necessity of seeing that every voter's name is registered properly.

Bag Factory for Superior.

The building in West Superior which was built for the Osborne-Mass-Dent Grocery company has been sold to the Bemis Bros. Bag Co. for $75,000. A $170,000 plant for making bags is to be put in at once and is to be ready for operation in the spring with 100 men employed. Floor sacks will be manufactured.

THESE WILL SERVE.

List of Jurors, Grand and Petit, Drawn For the February Term.

The following is the list of grand and petit jurors drawn for the February term of the district court, which opens on Tuesday, Feb. 6:

Grand jurors: B. W. Armstrong, Charles T. Clement, W. A. Black, E. S. Palmer, J. T. Rose, F. L. Dever, James McAlfin, C. E. Plinkham, Warren Mendenhall, Frank Downing, L. H. Brooks, F. W. Erickson, George W. Horton, Charles W. Howarth, all of Duluth; H. O. Krueger, Charles Hurd and James Larson, of New Duluth; E. S. Erickson, of New Independence; John J. Stone and Thomas Sheene, of Tower; Frank Brand and Andrew Dunlavy, of West Duluth, and D. W. Freeman, of Biwabik.

Births and Deaths.

Deaths reported today were: B. V. J. Willmer, infant son of L. J. and Cecilia Willmer, 2115 West First street, of meningitis; George R. Anderson, infant son of Frank and Lizzie Anderson, 315 West Second street, and Patrick J. Doody, aged 37, of pneumonia, at Lake avenue south.

Births reported today are: A boy born yesterday at the Maternity hospital to John Olson and Stella Larson, a girl to Martin and Geneva Dahl, 1502 East Fourth street; a girl to Chas. C. and Alida Boyd, 301 East First street.

Charges Against a Policeman.

An investigation was held today in the mayor's office into three charges of being drunk while on duty, preferred against Patrolman Glass, of the West Duluth squad. The mayor reserved his decision. Mr. Glass seems to have a failing of sitting down and going to sleep on a beer keg, or anything that is handy, when he gets a jag, and the chief thinks that such conduct is somewhat prejudicial to the good name of the force.

The Court Filings.

Papers filed in Clerk Sinclair's office today were as follows: Replies of plaintiff to answers of different defendants in case of First National bank of Puntatunney, Pa., vs. Thomas McKinley et al.

Answer to John Kubler in case of Howe Lumber company vs. Cassimer Baldwin et al.

Transcript of judgment for $28,063 in favor of Northern Mortgage and Investment company vs. C. C. Merritt et al.

Buffalo Bill's Arrival.

Col. W. F. Cody, "Buffalo Bill," United States Senator Bech of Wyoming and Horton Beal of LaCrosse, together with their wives arrived this afternoon on the St. Paul & Duluth train. They were met by President Patrick of the Jobbers Union and Vice-president Johnson of the chamber of commerce, and escorted to the Spalding. Dr. Powell, "White Beaver" will come tomorrow.

One draws a long breath as he emerges from the gloom of the city into the moonlit glory of the summit of the hill.

Below lies the sleeping town bathed in moonlight, mystic, wonderful; beyond the bay, glorious with the sparkling of myriads of icy diamonds, and beyond that still, the dark outlines of the hills of Wisconsin. Along the bay front and over to the right are thousands of signal lights, red, blue and green; from tall chimneys here and there wreaths of smoke curl up against the background of the sky, while everywhere is seen the star-like gleam of electric lights. Immediately in front looms up the High school building, tall, stately and beautiful. It is a picture of perfect peace and beauty and one that makes it hard to realize that in the shadows are scenes of unutterable misery and wretchedness; huts and dens where sin and crime hold high revel the night through. Oh, the pity of it! Black and white, debased and wretched, huddle together in the depths of degradation.

Along Superior street rises black after block of office buildings tenanted by men who all send their washing to the Acme Steam laundry (telephone 545), where they sew buttons on your buttons, darn your socks and keep things in repair.

GRATIFIED THE WISH.

Henry Scheidt Jumped Overboard From a Clyde Line Steamer on Last Saturday Night.

He Was Using Iodoform for a Wound on His Foot and the Odor Was Offensive.

Another Passenger Wished Whoever Smiled of Iodoform Would Jump Overboard and Scheidt Did It.

New York, Jan. 23.—The Sun's special from Charleston, S. C., says: When the Clyde line steamer Seminole, Capt. Clitchester, which arrived here Sunday night, sailed from New York Friday, Henry Scheidt was a passenger. He occupied Stateroom 6 with William Stevenson, of Savre, Pa. Scheidt had been using iodoform, and the odor of it was quite perceptible about him. On Saturday evening, when he went into the smoking room, where several of the passengers were playing cards, one of them exclaimed: "Some one smells of iodoform. Whoever it is ought to jump overboard."

Scheidt apparently paid no attention to the remark, but when Stevenson awoke on Sunday morning Scheidt's berth was empty and this note was lying on it: "Dear sir: Please tell the captain I jumped overboard at 7:25 and oblige, Henry Scheidt, 94 Wythe avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y."

Scheidt was 29 years old and leaves a widow and a pair of twins aged 3. He had been in the coffee business since he was a lad. A year and eight months ago he was sold by his firm to Santos, Brazil, as manager of their house there and buyer of coffees. The climate and high living broke down his health and he was recalled and got back with his wife and children a week ago.

The news of his death was not a surprise to his wife. He had no business to take him away on the steamer, unless it was the taking of his own life, and just before he sailed, he wrote a letter to his wife which she had in her pocket.

It is claimed that the relinquishment of the "California archipelago" off the coast of Southern California has never been made either by Spain or Mexico to the United States, and that the islands comprising it very properly are Mexican soil. The three islands to which the claim is made are the islands of Santa Catalina, Santa Rosa and Santa Cruz.

A committee has been appointed at the instigation of the Geological and Statistical association of Mexico to push the claims of the republic to possession of these islands. The claim is made that on the transfer of California to the United States these islands were not included.

Mr. Buhl was a leading merchant, manufacturer and banker being among the first to move in the establishment of national banks in Detroit. His official life is limited by a term of service as alderman and one term as mayor of the city. He was one of the wealthiest men in this city, his fortune being estimated at over $5,000,000. Mr. Buhl was nearly 84 years of age.

REFUSED TO BE RESCUED.
John Shibley Jumped into a Canal and Was Drowned.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 23.—John Shibley, until recently employed by the Falls City Buggy Towing company, yesterday morning at 5 o'clock committed suicide by jumping into the canal from the end of the Eighteenth street bridge.

Howard Page, the bridge watchman, and H. H. Wells witnessed the deed and securing a rope, threw it to the drowning man. He refused to accept the aid and threw the rope from him. He drowned before he could be got out. The suicide is supposed to be the result of despondency over Shibley's failure to secure employment.

Heavy Rain in Texas.
DENISON, Tex., Jan. 23.—River has made the unprecedented rise of twelve feet during the past twenty-four hours. All ferry communications are cut off. The Washita is the highest for a number of years. All of the large water courses are bank full. The rain is a great thing for North and Western Texas and will be worth thousands of dollars to the farmers.

Derailed by a Cow.
MONTGOMERY, Ala., Jan. 23.—Passenger Train No. 5 on the Central railroad, due here at 7:55 p. m., was thrown off the track near Fitzpatrick by a cow. The engine and baggage cars were derailed. Engineer Williams and Fireman Kimball of Macon were badly scalded but there were no other casualties.

An Embezzler Caught.
GREENEY, Cal., Jan. 23.—C. M. Winters, employed by a butcher of this place, has been identified as A. C. Knowlton, wanted in Knox township, Vincennes, Ohio, for embezzling $1300 from the bridge fund while serving as township treasurer. He is placed under arrest to await the arrival of officers and requisition papers.

HOFFMAN HOUSE FOR SALE.

New York's Famous Hostelry to be Offered at Auction.

New York, Jan. 23.—Grosvenor S. Hubbard posted an announcement yesterday that the Hoffman house would be sold at auction Feb. 13. He directs that there shall be sold all the furniture, bric-a-brac, paintings, works of art, linen, glassware and any other assets property and effects now owned and used by the Hoffman house or its successors in the business of conducting great restaurants at the following places:

The Hoffman house at Broadway and Fifty-fifth street. The Hoffman cafes at Beaver street and at the corner of Exchange place and New street and at the Hotel Claremont. The sale also includes all leases held by the Hoffman house, whether in the name of the Hoffman house, Edward S. Stokes, or any firm, person or corporation, for the benefit of the Hoffman house.

Mr. Hubbard is referee in the action in foreclosure brought against the Hoffman house by the Farmers Loan and Trust company. The sale will be made at the New York estate salesroom.

RACING STOCK SOLD.
Fred Gebhardt Sells All the Horses on His California Ranch.

New York, Jan. 23.—The Sun's San Francisco special says: The last remnant of racing stock from Fred Gebhardt's Lake county ranch was sold yesterday at auction in this city. Nineteen brood mares brought an average of $475, the highest price being $3000 for a good one. These animals were brought from New York by Gebhardt, when he and Mrs. Langtry purchased stock ranches side by side in Northern California. Dr. Gebhardt was appointed manager of the two farms.

Gebhardt sent out some good stallions, one being a son of Eolus, but none amounted to anything. Experts who visited the ranch declared the horses were starved and the yearlings sold here were certainly very stunted, presenting a great contrast in size to the ordinary California yearlings.

Gebhardt finally grew tired of the ranch and was recently brought suit against Ahey for fraud in the management. Mrs. Langtry still carries on her ranch of which Ahey has charge, but it has not been a financial success.

A CLEVER MEXICAN SCHEME.
But Uncle Sam May Have Something to Say.

St. Louis, Jan. 23.—A special to the Globe-Democrat from the City of Mexico says: A movement is on foot in Mexico to annex a portion of what is commonly considered to be Southern California to the United States.

It is claimed that the relinquishment of the "California archipelago" off the coast of Southern California has never been made either by Spain or Mexico to the United States, and that the islands comprising it very properly are Mexican soil. The three islands to which the claim is made are the islands of Santa Catalina, Santa Rosa and Santa Cruz.

LEWIS SCORES FIRST.

Supporters of Capt. Lewis Secure Control of the Temporary Organization of the Republican Convention.

James A. Hanks Was Chosen Temporary Chairman, Receiving Twenty-seven Votes Out of Fifty-one.

The City Hall Too Small for the Crowd and Temple Opera House Was Secured.

The members of the party of Lincoln and Grant, Garfield and Harrison, were out betimes at the city hall this afternoon. Last night the Republican primaries were held and this afternoon the Republican city convention was held.

The time set for starting the event was set for 2 o'clock. Long before that hour the council chamber was filled to overflowing and long files of perspiring patriots reached down the stairs and almost out to the street.

Promptly at 2 o'clock E. C. Holliday, chairman of the city central committee, rapped the convention to order and read the call. The fifty-one delegates occupied places inside the railing and listened intently to the reading, along with the mass of Republicans, Democratic and Populist citizens outside the sacred limits. Just as Mr. Holliday concluded his reading, Alderman Ben Howard said:

"Mr. Chairman, I move that we adjourn to the Temple opera house."

"Can we get it," shouted some.

"Second the motion," yelled others.

The motion being presented, was carried with a whoop and a few cries of "No! No!" Then those who had rushed and crowded and squeezed up the stairs rushed and crowded and squeezed down again and the scramble was for the opera house. The body of the house was filled to its full capacity and the balcony was in nearly the same condition. Chairs for the delegates were placed on the stage where all could see and be seen and all was in readiness for the wheels to turn.

Alderman Cox arose and said: "Mr. Chairman, I move that the janitor be instructed to turn on the steam. Not being a Democrat, I've failed to provide myself with a bottle."

Cries of "Time! Time! Time!" arose and the chilly fellows in the gallery stamped their cold feet. At 2:40 the chairman was asked the pleasure of the meeting. Page Morris nominated J. A. Hanks for chairman. L. A. Larson offered the name of Dr. Routh. By motion, nominations were closed, the procedure of voting by ballot adopted and Messrs. Hanks and Larson named tellers.

G. J. Mallory was asked to act as temporary secretary. The vote stood, Hanks, 27; Routh, 23; Morris, 1. Hanks was declared the winner. On motion of E. L. Fisher Hanks was made chairman by acclamation.

Mr. Hanks returned thanks for the honor and stated that a Republican administration in Duluth was desirable and necessary.

J. A. Gray was named temporary secretary by acclamation.

The following committees were appointed by the chairman:

A WINNING COMBINE.

Those Who Favor a Duty on Iron Ore, Lead and Lumber Certain of Victory.

They Feel Satisfied, According to Today's Statements, That They Will Win in the House.

They Are Absolutely Certain That They Will Get What They Want in the Senate.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—[Special to The Herald.]—The statement telegraphed to The Herald from Washington last week that it was almost certain that the lead, iron ore and lumber men had effected a combination to defeat the different schedules in the Wilson bill affecting these interests seems certain to be verified. Representatives here have worked very hard to knock out the Wilson bill schedules and restore the duty on iron ore, lead and lumber.

The many defeats of the Democratic leaders in the house up to the present time indicates that they are unable to steer their bill through as it was reported, and on account of the existing situation those who favor a duty on lead, iron ore and lumber feel perfectly satisfied, according to statements today, that they will be successful in the house. Failing in the house, they are absolutely certain that they will get what they want in the senate.

When the iron ore schedule is reached Representative Tawney will deliver a strong speech in favor of the duty on iron ore. He expects that he would be able to speak today, but the tangle on sugar is likely to prevent the iron ore fight coming up before tomorrow. Mr. Tawney said the proposition in the bill to put iron ore on the free list was infamous and he would oppose it to the bitter end. The secretary of the Duluth stock exchange arrived in Washington, bringing the petition of St. Louis county against the free iron ore schedule.

Senator Washburn today presented a resolution adopted by the chamber of commerce of Duluth endorsing the resolution adopted by the Duluth stock exchange favoring the retention of the existing tariff on iron ore.

In addition to Mr. Tawney, the following other Northwestern members will vote against a reduction of the tariff on iron ore: Kiefer, Fletcher, McCleary, Johnson (of North Dakota), Lucas and Pickler. Baldwin, Boen and Hall will vote free iron ore.

After Making Three Trips From Gnessen, Robert Postal Got His Bounties.

Robert Postal has at last succeeded in unraveling all the red tape necessary to get a wolf bounty and, as Auditor La Vague says, the tape was forty-five miles long—three trips from Gnessen. Postal came on about a week ago with the hides of two wolves, one a male and one a female. Auditor La Vague got down the law and read it to him. His face fell, and he went back to Gnessen, hunted up the carcasses, carried them before the town supervisors and secured certificates of death.

Now he came again to Duluth and went to Auditor La Vague with his certificates.

"But where are the scalps and the ears?" asked the auditor.

Postal's face fell again farther than did the mercury night before last. Back to Gnessen he went and this morning again showed up with hides, scalps, ears, certificates, and, with a weary look, laid all before the auditor. To his intense relief he received an order for $20.

Going to Rainy Lake. A party of eleven gold hunters leave Duluth today bound for Rainy Lake by way of Tower. They are well equipped with teams and supplies. Among the party are Capt. Thos. J. Jones, Dr. Corson and George Hillier. The object is to reach the goldfields with their supplies and tools over the ice and, as soon as they will settle upon their location, a part of them will return with the teams and make one or more trips over the ice to the Mesaba range for the Rainy Lake country, and if they report a fairly easy trip, they will probably be followed by several more outfits of a similar character.

John L. Morrison Sues Justice Stilson, of Grand Rapids, for Damages.

John L. Morrison, a newspaper reporter of this city, was subpoenaed to appear at Grand Rapids, Jan. 10, as a witness in a criminal libel suit brought by County Attorney Pratt against A. G. Bernard, editor of the Grand Rapids Magnet. On that date Morrison, because of illness, failed to appear and the case was adjourned until Jan. 18. On Jan. 17 Pratt telegraphed Morrison to be on hand the next day but he not only did not get the telegram until two hours after the train left, but he was advised that he had not been duly subpoenaed.

The next day Sheriff Toole, of Itasca county, came to Duluth armed with a bench warrant issued by Justice of the Peace Stilson, on the ground of contempt. Friday the officer took his prisoner to Grand Rapids.

That evening Morrison demanded an immediate hearing but it was denied. Friday morning, he, as was thought, made an effective purging of the contempt but Grand Rapids justice would not have it that way and imposed a fine of $10 or one day in the county jail.

Newspaper reporters are not blessed with a surfeit of $10 bills, so Morrison went to jail.

Attorney J. N. True, at the behest of several leading business men, who thought the reporter had been unjustly used, applied to Court Commissioner John Bowman at La Prairie for a writ of habeas corpus. That after three hours of argument and after the prisoner had spent two hours in company with drunken lumber jacks, was granted and the prisoner released.

Early Monday morning preliminary papers in a suit by Morrison for damages in the sum of $10,000 were served on County Attorney Pratt and Justice Stilson. The suit has been started in St. Louis county. The plaintiff has retained Grand Rapids attorney R. A. Kinnear, a leading firm of lawyers in Duluth will be associated in the case. If necessary, Morrison says he will hold the bondsmen of the officers for any judgment the courts may grant him. The complaint was filed with the clerk of the district court today.

WANTED TO GET REVENGE.

Attempt to Destroy a Paris Store With an Internal Machine.

PARIS, Jan. 23.—It has just been made public that on Sunday night last a watchman employed at the Gands magazine, owned by M. Jules Jaloussot, a member of the chamber of deputies, found an infernal machine that had been placed at the main entrance of the store.

The watchman dipped the machine in a bucket of water and then turned it over to the police, who caused its contents to be analyzed. It was found that the machine contained chloral powder and some projectiles which together weighed ten pounds.

The time at which the discovery was made suggests that the person who placed the machine where it was found wanted to damage the building and not persons. The police think it is the attempted outrage of some person who has been dismissed from employment at the store.

Who delivered an earnest and eloquent plea for free coal.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—A resolution was reported from the committee on foreign relations and went over without action until tomorrow, declaring it unwise and inexpedient at this time to consider any project of annexation of the Hawaiian islands to the United States; that the provisional government there having been duly recognized should be allowed to pursue its own line of policy, and that any intervention in the political affairs of the islands will be regarded as an act unfriendly to the United States.

Mr. Stewart addressed the senate in support of Mr. Peffer's resolution offered on Jan. 18, declaring that the secretary of the treasury has no lawful authority for issuing and selling bonds as proposed in his recent notice.

At the close of Mr. Stewart's remarks the resolution was referred to the committee on finance. The senate then resumed consideration of the house bill to repeal the federal election laws, and was addressed by Mr. Wilson, of Iowa, in opposition to it.

At the conclusion of Mr. Wilson's remarks Mr. Cullom addressed the senate on the Hawaiian question. He denounced Blount and defended Stevens, and in closing his speech said no other president of any party had ever put the American people in an attitude of contempt and shame and made us a laughing stock before an enlightened world.

QUITE A FLURRY IN SUGAR.

A Scene of Unusual Animation on the New York Stock Board.

New York, Jan. 23.—During the first half hour's business 66,890 shares of American sugar stock changed hands at the board. Good authorities claim that the stock exchange reporters were unable to record one-half the sales in the tremendous crowd and intense excitement.

Grant Bros., Jones, Franch and Maury & Cannack, brokers, were the heaviest sellers, while the Havemeyer brokers bought from 76 up. At one time the stock was 76, sales in the center of the crowd, while on the outer edge brokers were bidding 77 and better. It is a long time since the room presented such a scene of animation. It was a reminder of the exciting days of last summer. After the first half hour the excitement subsided and the transactions in American sugar dwindled to 317 shares.

The general market was not affected by the sensational drop in sugar and in fact some stocks, after the opening, sold above yesterday's figures.

mitted he would thank his majesty personally in Berlin.

The Cologne Gazette says that Prince Bismarck has informed Emperor William that he will visit him in Berlin early next week.

REFUSED TO ACCEPT

Ten Thousand Miners of Ohio Throw Down the Gage of Battle to the Operators.

They Declined to Accept the Proposed Reduction and Are Prepared to Go on Strike.

This Course Would Mean Months of Idleness and Destitution for the Families of Thousands.

CHICAGO, Jan. 24.—A Columbus, Ohio, special to the Tribune says: Ten thousand miners of Ohio have thrown down the gage of battle to the operators. They have refused to accept a reduction in wages. The state executive board of the United Mine Workers of America, representing the ten sub-districts, counted the vote on the proposed reduction and it was lost by a majority of 500 votes.

The officials of the union favored the acceptance of a reduction. They argued that a failure on the part of the miners to pursue this course meant months of idleness and destitution for the families of thousands of workmen in the mining districts of the state.

The miners demand the 70 cents a ton scale up to May 1. This will close all the Ohio coal mines. Eight hundred miners are idle in the Kanawha valley and many are entirely without food.

A RAILROAD TO BE SOLD.

An Indiana Road to be Put up at Auction Again.

CHICAGO, Jan. 24.—A Tribune special from Indianapolis says: A resale of the Indianapolis, Decatur & Springfield railroad was ordered yesterday by Judge Bartholomew. Benjamin A. Sands and B. F. Pierce, trustees for the first mortgage bondholders, were instructed to sell the road for the benefit of the bondholders.

The case has been dragging along for years. An order for a sale was made last May, and Thomas B. Atkins of New York bid $2,100,000 for the reorganization committee. A first payment of $50,000 was made, but the reorganization committee has twice defaulted on the second payment, the time having been extended to Jan. 1 when $50,000 interest on the bid was due.

The date of the resale has not been set, a notice of thirty days being required. The court reserves the right to make an order regarding the $50,000 payment made last spring.

CENTER POINT, Ark., Jan. 24.—From Polk county information comes of a fatal battle between James and Thomas Mize and two brothers named Daniels, the fight occurring at the home of the latter over an alleged indebtedness due the Mizes. The Mize boys were killed, and one of the Daniels fatally wounded. The men were moonshiners.

AN OLD MAN SWINDLED.

A Bunco Man Assumed to Be His Nephew and Got $6000.

TOLEDO, Ohio, Jan. 24.—Thomas Grohl, a wealthy old gentleman, residing here, is $6000 poorer today by the visit of a bunco man under the personage of an alleged nephew. Three days ago a good looking young man dropped in on Mr. Grohl and introduced himself as Walter Grohl, the old man's nephew.

It happens that Grohl, Sr., has relatives who he has not seen for some time, and taking it for granted that his visitor was the person he claimed to be proceeded to make it pleasant for the young man. After rehearsing family history and anecdotes for a time, the young man commenced to talk of his own affairs. He said the world had been kind to him, and although but a young man he was well off, having large mining interests and stock farms.

He then began to worry about a remittance he said was coming and succeeded in getting a check for $6000 out of old Grohl. The next day he left the town, after writing a note to Grohl explaining his true character.

DISPERSED BY THE POLICE.

Anarchists Become Violent at a Meeting in Berlin.

BERLIN, Jan. 24.—Two thousand of the unemployed workmen of this city attended a meeting in Friedrichshain yesterday. Three hundred policemen were present to preserve order. The anarchist Spohr, in accordance with his promise to produce proof that the police arranged in advance for the outrages which they committed last week in dispersing the crowds near Koenigsplatz, called upon an anarchist named Brandt to tell what he knew of the doings of the police.

Brandt declared that the police bribed him in November last to inform them in regard to anarchists arming. He also said that the police warned him on Jan. 11 not to attend the meeting fixed for the 18th, as there was a strong feeling against the police and accidents might occur. The speakers soon began to use violent language, and the meeting was dissolved by the police.

CAPTURE OF DESPERADOES.

Train Robbers Caught in Indian Territory and One Killed.

VINITA, I. T., Jan. 24.—Officers located the train robbing gang with Rob Rogers as its captain, which has been having its headquarters in this section of the country for months, at the home of Rogers on Big creek, twenty miles from here, and between 3 and 4 o'clock yesterday morning pounced down upon them asleep in the house.

Rob Rogers and Dynamite Jack were captured unhurt. "Dynamite" brother, Kiowa, was killed, and Willie Brown was severely injured that his death is expected. None of the officers were hurt.

This is presumed to be the band to which successfully held up the Kansas & Arkansas Valley train at Seminole a short time ago, and two days before had an unsuccessful attempt on the M. K. & T. at Kells.

TRAGEDY IN ILLINOIS.

Alonso Rees Killed His Wife and Child and Suicided.

JACKSONVILLE, Ill., Jan. 24.—The eastern part of Pike county is excited over the murder at Perry yesterday of Mrs. Alonso Rees and her 3-weeks-old baby. The deed was done by the husband and father, who shortly after ended his own worthless life, saving the infuriated people from taking things into their own hands.

He was found at the residence of his sister, who lived at some distance from the scene of the crime, before the mob could lay hands upon him he drew his pistol and blew out his brains.

A Compromise Obtained.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 24.—The convention of coal miners consumed all of yesterday in finding a place to stand upon regarding wages that was satisfactory to all parts of the district. The excitement ran so high at one stage between the delegates in favor of striking for 70 cents per ton and those inclined to hold to 65 cents, that the convention was threatened with a split, and a compromise action, as a temporary policy, was secured only by great effort on the part of the officers. Secretary McBride said this evening that the big strike will probably come much sooner than many suppose, but it will not be ordered until every bituminous mine is ready.

A Singular Case.

KIEL, Jan. 24.—Herr Strobel, editor of the Volks Zeitung, the local Socialist organ, has been sentenced to imprisonment for one month at hard labor for asserting that the captain of the German ironclad Koenig Wilhelm punished marines by suspending them from the masts as they cruised. Strobel based his assertion on what he said was the sworn testimony of the ship's carpenter. The court held that the story was untrue, otherwise the victims would have made a complaint.

The French Naval Scandal.

PARIS, Jan. 24.—La Patrie says that the government has decided to institute an inquiry into the naval scandal. It adds that the person or persons who furnished M. Clemenceau with the documents on which he based his charges against the naval administration will be prosecuted and that M. Clemenceau will probably also be prosecuted for complicity in receiving stolen papers and publishing them against the interests of the state.

Valuable Laboratory Burned.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Jan. 24.—The new engineering laboratory or Heaven hall, just completed and delivered to Governor Matthews for the state and dedicated on last Friday, was totally destroyed by fire last night. The building cost $100,000 and contained apparatus valued at $50,000, all of which was almost a total loss.

The Gossip at St. Paul.

IT IS NOT A SUCCESS

The New Play by Paul M. Potter, Entitled "Our Country Cousins," is an Artistic Failure.

Inexplicable How He and Manager Frohman Could Have Imagined It Would be a Success.

The Excellent Work Done by Fritz Williams and Katherine Florence—A Pretty Love Story.

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—We have had some emphatic dramatic failures in New York this season, but none, I think, has been more complete than "Our Country Cousins," which is now running at the Lyceum theater. The author is Paul M. Potter, one of the most brilliant writers in America, and it is inexplicable how he and Manager Daniel Frohman could have imagined this

MISS KATHERINE FLORENCE.

"Our Country Cousins" would be a success. It is true that the piece may be comparatively good money winner, although that is excessively doubtful, but even if it should be, it cannot fail to affect Mr. Potter's reputation injuriously. A great many shrewd managers who saw David Belasco's play, "The Younger Son," were of the opinion that it would make money. In a short time Jenny and her old man were engaged. The piece was announced for the early part of May, but one night she saw the play of "The Conqueror's Wife" and all about the "silly" and the boy in the play and informing him that, after all, she wasn't going to marry him. And Behrman? They came together again, and, oh, my, maybe there won't be Cain up Seventy-sixth street when this thing's out. I think a good play is as whole some a sermon as could ever be preached against the criminal folly of putting one's short nose one's feet in climbing for any mighty dollar.

In New York city the dramatic critics meet at each of the principal first night performances practically the same persons. I have often noticed this and was unable to explain it satisfactorily, especially as in many cases the auditors occupy relatively the same seats in different theaters. I asked a prominent manager about it the other day, and he laughingly responded: "It's the easiest thing in the world to understand, although it is one of the greatest mistakes of the business. Last Sunday by some mistake one of the papers announced that in three weeks I will produce a new piece. My Monday morning's mail brought me a score of letters from 'first night cranks,' as I call them, and each one of these individuals named the particular seats he was wanted for the initial performance. All at right if none of them asks for the same seats, but in many cases they do, and then there are returned tickets, visits of indignant 'regular patrons' and sometimes high words. The 'first night crank' is a nuisance, although he or she, as the case may be, is our best advertiser. Still I should be willing to let the genious obliterated."

A story has been widely published to the effect that Edward E. Rice raised the money to put on "1492" by agreeing to put the advertisements of leading merchants on some

The plot of "Our Country Cousins" is unimportant. The main theme is of a will left by an Australian, but the income of all his vast estate is bequeathed to a relative as long as he shall remain happily married. In case he and his wife should separate, however, the property is to go to certain other relatives. The play starts somewhat promisingly, but there is a quick letdown. Mr. Potter has made the very great and also unusual mistake of having too many complications. In most plays there are not enough. The interest of the auditor is not held by "Our Country Cousins" for more than a few moments at a time. The little side issues distract one horribly and detract from whatever merit the main incidents might possess. Then, too, there are many absurdly exaggerated speeches and situations so very improbable that it is impossible for them to carry conviction even on the stage. There are lots of good lines in "Our Country Cousins," and a comely character, Page Leroy, a young man who is constantly taking medicine and exercise, is particularly good. Jerome Leroy, his father, a aristocratic old Virginian, is a character who is very fond of his ancestry and good liquor, but, is, however, perhaps it may even rise to the dignity of satire. Under no circumstances, however, could it be considered a type. Mr. Potter has taken too many liberties with it. He has gone too far. There is also the case with the character of Mrs. Captain Wilkins, a sort of female Captain Cuttle, who might be possible in light comedies, but not in a serious play.

Georgia Cayvan of course played the part of the heroine, Grace Leroy. Her work was not certain. She is the same Georgia Cayvan who used to disport herself on the stage of the Madison Square theater during its palmy days. A strange way, Herbert Kiley was not her husband in "Our Country Cousins." That role was assigned to E. J. Ratcliffe. W. J. Le Moyne, as the aristocratic old Virginian, contributed an excellent bit of character acting, but the bits of the piece were made by Fritz Williams and Katherine Florence, the former as Page Leroy, the man who has the penchant for medicine and exercise, and the latter as Vivian Grey, the niece of the female Cape Codder. These are two young actors who are certain to get to the top of the ladder if they live and keep on as they have begun. Mr. Williams' work was well known throughout the whole country as one of the principal members of the Lyceum theater stock company, but Miss Florence's name is not familiar to most theater goers, and but little is known of her career except in the theatrically saturated circles.

Katherine Florence Rogers is a sweet, spirituelle looking girl who is not yet out of her teens. She was born in England, but has been in this country since she was 6 years old. She comes of a well known theatrical family, and it is therefore not surprising that she should be possessed of marked histrionic ability. The first predilection for her future success was made by a prominent Boston writer while she was a member of Charles Matthews' "By Pross" company, in which she had as a sort of friendly rival that excellent ingenue, Jane Stuart. Miss Florence's first important engagement was with Charles Frohman's stock company, in which she created the character of Fawn, the Indian maiden. This was a beautiful piece of work and so strongly impressed the manager of the Lyceum theater that he immediately offered her a contract. She accepted and since then has made rapid strides and has already become a warm favorite in this city.

Miss Florence's only professional sister is Eleonor Mott. There are also two girls who are in the stage—Jilly and Violet—the former older and the latter younger than Katherine. These are the housekeepers of the happy little family. Perhaps the role of which Miss Florence was most fond was Mabel Denman in "The Senator," in which she won praise from the dramatic critics as well as that keen judge of good acting and excellent player, William H. Crane.

The charm of Miss Florence's method lies in its absolute naturalness. Everything she does seems to have soul in it, and to her hands a character, if it be not too greatly overdrawn, becomes a living, breathing being. She will easily be recognized as one of the very best ingenues in America within a very short time.

Romances are queerly woven in this world. Fate is always lammering together strange bits of lives and wedding hearts in funny fashion. Here is an engagement broken off that society would talk about if it only knew. All that can be told about the history of this letter, received by an actor in the Empire Theater company, who would not reveal the identity of the persons concerned because that would be a breach of friendship and confidence. Here is the letter:

DEAR —: I must tell you about Jenny and Tom. They are together again, loving each other more wildly than ever. You know they separated and agreed to cry quite less than a year ago. Jenny's father lost heavily in business, and to rescue him she agreed with herself to sacrifice her heart and her life's happiness, too, as it seemed to every body. She treated Tom coldly and took up with a fellow of Wall street. He was pretty old, but he had lots of money and plenty of property, and Jenny thought this was her chance to make a rich marriage and continue the comfortable life she was living for herself and those around her. She cut Tom entirely, and the poor fellow, as you know, gave up his law and took to journalism and journalismizing. In a short time Jenny and her old man were engaged. The engagement was announced for the early part of May, but one night she saw the play of "The Conqueror's Wife" and all about the "silly" and the boy in the play and informing him that, after all, she wasn't going to marry him. And Behrman? They came together again, and, oh, my, maybe there won't be Cain up Seventy-sixth street when this thing's out. I think a good play is as whole some a sermon as could ever be preached against the criminal folly of putting one's short nose one's feet in climbing for any mighty dollar.

Yours truly,
GEM.

of the scenes. This may or may not be true, but it is not new at any rate. It was done many years ago, when the decline of the work of the artist was declining. The scenes from the play and showing conspicuously their places of business. Everybody had almost forgotten that, however, until the little vagrant paragraph about Rice and "1492" was published. Since then general dealers, whose goods derive as much benefit from being advertised in one place as another—agents of European passenger steamship lines and others—have been besieged by importunate managers with impossible propositions for furnishing impossible scenery and lithographs for "immense" melodramas. In not a single case that I have heard of has the manager succeeded in getting the business men to ignore the almost certainty of failure. These sound headed fellows always say in answer to the assertion that they will get a lot of advertising for very little money, "Yes, but if your play stops after a week or so we get very little advertising for a lot of money." And the seeker for "angels" departs with his heart in his boots.

A NEW NOVEL BY

MARK TWAIN.

The most dramatic story ever written by America's greatest humorist. Like several of Mark Twain's stories, it has for its scene a "Pudical Wilson," a hard-boiled character who has seen the worst of the world and of the human race, and who naturally expects to find in a work by the author of "The Innocent Abroad," but to his surprise in quite another light in the murder trial which forms the thrilling climax of the story. The plot introduces a novel and ingenious employment of science in the detection of crime, and the characters are well drawn and every action is interesting.

The Nomination of Capt Lewis for Mayor Seems to Give Satisfaction to All Republicans.

Dr. Burnside and John Peterson May Be Democratic Candidates for Alderman in the Eighth.

The Populists Claim That the Democrats Will Endorse Their Two Candidates Wallinder and Dent.

The Republicans of West Duluth appear to be generally well pleased with the nomination of Capt. Lewis for mayor. The Democrats have as yet held no open caucus and the question of mayor and aldermen will be fought out at the primaries tonight. It is understood that Dr. Burnside and John Peterson are slated for aldermen in the Eighth ward, but the Populists are today claiming that the Democrats will endorse their candidates, Wallinder and Dent. This seems to be hardly probable, however, as the Democrats think they already have a winning team. In the Seventh ward the Democratic slate is said to contain the names of P. L. Johnson and W. J. Matthews as aldermanic candidates.

The calendar for the February term of the district court will hardly be as large as the November calendar. There were 46 cases continued, a very small percentage considering that there were 200 cases on the calendar. Usually on a calendar of 160 cases there are 50 or 60 continued.

WHEAT DULL BUT HIGHER.

Fair Trading Early at Fluctuating Prices and Dullness Later.

The wheat market opened firm this morning at yesterday's closing figures to be above for cash and wheat to arrive and higher for May. There was fair trading early at the opening figures for cash and to arrive and slow, irregular and fluctuating for May up to noon, which advanced to a decline. Settlement recovered to the opening. The afternoon session was dull, but very firm at the last prices of the day. The close was higher than yesterday for cash, but higher for wheat to arrive than yesterday and higher for May and July. Cheep Rates to California.
The Northern Pacific railroad has put into effect a series of low round trip rates to California points. Tickets are good until April 30, 1894, and are good for stop over under certain conditions.

These rates will enable those desiring to do so, to spend the winter in Southern California or to visit the midwinter fair to be held at San Francisco. This latter event will undoubtedly be second only to the World's fair just closed and will repay a visit as it will exhibit the resources and capabilities of California.

St. Paul, Minneapolis and Duluth to San Francisco and return to Missouri river, $80.50, and to Los Angeles and return to Missouri river, $90.

For further information apply to Charles S. Fee, general passenger and ticket agent, St. Paul, Minn.

POPULISTS CONVENT

The City Convention of the People's Party Opened This Afternoon at the City Hall.

J. A. Keyes Elected Chairman and Frank Green, Secretary—Preliminary Organization of the Convention.

The Probable Choice of the Aldermanic Candidates as Near as Could be Learned at 3 O'clock.

"Keep in the middle of the road" was the password at the council chamber this afternoon. Those "fresh from the loins of the people," were out in force and many seemed to glory in the fact that they had not deemed it necessary to don "billed" shirts or wear patent leather shoes. That was wholly proper for the Populist city convention was about to be born.

At 2:10 o'clock Mr. Yehlin rapped on the desk and called the convention to order, after which he invited all the delegates to come within the railing.

Charles Canning moved that J. A. Keyes be made temporary chairman and it was done. The selection of Frank Green for secretary completed the temporary organization.

Secretary Green read the call, after which F. J. George moved that a committee of five on credentials be appointed. Chairman Keyes said that he was but little acquainted and asked help in selecting the committee. One enthusiastic delegate proposed the name of J. H. Baker.

M. Wessenberg, from the First ward, was named and agreed to act if free transportation to the committee room was furnished. To complete the number Chairman Keyes named Messrs. Palmer, Berge and Wallinder.

A. Yehlin moved that a committee of five on permanent organization be appointed, and that was done. A. Yehlin, F. C. Hinebaugh, Charles Canning, Frank Osborn and K. O. Balsted securing the honor and responsibility.

The Aldermanic Nominations.
At 3 o'clock the aldermanic nominations were uncertain. The First, Second and Third ward delegates had not decided. The Fourth ward representatives had decided to ask the convention to be allowed to name candidates later, the city committee to endorse them. In the Fifth ward, it was decided to nominate Dr. Murray and endorse George Goldsmith, the Republican nominee. In the Sixth ward, Lew Palmer is to be one of the candidates. In the Seventh it is probable that N. N. Ole will be endorsed. The Eighth ward delegates will probably present the names of E. G. Wallinder and B. C. Dent.

Secretary Welles Re-Elected.
The new board of directors of the board of trade held their first meeting yesterday afternoon, when Secretary George E. Welles was unanimously re-elected. W. W. Haine was re-elected treasurer. Two memberships were declared forfeited for non-payment of dues.

Street Car Employes Ball.
The first annual ball given by the Duluth Street Railway company's employes takes place tonight at the Pavilion at the top of the Seventh avenue west incline. The music will be furnished by Hoar's orchestra, and the supper by Sam Atkinson in the pavilion. Last years' ball of the street car employes is still remembered as a very pleasant affair, and this year's will be made fully as good.

Married in Buffalo.
In Buffalo, N. Y., this morning at 9 o'clock, Theodore Hanson, auditor of Lake county, was united in matrimony to Miss Rose F. Corcoran, of that city. The newly wedded couple will arrive here on Saturday, and will spend a few days visiting the bridegroom's brother, Mr. F. Hanson, at 1914 West First street. Several congratulatory telegrams were sent to Mr. Hanson today by his friends.

South Superior Company.
At the adjourned annual meeting of the South Superior Improvement company yesterday the following directors were elected: H. L. Shepard, W. W. Townsend, John Nicholson, H. H. McIntire and J. F. Merriam. The directors chose officers as follows: President, J. F. Merriam; vice president, John Nicholson; secretary, J. H. Harper; general manager and treasurer, H. H. McIntire.

Will Curl in Duluth.
R. J. MacLeod's rink which was curling at St. Paul in the bonspiel of the Northwestern Curling association returned home this morning. This rink made some good records but the old curlers of Canada were a little too good for them. It was decided before the rink left St. Paul that the contest for the Governor Merriam medal, open only to Minnesota rinks, shall be curled in Duluth on Feb. 23, Washington's birthday. Rinks from Minneapolis and St. Paul will come up.

GEORGE H. ELY DEAD.
Well Known Cleveland Vessel Owner Died Today in Washington.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—The entire morning session of the national board of trade was consumed in a continuation of the discussion of the proposition submitted by the Chicago board of trade recommending certain changes in the immigration laws involving greater care in the examination of immigrants coming to the United States.

The discussion centered about an amendment proposed by the delegate from Baltimore permitting the admission of skilled contract labor. Finally the matter was referred to the following committee: Messrs. Stone, Chicago; McKell, Baltimore; Francis, St. Louis; Rice, Boston; and Cane, Cincinnati.

Mr. Barrett announced the death in this city this morning of George H. Ely, of Cleveland, a delegate to this convention, and moved that out of respect for the deceased the meeting adjourn till 2:30 this afternoon. The adjournment was accordingly taken.

WHAT PEOPLE SAY.

Gossip of All Sorts Picked Up on the Street.

"That man deserves to get two leather medals," said a citizen this morning as he watched the janitor of a large office block sweeping into the gutter the sand sprinkled upon the pure ice on the sidewalk in front of the building.

"I was more than pleased with the result of the Republican convention yesterday," said a prominent citizen today. "It was a clear case of the office seeking the man, not the man the office as regards Capt. Lewis' nomination. If politics could be always run thus it would be a blessing to the country."

The Cody-Powell party left for St. Paul on the limited this afternoon. On leaving Col. Cody said: "I wish to express my thanks to the citizens of Duluth for the kind reception given myself and friends. I am both pleased and surprised with what I have seen during my short stay here, and I leave Duluth with a firmer faith in her future greatness than I ever had before. You have a beautiful city and the prospects of a glorious future."

A gentleman who returned yesterday from the Mesaba range says that both game and fish are being slaughtered at a great rate in that country. "But," added he, "no one has the heart to complain as many of the people up there are keeping soul and body together solely upon what comes from the woods and the waters. It is fortunate indeed that there is game and fish to be obtained up there this winter, and much as I regret to see the moose and deer being exterminated under the circumstances I could not make up my mind to enter a complaint."

CHARGES ARE SENSATIONAL.
The Widow of Senator McDonald Begins a Sensational Suit.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 24.—A suit growing out of the now famous litigation which resulted in the overthrow of the will of the late Senator Joseph E. McDonald was filed here today by Mrs. McDonald, the widow. The charges are of a sensational nature.

She alleges that with a purpose to cheat and defraud her, John M. Butler, of the law firm of McDonald, Butler & Snow, of which the late senator was a senior partner, fraudulently misstated the value of the dead senator's interest in the firm, by which it was settled for $1302.

She claims that it is actually worth $15,000, whom she always trusted as a friend, hastened the settlement by false misrepresentations, and then went to Europe on a pleasure trip.

She asks the court to compel a proper settlement, and upon the refusal of Butler and Snow to do so, demands the appointment of a receiver. Butler is one of the best known lawyers in the state, and the charges are creating much talk.

CHARLIE MITCHELL KNOCKED OUT.

The Great English Pugilist Was Quickly Downed by Champion Jim Corbett in the Arena at Jacksonville, Jan. 25. Today, Corbett Going at Him in a Hammer and Tongs Style That Paralyzed Him.

Mitchell Not in it from the Start, "Gentleman Jim" Being Altogether Too Swift for Oxy Briton, and in the Second Round Mitchell Was Knocked Down Twice by Corbett.

The Sounding of the Gong Saved Mitchell at the End of the Second Round and He Was Groggy When He Came Up for the Third and Was Quickly Finished.

A Complete Record of the Careers of the Two Men in the Fistic Arena—This Important Event Has Marked a Turning Point in Athletic Contests of a Pugilistic Nature.

JACKSONVILLE, Jan. 25.—Despite the heavy rain which fell this morning and the light drizzle at present, the demand for tickets at the rooms of the Duval Athletic club is something astonishing. Sports are still arriving on all trains from all parts of the country, and the big fight is the chief topic of conversation.

Mrs. Corbett will start north at 2:30 this afternoon on the Richmond & Danville limited and the champion will start north on his special at 7 a. m., Friday, no matter whether he wins or loses the battle which will be fought promptly at 1:30 this afternoon.

It is rumored here that the $20,000 check was cashed by Kelly this morning. The governor has ordered the withdrawal of the troops from Jacksonville. This means the fight will not be interfered with.

The betting at the St. James and Windsor last night continued heavy at odds of 100 to 40 on Corbett. There does not say he thinks he will beat Corbett, but that he knows he will.

Corbett arrived about 10 o'clock and went at once to a private residence where he is kept in strict seclusion. The betting may possibly have been interfered with by the fact that Corbett yesterday was reported nervous and anxious. His anxiety, however, was attributed by his friends to the anxiety, delay and uncertainty as to the result of the legal battle, not regarding his own fight. As to that, he is as hopeful as Mitchell. At 11:30 o'clock the crowds began leaving for the fight.

At 1 p. m. the arena already contains about 1000 sports who have made the journey from the city to the fair grounds on boats, street cars, carriages and other conveyances. Neither of the principals have yet arrived, but the managers do not entertain the slightest fear of interference. Corbett is a hot favorite, but the betting has practically been brought to a close.

1:15 p. m.—The platform is of the regular pattern, the inside of the stakes through which the ropes are run being heavily padded on the edge of the platform and at a distance of about three feet from the ring is a strong barbed wire fence.

1:30 p. m.—The crowd is now pouring in and the attendance bids fair to be very large. The fight will start about 2:15 o'clock.

JACKSONVILLE, Jan. 25, 2 p. m.—Fully 2000 people are present. The fighters are expected every moment. A large squad of militiamen can be seen outside the gate but they are unarmed and their intentions are evidently not hostile.

Corbett Appears.
A carriage has just driven up and the excitement is at fever heat. In it was Corbett. The spectators rose as one man and greeted him with tumultuous applause as he stepped on the platform and shook hands with Billy Madden. He is enveloped in a bath robe and walks around the platform evidently testing its firmness. Madden announced the names of the seconds in a very low voice to the newspaper men. The betting is 100 to 40 now.

Mitchell's Arrival.
2:10 p. m.—Mitchell arrives. His reception was almost equal to Corbett's. He smiled as he entered the ring and eyed his opponent curiously. Both men are burnt brown by the Southern sun. Look trained to perfection.

2:15 p. m.—Referee Kelly arrives and shakes hands with the fighters.

Mitchell's seconds: Jim Hall, Pony Moore, Tom Allen and Steve O'Donnell; Corbett's: Bat Masterson, Corbett's seconds: John Donaldson, Billy Delaney, Jack Dempsey and William McMillan; timekeeper for Corbett, Ted Foley.

Snapper Garrison keeps time for the club. Referee Kelly and the chief of police are examining the gloves.

The Fight Begun.
2:30 p. m.—The men are called to the center and instructed by the referee as they faced each other. Mitchell looked diminutive beside the champion. Now donning the gloves.

Ed Smith, of Denver, challenges the winner to fight for $10,000 a side. Men shake hands; fight begins.

Mitchell Downed Twice.
Second round—A wild exchange and a clinch. Corbett uppercuts his man as they come together. Mitchell lands hard on ribs, and as Mitchell came in Jim caught him in the head staggering him. Corbett uppercuts Mitchell again and lands with right on Charlie's ribs, Mitchell reaching Jim's chin. A sharp rally, with Corbett having all the best of it. Corbett knocks him down twice in succession. Jim floored his man cleanly. The gong saves Mitchell from being knocked out.

Round three—Mitchell is groggy. Corbett rushes at him landing right and left. Corbett knocks his man down. He stays down nine seconds. He gets up and Jim knocks him down again, and he stays nine seconds. As he got up again, Jim landed a terrific right on his nose. Mitchell reeled and fell on his face. Again he took all the time to rise and when he advanced toward Corbett the latter swung his right with deadly effect on Charlie's nose. Mitchell reeled and fell on his face helpless. The referee counted 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9. Mitchell is knocked out. The referee declared Corbett winner of the match and champion of the world. Mitchell's face was covered with blood. He was carried to his corner in a helpless condition. Time of fight nine minutes. It was all Corbett's battle, though Mitchell made a show in the first round. The men did not shake hands at the beginning of the fight. The referee called upon them to do so but neither responded.

A NEW ERA IN PUGILISM.

Today's Fight the Turning Point in Fistic Athletics.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Jan. 25.—All things considered, today's battle between James J. Corbett and Charles Mitchell was the most important event in the annals of the prize ring. It marked the turning point in fistic athletics. Corbett belongs to the new scientific boys, representing, perhaps, the most advanced ideas in the line of pugilism. Mitchell, while not strictly identified with the old line, received his earliest impressions and much of his earlier training from the old bare-knuckle boys and was reared in that pugilistic atmosphere which was largely responsible for the longevity of the rules of the London prize ring, and for the tardiness with which those of the Olympic Athletic Club Queensbury crept into public favor on either side of the Atlantic.

The fact that the champions of England and America consented to an encounter under the latter rules, and under the restrictions imposed by the articles of agreement, is proof in itself that the new school of pugilism has already crowded the old into the rear.

There has been no great event in the prize ring since the defeat of John L. Sullivan by Corbett in September 1892, and the class and the records, as well as the standing and titles of the two men gave the contest from the very day that it was first suggested an unusual degree of international interest and of international importance in sporting circles. In order fully to appreciate the conclusion it will be necessary to glance at the records of the two.

They both are young, as years are reckoned nowadays, but by the time both were fighting as an occupation almost since they were boys. Mitchell is five years older than Corbett, but he fought his first pitched battle when he was 16 years of age, while Corbett was 18, and had, perhaps, a longer training than the Englishman prior to "coming out as a fighter."

Corbett's Record.

James John Corbett was born in San Francisco, Sept. 1, 1866, of Irish parents, and received a good education in the public schools of that city and at the college of the Sacred Heart. When a boy he was employed in a cigar store and later had a clerkship in the same institution. His first instruction in boxing was received from Professor Walter Vaickie, of the Olympic Athletic club. In 1884 he made his first appearance in a professional way, his opponent being Dave Eismann, whom the Californian defeated in two rounds. He then defeated Duncan McDonald, of Butte, Mont., in four rounds.

At the Olympic club Corbett defeated Choyinski in one round and later, on a barge in the Sacramento river, in a hard fight, he won a second round. He then knocked him out a second time, breaking his own hand in the encounter. Jack Dempsey backed Choyinski in this fight. This is his victory by knockout. He then preceded by the knocking out of Mike Brennan, the "Port Costa giant" and with an 8-round bout with Jack Burke, who was declared a draw.

Corbett was then only 10 years old, but he went on from triumph to triumph, defeating in rapid succession Jim Daly in two rounds, Frank Smith, of Salt Lake city, in three; George Atkinson in two, and Frank Glover, of Chicago, in two. After his bare-knuckle victory over Choyinski there was a 4-round meet for points between Corbett and Joe McAuliffe, in which the former easily got the decision. Professor John Donaldson, who has been one of Corbett's trainers for this contest with Mitchell, was easily defeated by the Californian, while the latter was still an instructor of boxing at the Olympic club, and not long after, Professor William Miller, the famous Greece-Roman wrestler, went down before him in four rounds. The only other victory of any importance prior to Corbett's battle with Jake Kilrain was that of Dave Campbell, of Portland, Ore.

On Feb. 17, 1890, Corbett met Jake Kilrain, of Baltimore, in a 6-round glove contest before the Southern Athletic club, of New Orleans, for a purse of $500, and was declared the winner. On April 14, 1890, at the Casino, in Brooklyn, he defeated Dominic McCaffrey in a sharp and hotly contested battle, during the fourth round. In the summer of 1890 Corbett issued a challenge to fight any man in the world for $5000 a side, and on the night of May 21-22, 1891 met Peter Jackson, the negro, in San Francisco, for a purse of $10,000, offered by the California Athletic club. At the close of the sixty-first round both men were physically unable to continue the battle, and the referee decided it a draw. He lasted four hours and three minutes, and was one of the most stubborn fights in the history of the prize ring. In the night of Sept. 7, 1892, Corbett defeated John L. Sullivan before the Olympic club of New Orleans for a stake of $20,000 and a purse of $25,000, thereby securing the title of American champion. The battle was finished in the twenty-first round, Sullivan being completely knocked out. From the time of Tom Hyer in 1840 up to the defeat of Sullivan in 1892 every pugilist who had earned the title of American champion had fought for it with bare knuckles and according to the London prize ring rules, but by the terms of the agreement between Corbett and Sullivan their battle was with gloves and under the Marquis of Queensbury rules, the championship being won for the first time under such conditions and the conditions of today's contest were practically the same.

Mitchell's Career.

Charles Mitchell was born of Irish parents in Birmingham, England, Nov. 24, 1861. His first fight was with Bob Cunningham at Hecby Oak, Birmingham, on Jan. 11, 1878, for £5 a side. He defeated his antagonist in fifty minutes. Next he fought with John L. Sullivan, on Jan. 11, 1878, for £5 a side. He defeated him in one round of eleven minutes.

These mills were followed by one with Carvadoff, the Belgian giant, in Antwerp, for 1000 francs, the young Britisher beating his opponent in four rounds and sixteen minutes. His next victory was over Tom Tully, and on June 16, 1881, he fought Jack Burke to a draw at Ascot, darkness ending the fight. In December, 1882, Mitchell won the championship of England in Billy Madden's London competition. The belt which he earned in those contests is a massive silver one. Soon after Mitchell's arrival in this country he defeated Mike Cleary, and at Madison Square Garden on May 22 he boxed with John L. Sullivan, and succeeded in knocking the American champion down, but the police stopped the fight in the third round—which it is generally believed saved the Englishman from receiving terrible punishment.

A "meeting" between William Sheriff, the Prussian, and Mitchell at Harry Hill's on Long Island, was decided to be a draw, and on March 16, 1884, Mitchell defeated Joe Denning in four rounds, his next battle being with Jake Kilrain in Boston, a draw.

In May, 1884, Mitchell defeated Billy Edwards in a notable battle at Madison Square garden, and in the following October fought four rounds with Dominick McCaffrey at the same place, the referee declaring the fight a draw. The next match made by Mitchell was with Jack Burke, of England, at Chicago, and at the end of the tenth round Mitchell was declared the winner. A "meet" with Patsy Gardiff at Minneapolis ended in a draw, and in the summer of 1886 Mitchell returned to England. After his return to America in 1887, he defeated Steve Gallagher at Cleveland, Ohio. On March 10, 1888, Mitchell fought his memorable battle with John L. Sullivan at Chantilly, France, for £500 a side, the contest lasting three hours and eleven minutes and ending in a draw at the close of the thirty-ninth round. Since that time Mitchell has given many exhibitions, both in America and in Europe, besides playing several theatrical engagements, but he has not matched with a pugilist of his class in any notable battle.

ooo offered by the Duval Athletic club of Jacksonville, of which Harry Mason is president and J. L. T. Bowler, the manager. The club also paid the two pugilists $2500 each for training expenses, and erected in East Jacksonville a building in which to "pull off" the fight, the cost of including the site, building etc., as nearly $4000. Traveling and office expenses, together with attorney's fees and numerous other items of various kinds have brought the total cost of the affair up to fully $40,000. The arena was arranged to seat just 13,000 people, and had not the firm attitude of the governor of Florida against the fight from the beginning, operated disastrously upon the sale of both boxes and seats, the profit of the venture would undoubtedly have reached fully 50 per cent on the investment.

LOOKING FOR BISMARK.

Crowds at Berlin Awaiting the ex-Chancellor's
BERLIN, Jan. 25.—As the time approaches for the arrival here of Prince Bismarck on his visit to the emperor, the excitement increases in intensity and permeates all classes.

A report gained currency this morning that the ex-chancellor would reach the city today. Thousands of people gathered at noon in the Unter den Linden and the Lehrter railway station where his highness will alight, to lend their voices to the cheers that will welcome the aged statesman to the scene of many of his triumphs.

They were disappointed for the prince did not come, but this fact did not dampen the pent-up enthusiasm of the crowd. At 12 o'clock a large crowd of members of the landtag left the parliamentary building, all expressing great eagerness to ascertain if Prince Bismarck had left Friedrichshagen. It is now stated that the prince will probably arrive here at 8:45 o'clock this evening.

HE HAD A NARROW ESCAPE.

President Hyppolite of Hayti Was Nearly Assassinated.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—Walter F. Kinaird, a coffee planter of Jacmel, who arrived from Hayti yesterday, brings word that an attempt to assassinate President Hyppolite was made on Jan. 12. The president went to Jacmel to settle some trouble at the prison, the prisoners having complained that they were cruelly treated.

While the president was talking with two or three prisoners in the courtyard, a bullet passed within an inch of his head. One of the prison officers, Louis Gagne, passed a quiet night and today he is decidedly stronger and better than yesterday.

Mr. Childs Improved.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 25.—George W. Childs passed a quiet night and today he is decidedly stronger and better than yesterday.

FLOUR SLOW OF SALE

Minneapolis Millers Show a Disposition to Grind Only Enough to Keep Orders Cleaned Up.

Prices in the East Preclude the Possibility of Shipping From the Point of Manufacture.

The Trade There Being Supplied From Stocks Accumulated During the Season of Low Freights.

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 25.—The Northwestern Miller says: The flour output showed some increase last week, the quantity ground being 105,225 barrels against 95,775 barrels the week before, 106,590 barrels for the corresponding time in 1893, and 137,600 barrels in 1892. For the present week the production promises to be a little heavier. The disposition is to grind only enough to keep whatever orders that come in cleaned up. Millers still find flour very slow of sale. Foreigners are taking scarcely any and this leaves it for the domestic markets to absorb whatever is turned out. Of course, a limited number of orders is all the time coming in to be filled from the mills, but they mainly come from regular customers other than those at the seaboard. The trade available from the big Eastern centers is being largely supplied from accumulated flour sent forward before Jan. 1 on cheap freights, prices being made that wholly preclude the possibility of shipping from the point of manufacture.

The sales of Minneapolis mills last week perhaps aggregated 100,000 barrels. The prices obtained were of course well down to cost basis. Present quotations, however, are pretty firm, the cost of cash wheat necessitating such a position on the part of the miller. Export business is extremely meager. A limited amount of bakers is worked, but the greater part is already at the seaboard.

The high freight rates perhaps militate against foreign trade more than they do against domestic. Inland rates, up to the present, are apparently well maintained. Shipments may begin in the course of a few weeks. The direct export shipments by the mills last week were 16,270 barrels against 13,075 barrels the preceding week.

At matters at Duluth and Superior, the same paper says: The flour production last week was the smallest for over a year. Only one mill was in operation. The output amounted to 857 barrels, against 27,351 barrels the week before and 983 barrels for the corresponding week of 1893. Not a wheel is turning and the week will pass with no output of the production of a barrel of flour.

Millers are not discouraged, though there is little in the situation to brace up their spirits. Most of them take matters philosophically and say that there is, in every year, at least two months in which business is extremely slack. Although it would be possible to operate the mills if the transportation charges were lower, millers are content to have rates firmly maintained. The store of flour on hand is 50,000 barrels against 30,000 barrels a year ago.

RIOT IN SOUTH CAROLINA.

A Mob Wanted to Hang Dispensary Law Spies.

CHICAGO, Jan. 25.—A special to the Herald from Charleston, S. C., says: The first riot caused by the attempt to enforce the new dispensary law occurred Wednesday night. A body of 500 angry citizens proceeded to the lodging house where the spies boarded, with the intention of lynching them. The police were advised of the affair and the spies got out of the way. There was a fusillade of pistol shots and much excitement.

A citizen named Wallace Bell was wounded in the neck, but not fatally, and the crowd then slowly dispersed, after finding that the spies were not at home. The feeling here is very intense.

No other sarsapilla has equalled Hood's in the relief it gives in severest cases of dyspepsia, sick headaches, biliousness, etc.

AFTER CHIPPEWA LANDS.

Details of Baldwin's Bill for Opening the Reservation to Settlement.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Congressman Baldwin, of Duluth, has introduced the following bill in the house, and it has been referred to the committee on public lands:

"An act to amend an act entitled 'An act for the relief and civilization of the Chippewa Indians in Minnesota.' That the fifth section of said act be amended so as to read as follows:

"Sec. 5. That after the survey, examination and appraisals of at least 100,000 acres of said pine lands have been made, the portion so surveyed, examined and appraised shall be proclaimed as in the market and offered for sale in the following manner: The commissioner of the general land office, under the direction of the secretary of the interior, shall cause notices to be inserted once in each week for four consecutive weeks in one newspaper of general circulation published in Minneapolis, St. Paul, Duluth, and Crookston, Minn.; Chicago, Ill.; Milwaukee, Wis.; Detroit, Mich.; Philadelphia, Pa.; and Boston, Mass., of the sale of said lands at public auction to the highest bidder, for cash, at the local land office with the district within which said lands are located, said notice to state the time and place and terms of such sale. At such sale said lands shall be offered in forty-acre parcels, except in case of fractions containing either more or less than forty acres, which shall be sold entire. In no event shall any parcel be sold for a less sum than its appraised value. The residue of such lands remaining unsold after such public offering shall thereupon be subject to private sale, for cash, at the appraised value of the same, upon application at the local land office. And from time to time, as fast as a quantity of 100,000 acres of the remaining pine lands, the disposal of which is provided for in this act, or a final residue of a less quantity, shall have been surveyed, examined and appraised the same course shall be pursued for the disposal thereof until all shall have been disposed of as provided herein."

As the law now stands, no lands can be sold until the entire surveys and appraisals are completed, which would take according to present progress at least five years. Col. Kiefer says he will move to amend the bill when it comes up by inserting Stillwater and Taylor's Falls as places where notice of the sale shall be published. Mr. Tawney will also move to insert Winona, as all these points are interested in the sale.

HIS METHODS WERE LAX.

Dr. Ziegfeld of the Chicago Trocadero Was Too Extravagant.

CHICAGO, Jan. 25.—The Tribune says: Mismanagement, extravagance and neglect were the direct charges preferred against Dr. Florence Ziegfeld and the board of directors of the Trocadero company last night at a largely attended meeting of the stockholders at the Wellington hotel.

The charges were contained in the report of the auditing committee appointed to wind up the affairs of the late high class theatrical attraction of which Dr. Ziegfeld was the manager. In connection with its report, the committee recommended that action should be taken to recover $100,000 charged against Dr. Ziegfeld and the board of directors under the head of extraordinary expenses.

There was nothing in the report intimating that Dr. Ziegfeld and the directors had intentionally misused the funds of the company. It was simply a protest against the lax methods employed in the management of the theater and the failure to protect the interests of the stockholders.

Was Completely Gutted.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 25.—A fire at 3:10 this morning called the fire department to the corner of Adams and Second streets, where the house of Senator Palmer, occupied by State Treasurer Ramsay and family, was in flames. The fire originated in the cellar from the furnace, and before it was brought under control, had completely gutted the entire building. The fire was discovered by a member of the family and was reported to the capital telephone station, which notified the fire department. The members of the family got out safely and spent the night elsewhere.

Becker has had a mania that the Catholics wanted to kill him on account of his P. P. A. proclivities, and has been annoying the authorities and citizens in general, being most threatening in his demeanor.

A Midnight Blaze.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 25.—Fire broke out at 12:30 in the 5-story building occupied by the Adler Goldmann Commission company. Owing to the extreme cold weather the firemen were delayed in getting streams to play on the blaze. For a time it was believed the entire building was doomed, but the firemen finally got the streams going and soon extinguished the fire. Loss $50,000, partly covered by insurance.

NINE WERE EXECUTED

An Attempt Was Made to Kill President Heurieux by Throwing Dynamite Bombs From Ambush.

It Was Tried a Few Days After Gen. Campos Was Killed But It Failed.

The Three Would-be Dynamite Throwers, With Three Other Men, Were Executed by Shooting.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—The Herald's Port au Prince correspondent writes that on Dec. 10, 1893, Gen. Campos, governor of the Azua district, was ambushed and assassinated while riding on the public road. A few days later President Heurieux passed over the same road, but with a strong military escort. The sudden shying of a mule while passing a thicket at the roadside attracted attention. The escort plunged in and captured six men with dynamite bombs, which they had intended throwing at the president had not the strength of his escort prevented.

An investigation took place and a conspiracy was revealed. Two brothers, Carlos and Pablo Baez, were implicated and imprisoned. On Dec. 10, Heurieux sent for a brother-in-law of Marchina and told him to get a suit of clothes, as he was going to take a trip to Azua. "One suit will be sufficient" gave a grim significance to the words.

They embarked upon the presidential yacht, the old Deerhound, of Cherbourg fame, and went to Azua. On Dec. 21 Marchina and the brothers Baez and the six would-be dynamite throwers were executed by shooting, the former three on the very spot where Campos lost his life. The rites of the church were refused, and also a request by Marchina to write a note of farewell to his wife with whom he had not been allowed communication for twelve months. They are buried in the roadway, where passing wheels and hoofs will soon obliterate all traces of the graves. To the prayers of the families for the remains—to give them decent burial—the reply was made, "anyone touching these graves will be instantly shot."

THE INTERNAL REVENUE BILL.

Representative McMillin Introduced the Measure in the House.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—The internal revenue bill, which includes a tax on incomes above $4000, was introduced in the house yesterday afternoon just after the recess by Representative McMillin, chairman of the sub-committee of ways and means, in charge of the subject. There was a scene of much turbulence at the time, the opponents of the measure endeavoring to prevent its reception by the house.

Mr. McMillin secured recognition and the bill and accompanying report were in the possession of the house. The speaker directed the clerk to proceed with the reading of the title of the bill. At its conclusion, Speaker Crisp said: "The bill and report will be referred to the committee of the whole house on the state of the union," and the business was done.

After adjournment Representative Cockran was found in a state of mingled disgust and indignation. "Did you see the Republicans voting with the friends of the bill?" he asked. "It's plain to be seen who dictates the policy of this house." The report of Mr. McMillin which accompanied the bill deals largely with the two subjects—income tax and whisky. Regarding the former, the report says that the government now collects annually from four to five hundred millions of dollars, less than 2 per cent of which is paid by the wealth of the country. The taxes are laid not upon what people possess but upon what they consume.

This being the case, the report continues, it has seemed good to the committee that the earnings of corporations after deducting their operating expenses and annual incomes in excess of $1000 should be subjected to a tax which will produce an estimated revenue of thirty millions of dollars. Such a tax, the committee believe, can be most easily and economically collected of all that suggest. It will require few additional employees and according to statistics furnished by the treasury department will cost but 1.6 per cent, while other revenue taxes cost 2.6 per cent.

Upon the subject of whisky, the report says: The bill provides for the addition of ten cents per gallon to the tax of ninety cents now imposed on all distilled spirits, the increase to go into effect on the first day of the second month after its passage. The time allowed before it goes into effect is the shortest in the opinion of the commissioner of internal revenue, the proper stamps and regulations necessitated by the change can be prepared and distributed. It is estimated that this increase will yield annually about ten million dollars of additional revenue.

OUTRAGED BY BRIGANDS.

A Wealthy Spaniard Mutilated So Badly He May Die.

MADRID, Jan. 25.—A most barbarous outrage is reported from Arcos de la Frontera, in Andalusia, thirty miles northeast of Cadiz. Two brigands entered the house of Senor Jose Castillo, who has the reputation of being quite wealthy and secured from him a large sum of money. Castillo's niece, who was in the house, was also seized and bound hand and foot. The brigands then demanded that Castillo should give them his money. He refused to tell, whereupon the brigands, drawing knives, proceeded to mutilate Castillo in a frightful manner. They then took their prisoner and suspended him in a deep well, threatening to drop him to the bottom unless he disclosed the hiding place of his money.

WEST DULUTH ITEMS.

Annual Meeting Tonight of Company G, Which is Proposing to Hold a Banquet Very Soon.

Several of the West Duluth Commission Houses Have Undergone Changes During the Past Week.

W. B. Hartley Met With a Severe Accident, His Back, Leg and Arm Being Scalded.

The annual meeting of Company G will be held tonight at the armory. An election of civil officers will take place together with the transaction of other business of importance. Among the introduction of new business will be a proposition to hold a banquet about Feb. 1 to celebrate the organization of the company. The matter has been talked over some at the suggestion of Capt. Reeves and has so far met with favor among the members. If the project meets the approval of the company it will probably take place at the Bennett and will furnish one of the most interesting social events of the winter.

Business Changes.
West Duluth commission houses have undergone several changes the past week. The firm of Ballard & Elston has dissolved partnership and E. O. Ballard has accepted a position with the Kooling Butter and Egg company, of Duluth. C. A. Victor, late of Lindstrom, Minn., has bought the interest of G. H. Reeves, retiring partner in the firm of Penslee & Co., and the new firm will do business hereafter under the name of Penslee & Victor. Mr. Reeves will establish a new commission house, either at West Duluth or Duluth proper.

A Serious Accident.
W. B. Hartley met with a severe accident yesterday that will confine him to his bed for several weeks to come. While playing with a dog near the kitchen stove he knocked over a kettle of boiling water the contents of which poured down his back scalding his back, leg and arm in a frightful manner. Dr. Hinton was immediately summoned and dressed the burn. At last accounts Mr. Hartley was resting very well and no serious results are apprehended.

The Weather.
U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN.,
Jan. 25, 1914.—The barometer is higher in the Middle Mississippi valley and lower in the Great Lakes. The cold wave has extended eastward to Michigan, the Upper Mississippi valley and the Great Lakes. The temperature is below zero this morning at Duluth. Continued and as far south as Chicago. West of the Mississippi valley the temperature is rising. In the Northern and central regions it is rising 20 degrees or more.
The lowest thermometer report at 7 a. m.
today was 25 degrees below zero at St. Paul, Minn.

Light snows have fallen in the Lake region, the Ohio valley and Eastern Tennessee followed generally by fair weather.

Duluth temperature 57 at 7 a. m. today,
25 below zero; maximum for last twenty-four hours, 55 below zero; minimum, 29 below
zero.

Maj. Baldwin has preferred standing by a party measure to doing his duty towards his constituents. Nearly 8500 citizens of St. Louis county, all legal voters, several thousands of whom voted for him a year ago on the pledge that he would cast no vote for a measure detrimental
to this county's interests, have petitioned congress not to place iron ore on the free list. They have urged the senators and representatives from Minnesota, Maj. Baldwin included, to work and vote against this feature of the Wilson bill.

What did he do with their request?
Treated it with contempt, trampled upon
it and added insult to injury by calling
some of them gamblers in mining stocks.
This is his answer to the almost uni-mous request of the people of St. Louis county, the only section of his district
where an iron ore is mined.

It is a gross betrayal of the trust reposed in him, and a reckoning will be had at the proper time and in the proper manner.

The War Goes Merry On.
The struggle between President Cleveland and Senator David B. Hill is attracting considerable attention. It has now reached a critical point. So far the senator from New York has the best of the fight, having succeeded in preventing the confirmation of one of his enemies as associate justice of the supreme court and having a good chance of defeating the confirmation for the same position of Mr. Peckham who once referred to Senator Hill as "a reptile in politics." The senator states that he intends to have Mr. Peckham's nomination rejected, and the probability is that he will succeed with the aid of the senatorial combine that has been formed to fight the president.

It will not be necessary for the two
New York senators to demand the rejection of this nomination on the ground of "senatorial courtesy." Mr. Peckham is 61 years old and several years ago the senate decided informally that no man
over 60 years of age should be appointed to the supreme court bench. Furthermore, Mr. Peckham's record is not in his favor. He is said to be a lawyer of small repute who has been more active
as a ward politician than as an attorney,
being better versed in political wire-pulling than in legal lore. Sensational charges of a character that forbid their publication in the columns of a respectable newspaper are also made against him. It will thus be seen that Senators Hill and Murphy will probably find it easier to defeat his nomination than they did to defeat Mr. Howland.

The extreme to which the fight between the president and the New York
senators is being carried is very plainly evident from an examination of the records of the senate. Senator Hill is the sub-committee of the senate committee on postoffices to whom is referred all nominations of postmasters in New York state. Here are some interesting facts which are stated by the Washington Post: Since Dec. 6, last, President Cleveland has sent to the senate the nominations of forty-four postmasters in New York. Since Dec. 6, there have been exactly seven postmasters confirmed for the state of New York.

In other words, Senator Hill has simply pocketed the nominations of his enemies, the "anti-snappers" whom Mr.
Cleveland is appointing throughout the state, and they are far, far outside the breakwaters. In no other state is there such delay or such an array of postmasters who have not been confirmed.
Some of the offices which are held up
are important cities of the state, including Rome, C. Binghamton, Penn Yan, Owego, Auburn, Cooperstown, Glen Falls, Flushing and Medina.

It will thus be seen that Senator Hill has the best of the fight, so far as the appointments are concerned. The president scored a knockdown the other day when he vetoed the New York and New Jersey bridge bill which Hill worked through the senate.

The veto was based upon several legal grounds, but it has since been found that one legal point upon which President Cleveland laid great stress was decided some time ago by the supreme court directly contrary to his connection. Meanwhile there are rumors that Senator Hill will attempt to have
the bill passed over the president's veto.
From many points of view, it is a pretty fight. The last time a senator from New York fought the administration, the senator was finally worsted. Will this be David B. Hill's fate, or will the result be reversed?

A Duty is Needed.
The New York Times recently had an article on the question of free iron ore
which was filled with misleading figures and glaring misstatements. Yet it was not any more misleading in its statements
than the Minneapolis Tribune, another advocate of free iron ore, although at the same time claiming to support the Republican policy of protection to the industries. Both these journals have repeatedly cited the low cost of mining upon the Mesaba range as an argument
why this section need not fear the removal of the existing duty on iron ore,
and in this connection they have indulged in the most absurd statements as to the cheapness of mining Mesaba ore.

This might be excusable on the part of the New York paper, which is so far distant from this section of the country
and has probably been itself misled by inaccurate figures prepared by irresponsible people, but no such excuse can be offered by the Minneapolis Tribune.

The facts and correct figures are readily obtainable by it, and the only explanation of its strange course is that, having
at the first made a grievous error, it is too stubborn to admit that it is wrong.
So far not one of its articles has produced accurate figures regarding the cost of mining and it has not displayed sufficient fair play to publish, for the benefit of its readers, the replies of those who have taken exception to its statements and demonstrated their fallacy. The New York Times has been fair in this respect.
It has published an extended answer to its argument in favor of free iron ore. The reply was prepared under the direction of the Duluth stock exchange and the statements contained therein are authentic and reliable.

The Times stated that the expectation
is that the Mesaba will ship in 1914 a total of 4,500,000 tons. To this the reply is made that no one who knows the capacity of the two railways reaching the range but fully realizes that they will not be able to handle, under the most favorable conditions, much over half this magnificent total, even could it be mined,
which is another practical impossibility.
With 4,000,000 or more tons of unsold ore
in dock at Lake Erie ports, with furnaces
all through the Pennsylvania and Ohio valleys running at half production,
where is the need of 4,500,000 tons from
the Mesaba, or from any other range?

Again, the Times said: "The steam shovel in the Mesaba range is the foe against which the mine owners and the miners of the Marquette, Menominee, Vermilion and Gogebic ranges must try to make defense, and not the ways and means committee that proposes to remove the tariff duty." The conclusive reply to this is that today there are only 200 men engaged in mining ore on the Mesaba range, not one of them in or about a steam shovel mine, while on the Marquette there are 1600, on the Vermilion 1200, and on the Gogebic 1000.

The Times instanced the remarkable work done at one Mesaba mine, where 3300 tons were raised in one day, at an average of "less than a cent a ton." It forgot to mention that 65 cents a ton is to be added to this as the royalty paid at this mine, while the ore body had to be stripped at a cost of about 50 cents a yard before a ton of ore could be got at.
It is denied further, that this or any other Mesaba mine ever lifted ore at such price as 4 cents, or can do so, day after day.

The editorial in the Times intimated strongly that the Mesaba ore bodies cover an area of 120 by 30 miles, are from four to thirty feet below the surface, and said that 2,000,000,000 tons are known to be in sight. No more misleading and absurd statements were ever printed.
At no point on the Mesaba is the ore
over one-half mile wide, measuring at a right angle southerly from the line of the circumscribing green schistose rock. The main deposits of the range are all in three townships extending eighteen miles from east to west. It would be a generous allowance to say there are 100,000, 000 tons of ore in sight on the range.
The stock exchange's reply continues:
"The Mesaba ore occurs in pockets
sometimes 1000 by 500 feet, sometimes more, often less, while the average depth of the ore body is about 60 feet. These pockets vary in contents from 20,000,000 tons down to 200,000, and the number of the large mines is very limited. Possibly 50 per cent of the ore is of a grade suitable for shipping, the rest being a non-bessemers, whose value is not equal to the cost of transportation, and will not be removed for years in all probability. The range being distant 80 cents rail haul, from the lake, and $1.05 lake
haul, from Cleveland, is at a disadvantage of over $1 a ton as compared with the Marquette range and makes
this up, as well as excessive royalties,
before it can compete with its neighbors.
Its soft ore is looked upon to in part equalize these disadvantages, while cheaper rail freights and lowered royalties must make up the remainder. With a still further reduction of 75 cents,
where would the Mesaba come in?
"The general manager of the Pennsylvania Steel company once said that his company was moving to the coast
with its blast furnaces to take Cuban ores, and located on tidewater they could pay the 75 cents duty and sell steel products below any possible competition from American ore consumers.
Why then cut off a revenue of $500,000 a year?
"To get Mesaba ore to Cleveland costs about as follows: Actual average mining cost, 50 cents; actual average royalty, 45 cents; rail freight to Duluth, 80 cents; lake freight to Cleveland, $1.05;
commission, etc., 20 cents; total, $3, and no profit at that. Cleveland is a thousand miles from tidewater. At what portion of the coast could Mesaba ores compete?"

The defence of "newspaper English"
in the New York Sun is worthy of distinguished consideration. It is in reply to a remark in Blackwoods'; here is a part of it: "Newspaper English ought to be all-embracing. The users of it are not confined within narrow limits, as most of the writers of books are confined.
Naught that concerns the human race is foreign to them. Modern English is incomparably superior to old-time English.
There are many thousands of useful and necessary words in our language now that Shakespeare never saw and that even Johnson or Addison knew nothing of."

Commenting on the report that Queen
Liliuokalani, will sue the United States
for damages for violently dispossessing
her of her throne, the Evening Wisconsin, of Milwaukee, says: "We would choose Senator Hoar, of Massachusetts;
Thomas B. Reed, of Maine, and Senator
Davis, of Minnesota, to defend the cause of the American people against the testimony of Cleveland, Gresham and Blount, and in that event, we would personally agree to pay all the damages which the ex-queen may obtain against the United States."

The Chicago Times objects to the New York Sun's statement that the Wilson bill is a "deficiency bill," but what are the facts? According to Mr. Wilson's own statements the bill reduced the sources of revenue to the extent of $50,000,000 a year. Add to this a deficit of $75,000,000 estimated by Mr. Carlisle and it makes a total shortage of $125,000,000 to be provided for.

Henry Clews thinks that 60 per cent
of the manufacturing establishments
that had stopped business have resumed operations. This estimate was made nearly a week ago, and they have been resuming at a rapid rate since that time.
It will not be long before all the factories
and mills are running again.

The people of St. Louis county are indebted to Congressman Tawney for the able speech that he made in opposition to free iron ore. As their own congressman grossly misrepresented them upon this question, they are especially grateful to Mr. Tawney.

Mr. Cleveland's latest nominee for justice of the supreme court, once called David B. Hill, "a reptile in politics." He is now likely to feel the serpent's sting.

When Goldsmith said, "man wants but little here below," he must have meant
"below zero."

This cold spell should satisfy even a hot Scotch curier.

A Splendid Man.
Superior Leader: Day T. Lewis, yesterday's nominee for mayor of Duluth, is a splendid man—public spirited,
energetic, honorable and cool-headed.
When such men are for the city, the people have no one who will care a snap whether they are Democrats, Republicans or Mugwumps—the people will vote for them.

Must Be True.
Milwaukee Evening Wisconsin:
"Better times are at hand. That, substantially, is the opening sentence in one of at least twenty editorials
printed by leading newspapers in different parts of the country, within the last week. 'What everybody is saying must be true.'"

DECEMBER CITY WORK.

Report of City Engineer Reed of the Operations of His Department During Last Month.

Amount of Money Spent for Clearing the Sidewalks and Streets—Department Expenses Low.

Valley City, N. D., People Think Peterson, the Suicide, Was H. L. F. Klemm, But Are Mistaken.

City Engineer Reed has completed the report of his department for the month of December. During that month nothing was charged to anyone for work done by the department. Accounts due to the department from private parties were paid to the amount of $80.57. The accounts outstanding for work done for private parties amount to $761.83, and of that sum the Duluth Gas and Water company owes $138.45. The engineering pay roll and engineering material cost together $135.66. The items of expense were as follows:

General office.....$78.08
Sundry.....50.38
Estimates for new work.....30.25
Contingents.....3.41
New divisions.....1.71
Engineering contracts.....119.38
Inspection contracts.....7.71
Water works.....211.90

In the maintenance department the pay roll amounted to $248.30 and material to the amount of $185.70 was purchased. Removal of ice and snow from sidewalks cost $187.50, and taking care of the streets cost $72.00. To erect three city streets cost $72.00. The entire cost of the department for the month was $1186.70.

THEY ARE MISTAKEN.

Valley City, N. D., People Think Peterson, the Suicide, Was H. L. F. Klemm. The mayor is in receipt of a letter from J. Jeff Dobbin, secretary of the board of trade at Valley City, North Dakota, in which he makes inquiries concerning the man Peterson who committed suicide on the boulevard New Year's day, last September. Herman L. F. Klemm disappeared from that locality. He had threatened to kill his wife to commit suicide and from the description, printed in the papers, Mrs. Klemm had an idea that perhaps the deceased was her husband. Mr. Dobbin will be notified that Peterson most surely is not the missing man Klemm.

Henry Waterson's Lecture. On Saturday evening, Feb. 10, the editor-actor, Henry Waterson, of the Louisville Courier-Journal, will lecture at the First Methodist church on "The Compromises of Life." Mr. Waterson needs no introduction for everyone knows him as one of the ablest editors in the whole United States. His fame as a journalist has been more than rivaled by his power as a public speaker, and on the occasion of the dedication of the World's fair, at Chicago, he was the official mouthpiece of the government and electrified the country by his magnificent address. He has consented to fill a very few platform engagements the coming season.

The Completion of a Chinese. Is not yellow that of an unfortunate individual whose liver complaint has assumed the chronic form? The yellow of the sufferer assume a saffron hue, there is dull pain in the region of the organ affected, the tongue is coated, breath sour, sick headaches usually but not always occur, and there is sometimes dizziness on arising from a sitting posture. Constipation and dyspepsia are also attendant of this very common ailment, always in its aggravated form, liable to breed abscesses of the liver, which are a source of great suffering. Sarsaparilla, which is a powerful purgative, is a single remedy which eradicates it, as well as the troubles connected with it and which it originates. In chills and fever, a complaint which always yields to the Bitters, the liver is seriously involved. This fine alternative tonic removes costiveness and indigestion, eradicates nervous and kidney trouble and debility.

Auction. On Saturday, Jan. 27th, I will sell at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, at Wells-Stone Mercantile Co.'s stable on Fifth avenue west, the following goods formerly belonging to Foran Bros. & Co., insolvents: Five horses, 3 pairs of bobs, 2 wagons, 1 double harness, 1 single harness, 1 safe, 1 platform scales, counters and shelving. CHARLES A. WRIGHT, Receiver. Duluth, Jan. 22, 1894.

Cheap Rates to California. The Northern Pacific railroad has put into effect a series of low round trip rates to California points. Tickets are good until April 30, 1894, and are good for stop over under certain conditions. These rates will enable those desiring to do so, to spend the winter in Southern California or to visit the midwinter fair to be held at San Francisco. This latter event will undoubtedly be second only to the World's fair just closed and will repay a visit as it will exhibit the resources and capabilities of California. St. Paul, Minneapolis and Duluth to San Francisco and return to Missouri river, $80.50, and to Los Angeles and return to Missouri river, $90. For further information apply to Charles S. Fee, general passenger and ticket agent, St. Paul, Minn.

AMUSEMENTS.

"The Devil's Auction."

Although there has been a spectacular baricade here this week it will not in the least interfere with the success of the one coming to the Temple next Monday and Tuesday evenings "The Devil's Auction." The changes and revisions it has had since last seen in the Northwest will give it an entirely new flavor with old admirers, and have a tendency to create many new ones. Little Miss Columbia, the child dancer, 7 years of age, is pronounced a wonder, and although her appearance is but one of the incidents of the production, she will create a sensation, or this city will be different from the many others in the Northwest who have seen this year. New scenery, new and elaborate costumes, and a display of handsome gowns are also promised as features of this production this season.

"Ole Olson" at the Temple.

"Ole Olson" comes to the Temple Saturday, Jan. 27. Since here last it has had a thorough revising by James A. Henne, so well known in the dramatic world as the author such highly successful dramas as "Hearts of Oak," "Margaret Fleming," "Daring Apart," "Shore Acres," etc. The changes in "Ole Olson" makes the play as strong in its sensational features as it has been heretofore in comedy. Richard Baker is playing the title role. "Ole Olson" this season and has made a great hit in the character.

Republican City Committee.

The Republican city committee as named by Chairman Towne, of Tuesday's convention, is as follows: At large, L. M. Willcuts, chairman; First ward, J. H. Nordy; Second ward, Geo. F. Ash; Third ward, Olaf Stenson; Fourth ward, E. A. Schuler; Fifth ward, L. L. Fisher; Sixth ward, Andrew Swardling; Seventh ward, G. J. Mallory; Eighth ward, V. A. Dash. A meeting was called for 3 o'clock this afternoon at Capt. Lewis' office.

Superior Call Seized.

The Superior Daily Call was yesterday seized by a constable on executions in favor of the Hennepin Paper company, of Little Falls, Minn. The call is owned by the late John J. Lewis, who was a partner in the firm of Lewis & Co., publishers of the Minneapolis Tribune. The call is now in the hands of the Hennepin Paper company, and is being prepared to be sold.

Street Car Employes' Ball.

Fully 100 couples attended the dance by the street railway employes last evening at the Pavilion. This was the formal opening of the Pavilion for 1894. A. McClelland, E. Purdy and J. Lewis were in charge of the arrangements and Charles Shorty was floor manager with Joseph Kinney, M. Flinn and M. De-lay as assistants. Sam Atkinson served the supper and the menu was fine.

Ball at Iron Junction.

The employes of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railroad, Iron Junction, will give a ball tomorrow evening at Skinner's hotel at that place. Special trains will be run from Biwabik, Hibbing, Virginia and Mountain Iron.

The Tribune Almanac.

A larger volume than ever before, now numbering over 350 pages, but sold at the same price as when it first appeared, it printed only 60 pages the New York Tribune almanac for 1894 comes freshened up to date, and enriched by the addition of new features. The book contains an almost unlimited array of statistics on every conceivable subject which concerns the whole people of the United States, with much which interests only the political parties or other large bodies of men or women. Some space is given to the silver bullion controversy at the last session of congress. The results of the elections of 1893 are fully reported. The financial outcome of the World's fair is also properly presented. There is no partisanship in the contents of the Tribune almanac, and everyone takes accept with confidence its statistics of coinage, circulation, foreign trade, elections, population, pensions, revenues, banking, divorce, marriage, sports, legal holidays, and the hundreds of other things treated of. The facts about prominent societies in the United States are given more space than usual. The Almanac for 1894 is a most valuable book of reference. It is indexed thoroughly and well. Price, 25 cents a copy.

JACK DEMPSEY'S VIEW.

The Famous Pugilist's Estimate of Corbett and Mitchell.

The outcome of the proposed battle between James J. Corbett of California and Charles Mitchell of England has caused more speculation among sporting men than any similar contest of the kind that I remember. The majority of the talent I know favor Corbett. Such undoubted authorities as Al Smith, Pat Sheedy, John L. Sullivan, Michael F. and Philip Dwyer are sure that the Californian cannot lose. On the other hand, such equally competent authorities as Bat Masterson, the great sportsman of Denver; Parson Davies, the backer of Peter Jackson, and Colonel Bill Hard-ling feel equally certain that the Briton will win the golden prize.

Among the great masses of the people who go to the sporting world doubt and uncertainty exist as to which of the rival gladiators will prove the better man. This is due to the fact that both are practically unknown quantities, as neither has yet succumbed to defeat. Corbett's unknown quantity is his willingness or ability to endure punishment. Mitchell's, as to what constitutes the limitations of his physical powers. The Englishman has met all kinds of opponents from giants to pygmies and has never got worse than a draw. The bigger the chaps he would face the better he would show to advantage. That was because he was quicker and swifter than they and could get out of harm's way. Big men, with few exceptions, are slow, and a good, clever fellow of middle size can easily elude their advances. How anybody can question Corbett's willingness to take punishment—in other words, his gameness—is more than I can understand. I know him to be game to his heart's core, and I want to dissipate right here and now the idea prevalent in many quarters that there is a "streak of the yellow" in his composition. I say this unequivocally, for I know whereof I speak. I was Joe Chynoweth's second on the occasion of his memorable fight with Corbett in California a few years ago. That battle lasted 27 rounds and was the hardest championship ever fought. Early in the fight Jim broke his right arm, but kept on fighting, although he suffered excruciating pain. By the eleventh possible maneuver he kept Corbett at bay with his long left and avoided punishment. About the eighteenth round I told Joe to go in at Jim and try to discourage him by fast and furious jabbing and jabbing at him like a human hurricane. He rushed at a shower of vicious blows upon Jim's head, face and body. Jim, by reason of his quick right, could not ward him off of them off, and he received a fearful pomeling. He never bled. He took his punishment like a Spartan. He kept his head as cool as his heart and was cool throughout. The fast work soon tired Joe, and then Jim went in and landed a few more blows. He seemed to be as tireless as a steam engine. He kept jabbing and jabbing at Joe's nose and mouth, and he never let up until he gave his fellow townsman his quietus. As to my ally, Mitchell. It may be a long or a short one, according to the tactics employed by the men. My belief is that it will be a fairly long one, more so than the Corbett-Sullivan fight. Mitchell will be in much finer fettle than the "Big Fellow." He will be able to endure a far greater strain.

It is hard to outline another man's plan of action, but I think Mitchell's will be to try to get under Corbett's guard and punish him about the body. He is so much shorter than Corbett that he knows it will be an extremely difficult task to reach his face at all. He need not rush and do the thing to accomplish this, many people think, but simply await Corbett's lead and counter on the body. I think that Mitchell expects and is willing to receive loss of punishment about the head so as to get in a few rib roast on Jim's body. He believes, I am told, that Jim cannot hit him and for the same reason.

Corbett, I believe, will be prepared for every move Mitchell may make. When he lands at the Briton's head, he will take care, too, to protect his body. Besides, he is as able as a panther on his feet, and can, I believe, get away most of the time without serious return. At infighting, too, he may surprise Mitchell if he forced to it. He certainly did not two strong men that I know of—Joseph Chynoweth and Peter Jackson.

I am not attempting to deery Mitchell's abilities. He is game, clever, speedy, cool, crafty, resourceful and exceptionally strong. His strength will be his best card in the game at Jacksonville. In three trumps—speed, cleverness and weight—Corbett has a shade the best of the play. In three others—coolness, craftiness and resources—Mitchell may make the better showing. As to the joker, gameness, it is a stand-off between them, and as for the right and left bower, height and reach, the Californian has far and away the best of it. Corbett holds the most trumps and barring bad playing should win the game game.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflammation of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed, it swells and shuts out the sound. It is only by getting rid of this inflammation that the hearing can be restored. Write for free literature to Dr. J. C. Carter, 1010 Broadway, New York.

MUST PAY THE TAXES.

Supreme Court Holds That Permits by the St. Paul & Duluth to Lumbermen Operated as Transfers.

Consequently the Lands Are Subject to Taxation and County Can Collect for Six Years.

The Insanity Law Passed Last Term Declared Invalid and a Violation of the Constitution.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 25.—[Special to The Herald.]—The supreme court today decided that permits granted by the St. Paul & Duluth road to lumbermen to cut pine from its land grant operated as a transfer of the property and rendered it subject to taxation, affirming the decision of Judge Crosby last summer. The cases were remanded and taxes ordered assessed and collected. The cases were against the Empire Lumber company, David Tozier and Durant, Wheeler & Co., and involved over 100,000 acres on which the tax for one year is about $2500. The attorney general says the county will be able to collect for six years.

The supreme court also decides the insanity law passed last term to be invalid and a violation of both the state and United States constitution. Mrs. Blaisdell and Frank Hoskins will both go free, and from the secretary of the state and board of correction and charities it was learned that not less than 470 patients in the state hospitals have been illegally committed under the law and may not only have to be taken back to the counties from which they were committed, for a second examination, but the superintendents of the asylums are liable to prosecution for false imprisonment.

In his opinion, Judge Collins says that the law nowhere insures an insane person a trial, and no guarantee of a judicial investigation of insanity is given. The officer is nowhere required to convene the case with the least regard to the interest of the insane, and the law allows the investigation to be conducted and the commitment, recommended without the knowledge of the patient, may even be made on hearsay reports. The authorities are not even required to take testimony. The court does not say that the Fergus Falls officials did, but holds the law unconstitutional on these grounds.

How Some Duluth People View the Assertions Made in It.

"In my opinion," said R. S. Munger today, "Maj. Baldwin has deliberately insulted the people of Duluth and more particularly the business men, when he publicly denounced them as a pack of speculators and stock gamblers. He asserts that twenty men own the iron mines of Minnesota. That is a deliberate falsehood, for I know over 1000 men and women also, for that matter, who are interested in the iron mines in this county."

One of the Underserving Cases Where Work Was Given.

The board of public works has had some special form checks printed to be used in paying the men who are employed on the special rock work now furnished to idle men, and payment has already been made in several cases.

One individual came in and wanted to know some money, but Clerk Abell refused to give him a check until he quit work. The fellow had been in eight days and did not want to stop until he had been at it twelve days, the limit allowed.

He went out but came back soon after with a time check for eight days work. Not only did he have his time, but he also was gloriously drunk.

Swiped the Peddler's Watches.

A few days ago a peddler left Carlton for a trip among the lumber camps. He had a number of gold and silver watches in his pack when he started, but now his watches are gone where the woodbine twined and he sits disconsolate in this below zero climate awaiting the discovery of the thieves. While he was sleeping off the effects of a heavy dose of pork and beans, some lumber jacks went through his pack, took his watches and jumping a log train came to Duluth where they were soon followed by Sheriff McKinnon, of Carlton county, but without success. The lumber jacks and the stolen watches have disappeared in toto, and the world seems very hollow to the peddler.

A BRIDGE BILL AGREED TO.

The Commerce Committee Will Report One to the House.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—[Special to The Herald.]—The fight in regard to a bridge over the St. Louis river was settled today so far as Representatives Baldwin and Haugen and others interested are concerned. The different factions have agreed upon a measure and the subcommittee of the house committee on commerce will report it to the full committee. The subcommittee consists of Geary, Fletcher and Barrett.

Geary in his report to the full committee will incorporate the provisions of the new measure agreed upon. It is generally supposed that this morning will agree to the report of the subcommittee.

CAUCUS OF DEMOCRATS.

It Will be Held to Consider the Income Tax Bill.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Representative Bryan has prepared a call for a caucus to act upon the income tax bill and is now circulating it for signatures.

Representative Hall, of Missouri, an advocate of the tax, whose scheme was largely adopted by the committee in preparing the bill, says it will be added to the pending bill, and is opposed to holding a caucus.

Representative Sperry, of Connecticut, an opponent of the tax, is equally opposed to a caucus, saying it will be entirely useless. Those in favor of adding the tax to the present bill, he said, would vote in accordance with the dictum of the caucus, and the opponents of the measure would not.

A sufficient number of signatures has been obtained to insure the holding of the caucus. An effort will be made to adjourn the house at 1 o'clock and hold the caucus immediately, inasmuch as a number of representatives desire to attend the president's reception.

READ what the leading Commercial paper of America recently had to say about Duluth flour:

"Flour was dull and unsettled on spring patents, as the Duluth mills are making the market for Minneapolis not only, but getting the trade, as they are able at that point to get better wheat than Minneapolis at less cost, while not making such a large percentage of patents as Minneapolis and hence a better and stronger flour, which is taking the place of the Minneapolis brands of older reputation at less prices." THE ROPE BROKE

Horrible Scene in Chicago This Morning at the Hanging of George H. Painter for Murder.

When the Trap Was Sprung the Rope Snapped and Painter Fell on the Stone Floor.

Blood Gushed from His Head and Nostrils and While Unconscious He Was Hanged.

Painter Made a Speech Protesting His Innocence and Maintained He Was Not Guilty.

CHICAGO, Jan. 26.—The execution in the county jail this morning of George H. Painter, formerly of Brooklyn, N. Y., for the murder of his mistress, Alice Martin, was attended by a horrible scene. When the trap was sprung the rope snapped in two, and the unfortunate man, who weighed over 200 pounds, dropped eight feet to the stone floor of the corridor. His head struck heavily as he fell and the blood gushed from his ears and nostrils.

He was picked up unconscious, laid on the drop in a recumbent position and another noose adjusted. The drop fell a second time without further accident. Painter protested his innocence up to the time the white cap was placed over his head. One of the attending physicians expressed the opinion that he was already dead when the drop was sprung a second time.

March to the Scaffold. The procession reached the scaffold from the private office of Clerk Price of the jail where the condemned man spent the night, at 7:53 a. m. Rev. Drs. Sheffer and Moordyke walked on either side of the condemned man. Painter was attired in a black suit without collar or neck tie, and his head was covered with a skull cap. Only seventy-five spectators, half of whom were representatives of the press, were admitted to the death corridor.

Painter was a fine-looking man and a murmur of sympathy went up from the crowd as he came into view. His nerve was wonderful. His glance taking in the scaffold, the noose and the spectators was without the tremor of a muscle. He walked unsupported to the center of the trap and nodded with a smile—one more of dignity than of bravado—to a newspaper man whom he recognized in the front row. Prayer was offered by Rev. Moordyke and after the white shroud had been adjusted the condemned man was asked by Sheriff Gilbert if he had anything to say.

Looking straight at those before him he paused for a minute, and then, in a half hesitating manner, his tones growing firmer and more emphatic as he proceeded, he commenced: "Gentlemen, I see some friends here. O God, forgive them. No friends of mine would come and see me die. It hurts me. Gentlemen, if you are gentlemen—a pause—" "there are few gentlemen that would look at an execution—few. The brotherhood of humanity has taught lots of men better than this. There was a time when in India men sought death, because through belief that it was an advance to their future state. Today I fear death, I do not want to die."

Protests His Innocence. For a moment the condemned man paused as though his voice had failed him. His auditors were breathless. The dropping of a pin would have echoed through the long gloomy corridor. Then suddenly gathering strength, and with even more earnestness and vigor than he had manifested a moment before, Painter proceeded: "Listen—listen to this. If I killed Alice Martin, my wife, although in court." Here again Painter seemed as if he was about to break down. "If I killed Alice Martin, the woman I loved, I pray this minute, my last minute on earth, that the Eternal God will take me and put me in eternal hell, that he will keep me in this eternally. If there is one man in this audience that is an American—an American citizen, on your soul, I say, on your soul, see that the murderer of Alice Martin is found."

The condemned man ceased. The officers approached to adjust the white cap. Another thought occurred to the condemned. "Gents," he said again, "I see too many of my (it was difficult to determine whether the next word was oppressors or officials) here, but few Americans." Then the white cap was drawn over his face and the noose was tightened.

The Rope Snapped. It was 7:53 when the procession reached the platform. The preliminaries had occupied seven minutes. At 7:59, just as Painter had uttered his last words, the signal was given and the trap was sprung. As the body descended there was a sharp crack. The rope had snapped in the center between the iron eye in the cross beam and the noose. With a crash—a dozen thuds would hardly express it—the body fell upon the stone pavement eight feet below. As it fell it half turned from its previous perpendicular position and the head struck the ground with tremendous force.

In a second the white cap was saturated with blood. A cry of horror went up from the spectators. The majority rose to their feet. A few were paralyzed and unable to stir. "Sit down," yelled the bailiffs, as they emphasized the order by pushing the spectators back into their seats. A dozen men rushed to the foot of the scaffold, and picked up the unconscious man. The blood was dropping from the back of the head and running in a dozen rivulets down the white shroud.

Four deputy sheriffs took the head and shoulders and as many more the feet, and the inanimate form was carried around the corner, up the steps, and laid upon the scaffold. Some intimation of what had happened must have reached the prisoners on the other side of the jail, a few yards distant, for at this moment there was a succession of unearthly yells and shouts and a rattling of iron doors as though the entire prison colony had broken loose. Some of the spectators jumped to their feet in alarm, but the stentorian voices of the guards again ordered them to keep their seats.

Hanged a Second Time. Meanwhile the trap had been hastily readjusted, and another rope and noose prepared. The still unconscious man was half carried, half dragged to the center of the trap. The deputy sheriffs were successful in keeping the body in a heap while the noose was being adjusted, but as soon as they withdrew, it fell back into a recumbent position. There was a hurried consultation, and then the body was stretched out on the trap door with the limbs from the knees overhanging the edges.

The trap was again sprung and the body again went into midair. This time the rope held its own, although the noose slipped behind the ear and close upon the chin, and it seemed for a moment as though the head would pass through. A deputy sprang to the side of the swinging body and solved the left wrist. As he did so, he made the remark, "I believe he was dead when he was carried up on the scaffold." The drop fell the second time at 8:03 1/2, an interval of four and one-half minutes from the moment of the fall.

As the body swung around the blood continued to pour out of the head until not a vestige of white remained about the cap, or the upper portion of the robe. The sight sickened many of the spectators, and as soon as the body had fallen a second time they made a break for the open air.

Pronounced Dead. The body was cut down in ten minutes and the jury of physicians declared that the verdict of the law had been executed. The remains were then removed to a local undertaker's and this evening will be taken to Aurora for interment tomorrow morning.

Dr. Fortnes, after the hanging, declared that dissection had set in before the second noose was adjusted. The second hanging was useless, but it was a technicality that sentiment could not prevent. Sheriff Gilbert was almost prostrated by the horrible incidents attending the hanging, and the rope which was used in the anarchist execution and had been tested as late as this morning. He was absolutely unable to account for the apparent flaw in the fibre.

COURAGEOUS TO THE LAST.

Painter's Nerve Did Not Desert Him at Any Time.

CHICAGO, Jan. 26.—Painter's nerve remained with him until the last. He was playing a game of seven-up with Death Watch Morrison last night, when the news that Governor Alge had finally refused to again interfere was received. Morrison's nerve deserted him, but Painter was not affected an iota, and continuing the game beat his companion three times in succession. He ate a hearty supper at 7 o'clock, the meal comprising a dozen oysters on the half shell, half a cold chicken, potatoes and coffee.

At his request, Hon. Luther Laflin Mills, who has been indefatigable in his efforts to secure commutation of the capital sentence, and ex-Alderman Young remained with him. He asked permission to sit up all night instead of retiring, and it was readily granted. Away after midnight he was asked what he would like for breakfast and selected as his last meal a duplicate of his supper, with the addition of a beef steak and poached eggs on toast. The breakfast was brought to the jail shortly before 7 o'clock and the condemned man cleaned the dishes. While at breakfast he received word that Rev. Dr. Bolton, of the First Methodist church, who had promised to attend him in his last moments was sick and unable to keep his word. He therefore asked that Rev. A. P. Moordyke, who had spent considerable time with him during his incarceration should be sent for. The man of God shortly arrived, accompanied by Rev. Dr. Steffen, of Holland, Mich. Painter received them and listened to their ministrations until the sheriff appeared and announced that the hour for the march to the gallows had arrived.

STATEMENT TO THE PUBLIC.

Painter Wrote a Lengthy Address Protesting His Innocence. CHICAGO, Jan. 26.—At intervals during the past few days the condemned man prepared a statement to be made public in the event of the sentence of the court being carried into effect. Originally he contemplated leaving it addressed to a friend but he was finally persuaded by Jailer Ben Price to address it to the public. The manuscript was placed in Price's charge last evening, and its contents were not made public until the body had been cut down. Among other things it says:

To the Citizens: I am innocent. Standing on the very brink of death, knowing that in a few short hours more I shall meet my God, I carry this last appeal from my crying earthly judges to that Omnipotent Judge who alone knows that I speak the truth, when I solemnly declare that I did not commit the foul murder for which I must die.

This was followed by a sketch of his life, interwoven with which were these expressions: "What I say now I know full well can have no effect upon powers that might have rescued me from being foully murdered. It is too late. If I shall have convinced a single person that I am only another unfortunate victim added to the already large list of men and women who have been convicted and punished by perjured testimony, and a false though plausible chain of circumstantial evidence, that these, my last, almost my dying words, will not have been uttered in vain. Circumstances seemed to point against me, therefore I was guilty and must be killed."

The statement goes on to give a history of the relations between the murdered woman, and of the circumstances which led him into drinking habits. These circumstances were, in brief, that the woman had other friends while he was existing under the impression that he, himself, was her whole support. It narrates the statement made by her to the effect that she had borne a child by her own father, that this child was still alive, and that the family had, according to the statements made by the murdered woman's sister, moved to Minneapolis.

THE STORY OF THE CRIME.

It Was a Mysterious Affair and Painter May Have Been Innocent.

CHICAGO, Jan. 26.—The crime for which Painter suffered the extreme penalty of the law was the murder of Alice Martin, generally known as Alice Martin, at 86 Green street on the night of May 7, 1891. The couple lived as man and wife in the 2-story frame ramshackle house at the number given above, occupying the second floor. The first floor above the street.

The murder, which was most brutal in its nature, is shrouded in a mystery which the latest developments in the case have only served to deepen. Only this much is known. At about midnight on May 7, 1891, a man entered the house. A short time later he ran down the stairs, exclaiming, "My God, some one has killed my Alice." He rushed in search of the police who arrived a few minutes later, and going to the room found Alice Martin dead with the imprints of a strong blow on her throat. The man was crushed by blows which had evidently been dealt with a chair found lying broken on the floor. The walls and room were spattered with blood. The man was arrested and from that time till today strenuously denied his guilt, and in the recent trial, the proof of his statement, but one which has the greatest influence with those familiar with the crime is the fact that, while the murder was of the most sanguinary character and blood was splattered all about the room, none was found on Painter's clothing. The people who signed the affidavits in the recent trial, and the executive clemency established an apparently strong alibi, but those affidavits did not produce the expected result on the jury.

The other point made in Painter's behalf was the theory of the woman's murder by a man named Dick Edwards, now confined in a Southern penitentiary on a charge of committing a very similar crime. Several witnesses have testified to the governor to hearing the Martin woman in conversation with the man who answered Edwards' description, a short time before the murder was committed, and to having heard this man make threats against the woman's life. Unfortunately for Painter much of this evidence was conflicting and he sagged even with his own statement of the case. It was these facts which induced the governor to decline the petition for a reprieve.

PETER JACKSON TALKS.

The Fight Resulted About as He Expected.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 26.—Peter Jackson, who is to fight Corbett next June, was found in his room at the Central hotel last night. Said he: "The fight resulted as I anticipated so far as Mitchell's defeat goes, but I am surprised at the sudden manner in which it ended. The result shows Corbett to be a singularly scientific and successful fighter and does great credit to Mitchell. It completely puts at rest the statement that he was cowardly for he proved himself game in coming to this country, in meeting the lion in his den and coming out of it, though whipped, with much courage. I have nothing to say about the meeting between Corbett and myself, save that I will do my best to try and win."

A Chicago Alderman Shot.

CHICAGO, Jan. 26.—Alderman Mulvihill, of the Seventeenth ward, was fatally shot at midnight last night by Mike Fewer, who was drunk and hurrying a revolver in Hussey's saloon at 140 North Sangamon street, when Mulvihill attempted to take the weapon away from him. Fewer fired, the ball entering the alderman's chest and passing out through the temple.

Wages Reduced.

CHICAGO, Jan. 26.—A special to the Inter-Ocean from Peoria says: The Peoria Grape Sugar works, employing several hundred men, has made a reduction in wages of 10 per cent on all the men getting over $2 a day.

BISMARCK IN BERLIN

The ex-Chancellor Travelled to the Emperor's Palace Today and Was Given an Affectionate Welcome.

Crowds of People Assembled at the Stations and on the Streets and Cheered Bismarck.

When Embraced by the Emperor, Bismarck's Eyes Were Moist and He Looked Very Grave.

BERLIN, Jan. 26.—Prince Bismarck, his son, Count Herbert, and several friends left Friedrichshagen at 9:30 o'clock this morning, en route to Berlin. The North German Gazette says that in order to prevent Prince Bismarck suffering inconvenience, the public will not be admitted to the Lehrte railway station, where the special train on which the prince and his party travel will come into Berlin today.

At 9:10 o'clock this morning six Friedrichshagen ladies, dressed in white, proceeded to the castle and presented Prince Bismarck a large laurel wreath bound with ribbons and bearing the inscription "a happy journey." When the time arrived for the start to be made for the station, Prince Bismarck appeared attired in a cuirassier uniform, over which he wore a fur coat. He was accompanied by Princess Bismarck and several friends. Six girls led the way strewn flowers.

At 8 o'clock a large crowd from Hamburg arrived and vociferously cheered the prince. At the station Princess Bismarck stood in front of the saloon until the departure of the train. When the train pulled out of the station, the crowd broke into cheers, which lasted for some time. Some of those present cried out, "a prosperous journey," while others shouted "auf Wiedersehen." Prince Bismarck was visibly gratified. He was in excellent spirits. He thanked all those who had come to see him off, and shook hands with many of the crowd. Here Chrysanther, his secretary, and Dr. Schweininger traveled with him.

The train arrived punctually at the Lehrte station. Prince Henry of Prussia, the emperor's brother, the governor of Berlin, and a large suite of officers were waiting for the prince's arrival. When the train stopped, Prince Henry stepped out from the group surrounding him and walked to the car occupied by the ex-chancellor. He warmly shook hands with Prince Bismarck and Count Herbert. The party then walked to the royal state coach that was in waiting. Prince Bismarck made Prince Henry walk on the right side and sit on the right side of the carriage, although Prince Henry tried to give Prince Bismarck the place of honor.

Count Herbert and the governor of Berlin drove in the second carriage, but in her throat. He was the white one of the Halberstadt cuirassiers, with a general's distinction. He appeared healthy. The cheering and salutations from the crowds that had gathered to witness his entry into the city evidently pleased him very much. He smiled in response to the cries of welcome, and saluted the crowd frequently. Half a squadron of the Gardes du Corps rode in front and behind the closed state coach, but the large windows permitted everybody to see inside.

The route that was announced in these dispatches yesterday, that is across the Moltke bridge, which spans the Sprée near the railway station, through the streets skirting the Thiergarten to the Brandenburg gate, thence to and through Unter den Linden, past the palace of Emperor William I, the opera house and the palace of Empress Frederick, to the emperor's palace. The route from the monument to Frederick the Great to the palace gates was lined with members of the veterans' guilds, firemen, rifle unions and turners' societies.

Most of the houses along the route were decorated with flags. The entire population of Berlin, swelled by thousands of people from all parts of Germany, had apparently turned out to welcome the return of the prince, and the younger element in the crowds cheered themselves hoarse as the state coach passed along.

Dr. Schweininger rode in a cab at the rear of the procession. When they arrived at the castle Prince Bismarck and Prince Henry descended from the state coach and entered. The emperor, who was standing at the foot of the stairs to receive his guests, wore a special mark of honor, the uniform of the Bismarck cuirassiers. His reception of the old statesman was of the warmest and most cordial nature. His majesty embraced the prince with the utmost heartiness, and a kiss pressed on the old man's cheek sealed the reconciliation between the emperor and the greatest of his subjects. Prince Bismarck's gravity of demeanor during his reception by his majesty was much commented upon.

The emperor stood at the bottom of the steps leading to the so-called Petits appartements. As Prince Bismarck approached him he extended his hand and the prince, bowing, kissed it. The emperor immediately lifted both his arms and embraced the prince heartily. The ex-chancellor's eyes were moist but he looked very grave. The emperor then shook hands with Count Herbert Bismarck and the whole party retired to a room where the king of Saxony and a number of the German princes were awaiting their coming. All saluted Prince Bismarck as he entered the room.

The saloon carriage in which the prince rode, and his luggage, were attached to the Hamburg express. They were detached at Spandau, and another engine being attached to them, they proceeded to the Lehrte station as a special train. The Italian ambassador remarked today to another diplomat that today's meeting between the emperor and the prince was an historical event of the first magnitude.

Many of the shops displayed laurel-crowned busts of Bismarck. A life-size wax figure of the old chancellor, surrounded by laurel and orange trees, stood on a balcony of the Kaiser Panopticon, at the corner of Unter den Linden and Friedrichstrasse. Along the route were stationed bands playing national airs. When the procession passed the French embassy the balcony was crowded with guests of M. Herbet. At the Moltke bridge and near the exhibition park were assembled thousands of students. Representatives were present from the German students' union, from the agricultural college and the high school. All wore caps, plumes and swords. As the prince passed they saluted him. A detachment of police guarded the castle square, and none of the public was admitted within their lines. A guard of honor from the Second regiment of foot guards with a band and the regiment's colors, was drawn up before the castle.

WILL CHALLENGE CORBETT.

Sullivan Thinks He is Now in Better Shape Than Ever.

WILMINGTON, Del., Jan. 26.—John L. Sullivan was seen last evening with reference to the Corbett-Mitchell fight. He said that the result was just as he had expected, that he had predicted Corbett would win in four rounds. He has not yet made up his mind to challenge Corbett.

Sullivan said: "In all probability I will challenge Corbett, but not for a year. I have two years in which to fight him. I could not get into condition inside of a year, and it would be useless to challenge him while he is preparing for the Jackson fight. After that will be time enough for me. I believe I can whip any man in the world. I am now in better shape than ever and could soon fit myself for a fight."

CORBETT AND MITCHELL.

They Were Arraigned Today and Released on Bail.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Jan. 26.—Corbett was arraigned in court at 10 o'clock this morning and required to give bail in $5000 to be present and stand trial on Feb. 28. He furnished the bonds and was told that he was at liberty.

Jim then walked over to the Mitchell party and shook hands with them all in bidding them good-bye. To Mitchell, as he shook hands, Corbett said: "Good-bye, old man; I'll see you in New York." Corbett subsequently left on a special train for the North. Mitchell also leaves today as soon as his bond is arranged.

Bad Floods in Colombia.

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—A special from Panama, Colombia, says: The Cauca valley is inundated by the recent rains. The extensive and most destructive of the century. All of the crops have been swept away and the damage in other respects is beyond comprehension. The railways, however, withstood the waters far better than might have been expected. Widespread distress is certain and a famine is feared.

Democrats Dissatisfied.
The action taken by the Democratic convention in endorsing the Populist candidate for mayor has caused great dissatisfaction among West Duluth Democrats. One of the leading lights of the party stated this morning, when asked what he thought of the nomination, that he was not only surprised, but dissatisfied. He said that of course he was a Martin man, but that he would have been satisfied with any good Democrat, but under the present situation he would as soon support Lewis as Jensen. It seems to be the general opinion among the rank and file of the party that they would have preferred to go down fighting under their own colors than to win a victory behind the coat of arms of the Populists.

SURROUNDED BY MYSTERY

A Great Mistake.

A recent discovery is that headache, dizziness, dullness, confusion of the mind, etc., are due to derangement of the nerve centers which supply the brain with nerve force; that indigestion, dyspepsia, neuralgia, wind in stomach, etc., arise from the derangement of the nerve centers supplying those organs with nerve fluid or force. This is likewise true of many diseases of the heart and lungs. The nerve system is like a telegraph system, as will be seen by the accompanying cut.

The little white lines are the nerves which convey the nerve force from the nerve centers to every part of the body just as the electric current is conveyed along the telegraph wires to every station, large or small. Ordinary physicians fail to reach this fact; instead of treating the cause of the derangement of the nerve system, they treat the symptoms, and thus the disease is perpetuated.

Franklin Miles, M. D., LL. B., the highly celebrated specialist and student of nervous diseases, and author of many noted treatises on the nervous system, long since realized the truth of the first statement, and his Restorative Nerve is prepared on that principle. Its success in curing all diseases of the nervous system is wonderful, as the thousands of extreme testimonials in possession of the company manufacturing the remedy abundantly prove.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve is a reliable remedy for all nervous diseases, such as headache, nervous debility, prostration, epistaxis, dizziness, hysteria, sexual debility, St. Vitus dance, epilepsy, etc. It is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee or money refunded. Price, 50 cents per bottle, six bottles for $2.50. Express prepaid. Restorative Nerve positively contains no opiates or dangerous drugs.

AFTER THE COMPANY.

City of Duluth Has Begun an Action Against the Gas and Water Company.

The city of Duluth through City Attorney Greene has commenced an action against the Duluth Gas and Water company.

The company is claimed to have torn up certain streets in making excavations and the city, at the company's request, furnished material and labor for the repair of the same to the extent of $7774.11. The company has paid on this amount $2555.55 and the amount sued for is $5218.56.

In the case of the American Loan and Trust company against James Billings et al. denunciations to the amended complaint have been filed by James Billings, Juliette Billings and by them jointly. The grounds set up are that the complaint does not state facts sufficient to establish a cause of action and that the causes of action are not properly stated.

C. J. Mallory has brought a suit against the village of West Duluth to recover $5000 damages. He claims that in September 1891, the village entered upon his property in the Third division of West Duluth and caused excavation to be made resulting in the caving in and washing away of certain portions of the property. L. Washburn and Twomey & Morris are plaintiffs' attorneys.

Other papers filed were as follows: Transcript of judgment in favor of Mrs. A. F. Freeman for $244.20 against F. G. Stevens et al.

Dismissal of F. W. Paine vs. C. W. Renard and C. J. Dahl.

LAND OFFICE FRUITS.

It is Reported That Some Crooked Work Has Been Unearthed.

There is a large sized sensation brewing in land office circles which will probably culminate in the disbaring of at least one land office attorney, if it stops short there. For some days past Special Land Office Inspector A. J. Swineford has been pursuing secret investigations in some alleged crooked deals, but no information has heretofore leaked out.

Now, however, it is said that the ex-governor has unearthed what looks like an attempt at extensive and fraudulent proceedings in connection with some seven or eight pre-emption claims which were filed or said to be filed upon valuable timber lands included in some of the townships newly opened for settlement.

It is alleged that for the sum of $25 men, picked up on the streets of Duluth and Superior, were induced to go before the land office and file pre-emption claims, making affidavit at the time that they had settled upon the land, covered by the filing, prior to March 3, 1891. Some such filings and affidavits, seventeen or eighteen in all, it is alleged were actually made before anybody "knewed." But as it is always the case in such affairs the man turned up who would not "stay bought," and, as no more money was forthcoming, it is said, that the whole snafu was given away to the authorities and that one land attorney is in a bad position. If this is true it will probably be made pretty hot for him as Uncle Sam does not tolerate any monkeying with his own peculiar institutions.

The case has been hushed up as much as possible, but the charges and affidavits are now said to have been mailed to Washington and the outcome is awaited with feverish impatience by those interested in the case.

Pool Game Tonight.

Tonight there will be a game of pool at Jay Anderson's billiard hall between J. L. Malone, champion of the world, and William Aikine. It will be continuous pool, Malone to play 10 balls to Aikine's 75. Immediately following the game a 14-inch balk line billiard game, 20 points, between the same men. Mr. Malone will then give an exhibition of fancy shots. Mr. Malone a year and a half ago was with Schaefer and lives giving exhibitions, and his press notices class him as a wonder.

DOINGS OF CONGRESS

Mr. Cockran Indulged in Some More Futile Filibustering When the House Opened This Morning.

An Amendment by Mr. Wilson Reducing the Duty on Diamonds Caused a Sharp Discussion.

Republicans Claimed It Was in Order That the Poor Might Have Their Diamonds Cheaper.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—After brief filibustering by Mr. Cockran, the house went into committee on the tariff bill. Several amendments by Mr. Wilson were agreed to without debate. He offered an amendment amending the duty on diamonds and precious stones of all kinds from 15 per cent to 10 per cent ad valorem, causing a lively debate.

Mr. Holman offered an amendment to the amendment raising the duty from 15 per cent to 30 per cent. Mr. Alderson offered a substitute increasing the duty from 15 per cent to 50 per cent on cut diamonds and 25 per cent if rough or uncut.

The Republican members of the house teased Mr. Wilson with the statement that he had reported his amendment in order that the poor might have their diamonds cheaper. An interesting colloquy was precipitated by this amendment, in which Mr. Cockran and Mr. Hunter, both of Illinois, figured.

Mr. Alderson withdrew his former amendment imposing a duty of 50 per cent on cut diamonds and substituted for it one providing that precious stones of all kinds, cut or not, shall pay a duty of 30 per cent ad valorem; precious stones, if not especially provided for in this act, including pearls, set or strung, 35 per cent ad valorem; uncut precious stones 15 per cent ad valorem. This substitute was adopted.

Mr. Breckinridge, of Kentucky, offered an amendment putting in place on the free list.

In the senate, the Hawaiian resolution was made a special order for next Monday. The senate voted down a motion by Mr. Chandler to postpone the federal election bill till next December. The vote was yeas 20, nays 28. Mr. Chandler resumed his argument against the bill and rehearsed the story of some election frauds in Ohio.

TO BURN THE MAJOR.

A Scheme to Burn Congressman Baldwin in Effigy Tonight.

Yesterday and today there has been circulated in Duluth a subscription paper having for its object the raising of a fund to purchase oil and combustible material of various kinds to burn Congressman Baldwin in effigy. It is reported that the event is to occur tonight between 8 and 9 o'clock in the rear of the Palladium building; also that the City band has been engaged to play a dirge.

The scheme has been and whether it will be carried out remains to be seen. To burn any person in effigy is a misdemeanor under the law and makes the parties who do it liable to arrest.

Just how Mayor d'Autremont views it is not known. He has not decided whether to interfere or not, but it is attempted as to whether there will be any attempt made to stop it unless a riot should be imminent.

WHAT PEOPLE SAY.

H. S. Sibley, of Detroit, Tells of His First Visit to Duluth.

"It is five years since I have visited Duluth," said Henry S. Sibley, of Detroit, last night, "and the first thing that struck me as indicative of the progress of the city was the Union depot. It is just twenty years ago this month since I first came to Duluth. I was on my way to Silver Islet and I came here via St. Paul. In those days it took all day to get here from St. Paul, and one landed at a miserable little shed and had to tramp up town often through the unbroken snow drifts. One of the Wieland's was carrying the north shore mail that night, and under his guidance I procured an outfit of dog teams and a halfbreed Indian named Church as a guide. It took us eight days to make the trip, but as the ice and this being my first winter journey on foot I shall never forget it. Although mining has been temporarily abandoned at Silver Islet, we have a caretaker there, and some day the mine may be pumped out and worked one more."

"I don't know which of the two, Mitchell or Baldwin, feels the worst to-day," said A. C. Bachelor, "but I would sooner be in Mitchell's fix than in Baldwin's. Mitchell has lost fame and money. Baldwin has lost honor and friends. I am sorry that the major should have made such a mouse-colored ass of himself."

"The coal is beginning to move at a lively rate," said a fast freight man to-day. "Last night, at one time, there were twelve special freights between here and Spooner all loaded with coal. On the other lines business is also picking up."

"The Republicans of Duluth should not overlook your uncle, Loren Fletcher," said a prominent Republican to-day, "because he has always been friendly to Duluth, and he is not unversed in the byways of politics."

Had His Nerve With Him.

This afternoon about a clock a spirited gray horse attached to a cutter, took fright at a car on Superior street and attempted to run away. When passing the corner of Third avenue, a little newsboy attempted to run in front of the restive animal, but he was not quick enough and was run over. He trooked badly demoralized, but as soon as he regained his nerve and after being picked up he said: "Aw! lemme alone, will yer. I kin take care of myself, and I was walked while the crowd applauded his pluck."

Gossip.

Received over 1000 letters of B. E. Baker, grain and stock broker, rooms 107 and 108 Chamber of Commerce.

Cable lower on both wheat and flour. Wheat very dull today and some lower. Corn lost all gains today but closed firm at the low price of the day.

Provisions some weaker but think they will sell higher before much lower.

Stocks strong all day.

second-class mail matter.

The Weather.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN.,
Jan. 25, 1894.—A slight disturbance is centered over Western Lake Superior, causing light snows
to prevail in the lake region. The barometer is lowest in Montana and snow weather prevails in that state.An area of high barometer over Manitoba is attended by cold, clear weather, and temperatures 10 to 20° lower than yesterday. There has been a general rise in temperature in all other reporting districts, except North Dakota,
where it is slightly colder. In the Upper Mississippi valley it is 20 to 30° warmer.Duluth temperature: 7, m. today;
22 below zero; maximum for last twenty-four
hours, 19 below zero; minimum, 22 below
zero occurred yesterday at 4 a. m.DULUTH, Jan. 25.—Local forecast until 8 p. m.
tomorrow: Fair; cooler tonight and Saturday;
northwest winds.JAMES KENNEDY,
Local Forecast Office.WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 25.—10 a. m.—Observer, Duluth, Minn.: Temperature low, but may fall 20° at your station tomorrow morning.HARRISON,
Chief of Weather Bureau.The Pioneer Fuel company sells the best grades
of coal, and from the low prices now in effect
give liberal discounts for cash and make prompt deliveries. Office, 230 West Superior street.WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Forecast till 3 p. m.

southerly winds; shifting to northerly, cold
in northern portion Saturday morning, followed by rising temperature. For Minnesota: Fair;
except local snows in southern portion;
northerly, shifting to westerly winds; colder in northern portion Saturday morning; warmer in western portion Saturday evening.

The Majority Contest.

The Populist nominee for mayor, John Jensvold, was endorsed by the Democratic convention yesterday, but it was not an unanimous endorsement by any means and Mr. Jensvold can hardly expect to poll the full Democratic vote in Duluth. Mr. Jensvold surprised many of his friends by accepting the nomination
because he must realize that he will be leading a forlorn hope in a contest with Capt. Ray T. Lewis.It would be idle to inquire what qualities Mr. Jensvold possesses for the position of mayor which are not possessed in at least an equal degree by Capt. Lewis.
The movement in favor of Capt. Lewis started spontaneously and it grew with a rapidity that was amazing. If there has ever been a case where the office has sought the man, and not the man the office, the case is presented in the circumstances surrounding the nomination of Capt. Lewis. His nomination was demanded by the masses of the Republican party and by hundreds of other citizens who are not affiliated with that party. The majority cared nothing about his ideas on the tariff bill or the silver question. They wanted for mayor
a business man of well known integrity and ability, one true to Duluth and Duluth's interests, one who would faithfully
and conscientiously devote his whole time to the service of the city, and this man they found in the person of Capt.
Lewis.In him they perceived a man bound to no cliques or factions, with no axes to grind for himself or others, but animated solely by a desire to do that which would best advance the city's interests. Hence his nomination, and for the same reasons is his election by a large majority as certain as any human event of the future can be.

Good City Government.

A national conference for good city government is now being held in Philadelphia by the Municipal League of that city, with the co-operation of the City club, of New York. A circular issued by the promoters of this movement stated that the principal objects of the conference are "to determine, so far as possible by inquiry and debate, the best means for stimulating and increasing the rapidly growing demand for honest and intelligent government in American cities, and to discuss the best methods of combining and organizing the friends of reform so that their united strength may be made effective."That this conference will do much to advance the cause of good municipal government is beyond question. The exchange of ideas at this gathering will have a good effect, and the comparison of views will do much to make clear the best plan to be pursued in obtaining honest, intelligent and efficient administrations in all our cities, large and small.

A Fight to the Death.

The Democratic caucus at Washington last night decided to attach the internal revenue bill, with its income tax features, to the Wilson tariff bill. This decision was reached against Mr. Wilson's earnest protest that such action might defeat the tariff bill. However,
the caucus decision may not be carried out in the house. The Eastern Democrats have begun to fight in earnest
against the income tax. Mr. Cockeran is leading the filibustering tactics to defeat it, but so far has been unsuccessful
in preventing the appearance of a quorum.According to a Washington dispatch,
the organization against the income tax
under Mr. Cockeran's direction is complete, and it is understood that the advice is to fight, by every parliamentary means, against the addition of this proposition to the Wilson bill, and then if it is added, to fight with an equal determination against the passage of the bill.
It is understood that deeper than the opposition to the income tax lies anantagonism to the tariff bill itself, and that if the income tax were the means of defeating the whole bill, it would be gratifying to many.Every member of the New York delegation and some of those from New Jersey and New England had a conference with Mr. Cockeran and enrolled themselves on the organized opposition to the ways and means committee. At noon yesterday it was said that they had thirty-five Democrats who had promised to vote against the bill without regard to the income tax. This number is not sufficient to defeat the measure, but they are still working for recruits and the situation is regarded as critical.It is stated that the opposition proposes first to vote against the addition of the income tax to the bill, then to vote to recommit the bill and after that, if they have failed in the other propositions, to vote against the whole measure in the house. The Republicans as a rule will vote in the committee of the whole to add the income tax to the bill, whether
on the yeas and nays or in the house
they will vote the same way or not is uncertain. It is announced also that they will vote against the proposition to recommit the bill. Of course, when it comes to the final vote, all the Republicans will vote against the measure, and with them thirty-five or more Democrats. The situation of the measure could hardly be more critical than it now is and the members of the ways and means committee are extremely apprehensive. The fight is one to the death.The ways and means committee believes that the strength which Mr. Cockeran's forces have developed now is the greatest and that it will be entirely insufficient, but every nerve is strained and it will be a great struggle. The information given by Mr. Cockeran at the close of last night's caucus that members need not consider themselves bound by his decision shows that he does not intend to quietly acquiesce in the addition of the income tax provisions to the tariff bill.The French have a very expeditious way of keeping up the strength of the Foreign legion which serves in the colonies.
Besides the roaming foreigners who enlist in it, every deserter from the armies of other powers who comes into France is at once arrested and ordered to immediately make his choice between entering the legion and being surrendered to the country whence he came. A German lieutenant who, having got into a scrape in his regiment, fled into France,
was immensely disgusted when instead of being welcomed and made much of he was curtly told that he must at once enlist in the legion or he would be forthwith handed over to the first outpost of the army he had deserted.There was a terrible scene at the hanging of George H. Painter in Chicago this

A SECRET SORROW.

I watch her stand in the open doorway.
It is only just now that we said good night.
Yet somehow here in the shadows I linger
And gaze at her there in the soft lamplight.Is she thinking how, at the ball just over,
She reached a queen in her beauty rare?
And how in the dim conservatory
I planned that rose in her fluffy hair?No; a deepening shadow has come in her eyes.
Some sudden sadness is clouding her brow.
Can I be the one who has brought this sorrow?
She is picking my rose to pieces now!I know that just as I told her good night
I touched her lips—but a lover's trick.
Can that be the trouble? Listen, she's speaking—"I believe that salad has made me sick!"—

A Transmigration Story.

Dr. Edward Bellows came over from Philadelphia one night recently and was entertaining a choice group of friends with tales of the far east. In the edge of the group a man from Pennsylvania, who had come over from Pottsville on some government business.
His name was Strauss. Finally the restraint became too intense, and he broke loose:"Doctor," said he, "what is that new religion Liebers of about China? My wife has got it ferried bad, and I don't understand it.""Tell me the name," said Bellows. "Is it Mohism, Buddhism, Shintoism, Shinism, Taoism, Confucianism, or what?""No, it is no isms, but der name is like a tramp's misgrah of der soul,
and it is—""Oh, you doubtless mean transmigra-tion, is it not?""Yah, dot's it. Yust dell me about dot."
"Certainly. Transmigration of the soul is a very pretty poetic doctrine of modern paganism which our friends of the Theosophical society have borrowed from the far east.""Here, here, doctor, tell me vot dot means, so I can understand what it is.""All right, I will tell you in plain language. Take yourself, for instance. You live to the allotted age of threescore
years and ten, and then you pass away.
Your soul goes into the body of a bird—a canary, well you see—and from your glided eagle you fill a lady's bonnet with melody, living a life of luxury and fed from the dainty fingers of beauty.""Oh, dot is beautiful, beautiful! I like dot.""And then you die again, and your soul goes into a lovely flower in a garden,
and you fill the air with fragrance and delight the eye with your exquisite color
and delicacy of petals."

"All right, fine. I like dot richum."

"As I was saying when you interrupted me, you live the life of a flower until
one day a donkey gets into the garden,
and, attracted by your loveliness, he eats
you, and your soul passes into the donkey."

"Yah, yah."

"When some former acquaintance comes along, strokes your long ears and says: 'Why, Strauss, is it you? How little you have changed!'—Washington

rience, etc., Balliol 40.The washerwomen have come to see you," said the butler."Show the ladies up," said the master.
They clumped into the room to find him fiddling with the poker at the ashes
in the grate. He turned round."Will you wash 12 collars for a shilling?"They began to expostulate. He touched the bell. In came the butler.

"Show the ladies down."

Presently the butler appeared again.

"They seem very sorry, sir; would like to see you again."

"Show them up."

The washerwomen found the master intent, as before, on the fire grate."Will you wash 12 collars for a shilling?" piped his cheery little voice.A stalwart speaker began to make explanations. He touched the bell."Show the ladies down," said he, and down they went.Again the butler expressed a hope that he would see them again.

"Certainly. Show them up."

They entered the room.

"Will you wash 12 collars for a shilling?"

"We will," they cried.

"Thank you. Good day, good day," said the master, and touching the bell he said, "Knight, show these ladies down,"
and the strike was over.—Argonaut.

HONORED THEIR POET

Scotchmen Celebrated Robert Burns' Birthday With a Banquet and Ball at the St. Louis Hotel.

Fully Five Hundred People Sat Down to Supper and Afterward Participated in the Dance.

Eloquent Speeches by Dr. Robert Forbes, Rev. E. M. Noyes and Others—Congratulatory Telegrams Received.

The birthday of Robert Burns, the great bard, whose beautiful poetic gems have made both his name and his nation immortal, is never allowed to pass unnoticed by Scotchmen. No matter where they are, be they ever so few in numbers on Jan. 25 there will be something to indicate that Bobby Burns lives as strong as ever in their memory. In Duluth, however, and fortunate it is for this city, too, for they make the finest and most progressive citizens, there are a great many Scotchmen and the birthday of the great poet always receives some formal recognition. This year it took the form of a banquet and ball at the St. Louis hotel given last evening by Clan Stewart.

At 7 o'clock when the guests entered the dining room there was a very large crowd. The tables were arranged lengthwise of the room and seated about 500 people. These were filled at least twice so that the room was very full. The supper was more in the nature of a dainty lunch than an elaborate spread and was served in an admirable manner. When the guests were seated Dr. Salter was introduced and asked the blessing.

After the serving of the supper, Chief Thomas Clark called the gathering to order and in a few words introduced C. A. Towne as the toastmaster of the evening.

Mr. Towne devoted some moments to giving himself a Scotchman and desired to be called Mr. "MacTowns" for the balance of the evening. There was a slight humor at this, but the cause there was a strong Irish brogue in his pronunciation of "MacTowns."

The Misses Mackenzie sang "O Wae the Thane in the Cauld Blast" very prettily and Dr. Forbes was then introduced, the theme assigned to him being "Robert Burns."

Dr. Forbes is a model after dinner speaker. His talk was full of wit and humor, causing great amusement, and at the same time it contained some golden sentiments. The ten minutes or so which he consumed seemed like so many seconds. The love of country, he said, is a God-given gift. We love the land of our birth and the land of our adoption, and there is not necessarily any disloyalty to either. The value of a nation is in its people, and the people are its strength. But in every nation there spring up men who by their genius are exalted above their fellow-men. It may be in the field of science, or in the field of poetry. Tonight it is in a poet's memory we are met here. It is not alone Scotchmen who are interested in this poet, for everywhere the world over the name of Robert Burns is known. The character of Burns is hard to analyze. He is not to be measured by ordinary standards; he stands out alone in his solitary genius. He had faults, but his life has forgiven them and we must forgive them, as he has forgiven them. In closing Dr. Forbes read a number of characteristic selections from Burns' poems.

Mayor d'Auremont was introduced in a graceful manner to talk on Duluth. He said it would be useless to boast or brag or even tell the truth for everybody present knew as well as he did what Duluth was. He spoke of the pride which Duluthians feel in the advancement of the city and awarded to Scotchmen a large share of the credit for what Duluth has been made.

Master Thomas Chalmers recited Longfellow's poem on Burns with good effect and was received with applause. "Our Adopted Country" was the theme which fell to Rev. E. M. Noyes and he made a bright and pleasing address. "Pride of ancestry," he said, "is both a noble and a foolish thing. There is a sense in which we may feel a proper pride of ancestry, in the love of country. We are glad tonight that we have some association with the land of Burns and whatever our associations may be, we are proud, too, that we are Americans. Every man is American who is in sympathy with the best instincts of American life. America the speaker characterized as the school-mistress of nations. She has taught science, invention and government to the world. The problem of municipal government has not been solved, but it will be. He dwelt upon the tremendous responsibility resting on the country because it is the teacher of nations.

Miss Rebecca Mackenzie sang the pretty ballad, "Bonnie, Sweet Bonnie," and W. D. Gordon spoke of "Our Native Land." His address was clever and witty.

M. A. Hays spoke on "The Press." In opening he made some humorous remarks at the expense of Mayor d'Auremont and Mr. "MacTowns" for trying to prove themselves Scotchmen.

J. M. McClintock delivered an eloquent address on "The Ladies." It was interspersed with poetic gems and was an exalted eulogy of the fair sex.

Everybody joined hands and sang "Auld Lang Syne," and then the room was cleared of the tables in less than no time and the dance was on. Chief Thomas Clark led the grand march. There were twenty numbers on the program and it was well on toward morning before the last waltz came.

Telegrams extending greetings to Clan Stewart were received from Royal Chief Walter Scott, of Brooklyn; Clan Campbell, of St. Paul, and others.

AMUSEMENTS.

"The Devil's Auction."

The St. Paul Globe says of the appearance of "The Devil's Auction," which will be at the Temple Monday and Tuesday:

"Standing room only" was announced a long time before the play commenced, and when the curtain was raised the house was filled from the orchestra to the highest seats in the gallery. This large audience came to be amused, and they were not disappointed, for every thing produced, from the time that the three witches, with guttural monotonous, ironed out malediction on everything good or bad, in the council chamber of Mephisto, to the last appearance, Chrysaline in the transformation scene, was of the highest order. The specialties were new and well acted, especially the dances and marches, which were produced in such a manner that the audience had hardly begun to see the change before another made its appearance. It would be invidious to select any particular event or actor and make a special mention of him or it, because all were good. The greatest novelty, perhaps, and the one that receives the largest amount of applause, was the dancing of little Miss Columbia, who demonstrates to everybody, from the gallery gods to the orchestra pit, that she could do everything that the big girls did, and a few things more, and what she did was so good that it might bring the flush of envy to the cheek of the finest danseuse."

"Ole Olson" Company.

Among the clever people with the "Ole Olson" company this season may be mentioned Richard Baker, who appears as Ole W. J. Holton, as Paul Jordan, John C. Lince, the eminent English basso, as Jefferson Bassett, Z. T. Evans, as Dr. Shingles, Miss Olive Martin, as Mrs. Jordan, little A. A. Crawford, as Genie, Ole's sweetheart, and Irene Warren, as Mrs. Bridget O'Flannigan.

At the Temple tomorrow night.

FARRINGTON CUT SHORT.

He Tried to Make a Bargain With the Court for a Light Sentence.

F. C. Farrington, the Mesaba remedy man, whose trial in the United States district court at St. Paul, resulted in a disagreement of the jury, made quite a pretty little scene in the court before Judge Thomas. Mr. Stryker, the assistant district attorney, addressing the court, said that he understood that the defendant proposed to change his plea and offer the plea of guilty.

Farrington thereupon arose, doffed his overcoat and with the air of Tarquin walked up to the rail in front of the judge's bench. Speaking to the court, Farrington said that he was not proposing to take any chances on a plea of guilty; he proposed to know first what the punishment of the court would be and then perhaps he would plead guilty. He insisted that the minimum sentence be given him. He brought in the name of Inspector Wood and declared that he had an understanding with the gentleman that he would get off with a light punishment if he would plead guilty.

Judge Thomas interrupted Farrington in the further prosecution of his speech by telling him that such talk would not be allowed. The defendant was then permitted to make any bargain with the court. Farrington thereupon tried to go on with his speech, but the judge adjourned court and left him. Farrington did not come into court yesterday, as was expected, and it is not at all certain that he will plead guilty.

A Masonic Entertainment.

The Masonic historical society had a very enjoyable meeting last evening. Sydney Brown rendered several violin solos, and Mrs. D. H. Day furnished a piano solo. Professor Robinson sang some pleasing songs. Henry Van Hunt flashed a whole lot of stereoscopic views on the screen. W. C. White spoke on the connection of Robert Burns with masonry. About 250 persons were present.

FREIGHT BY TROLLEY.

Novel Suggestion for a Railroad Between Duluth and the Twin Cities.

M. B. Ridgway, of Minneapolis, has a scheme in regard to the railroad between the Twin Cities and Duluth and Superior, which he has outlined to a number of friends and which is certainly a novel proposition. The plan, says the Minneapolis Journal, has to do with the operation of the road rather than with the feasibility of its construction, as a survey has already been made by parties who are even now negotiating loans with which to begin the work of construction. These parties contemplate putting in a regular railroad.

Instead of building a steam road, however, Mr. Ridgway proposes that one run entirely by electricity shall be built. He would not have large power houses at the terminals, but instead, would have them at intervals of twelve or fifteen miles along the route. The power for generating the electricity would be the immense water powers of the state now not utilized. The line of the road as proposed by Mr. Ridgway is somewhat as follows: It would run from Minneapolis directly to the valley of the St. Croix river, and thence along the course that river to Kettle River falls, in Pine county, thence it would cut across the land to the headwaters of the Nemadji river, following down the latter to the St. Louis river, and into the head of the lake cities.

The first water power would be located at Minneapolis and the next in the St. Croix river. In the latter body of water, at intervals of ten or twelve miles, there are falls which, by the construction of small dams and slight improvements, could be made useful. At Kettle River falls the water power is considerably greater than at any of the other points, and a large power station would be located for the purpose of furnishing the power to drive the motors on the Nemadji river. In the headwaters of the latter the power to be derived from damming up the river is considerable also, and this could be used in sending the rolling stock across the country to the St. Louis river.

The project at the present time is only on paper, and, in regard to its possibility of becoming something more than a theory, Mr. Ridgway in a recent interview had this to say:

"I think the idea is several years ahead of the times, and people of these two cities will first have to awake to the usefulness of electricity before they will be ready to invest in such an enterprise. It will come some time. One of the difficulties which will have to be overcome will be to secure a cable of small cost that will transmit electricity for ten to twelve miles without loss. At present, street railway companies lose a small percentage of their electrical force due to the loss in transmission, but I think it will not be very long before an invention will be made by some of the electricians now working on this matter that will prevent this. It is certainly a feasible project, as any one knows that is acquainted with the topography of the land."

WANTS A WINTER BRIDGE.

Fred Osborne Has an Idea as to Building One Across the Canal.

Said Fred Osborne to a Herald reporter this morning: "We who reside on Minnesota Point across the ship canal, want a winter bridge. Under the present accommodations we are isolated from the city and the winter is a very close. The ice breaks and moves around in the canal, making it wholly impossible to cross in boats or on foot. The other day we had to go out on the bay fully a mile out of our way to get on to the mainland. On another occasion a funeral procession was unable to cross to the city and left the funeral home just to the residents and taxpayers to be so inconvenienced."

"Now I have figured on this thing and I favor a footbridge. I would recommend that two piers be erected on each side of the canal. Over them, and anchored back of them, two wire cables could be stretched. From these 'hangers' could be suspended, cross-bars provided and a common foot sidewalk supported thereon. The cables would not need to be over 2½ inches in diameter and would cost only 6 cents a pound. The whole bridge would cost over $200 and would be cheaper than a ferry. It would be available fully five months in the year, and during the navigation season, could be taken down, stored and then again placed in position at the close of the season. For the convenience of those who might wish to cross the canal late in the season, alter the large vessels are laid up, but before the ice forms, a movable section could be arranged in the sidewalk. That is, a small section of the sidewalk could be moved up and down the canal, and the demands of the tugs and foot passengers made it necessary."

"We must have better accommodations for crossing the canal and we propose to keep at it until they are provided. For the five winter months I can think of nothing better than this foot suspension bridge."

NEW SHIFT GOING IN.

Board of Public Works Putting on a New Gang at Rock Work.

Clerk Abell of the board of public works was busy all the morning at the task of selecting the second shift of two or three hundred men for the rock work now being provided by the city. The rooms of the board of public works were crowded all the forenoon with anxious applicants. He gave such as were chosen orders to the foremen to set them to work. They will then be investigated by the special agent of the board and if worthy, will be allowed to break rock twelve days, just as has the shift now finishing that term of service.

Deafness Cannot be Cured
by local application, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the middle ear tube. When this tube gets inflamed
you have a running sound of imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube returned to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever.
We will give you one hundred dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Sent for six-months, free. F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio.

RAAB PERJURY CASE

Proving to be Sensational in a High Degree and May End Disastrously for Someone.

One Witness Says That Mrs. Raab Gave Him
Fifty Dollars to Testify as He Did.

Another Contradicts This and Says the First Man is Now Guilty of Perjury Himself.

In the municipal court yesterday afternoon Mrs. Rebecca Raab was given a preliminary examination on the charge
of perjury and when the session adjourned, it looked as if that lady was in an embarrassing position.

In the district court Mrs. Raab secured a judgment of $1000 against Dr.
Stewart on the charge of slander. Dr.
Stewart, one of the jurors, brought charges of perjury against Mrs. Raab, the theory of the prosecution being that Mrs. Raab deliberately planned the case she brought against Dr. Stewart. The examination yesterday afternoon resulted in some very sensational developments.

On the stand a young man, who at the original trial swore that he heard Stewart use the slanderous language towards Mrs. Raab, testified that his former testimony was wholly false. He said that Mrs. Raab came to him with an offer of $50 to testify to the disad-vantage of Dr. Stewart, and her offer was accepted. If he told the truth yesterday, then in the district court he deliberately committed perjury.

Robert Benson testified that previous to the time Mrs. Raab alleged that she was slandered by Dr. Stewart he heard her say that she was going to bring suit
and recover damages from the doctor.

A large crowd of spectators was present
and an intense interest was shown in the progress of the hearing. The examination was not concluded and was continued until 9 o'clock this morning.

The Case This Morning.
The preliminary examination of Mrs.

Rebecca Raab on the charge of perjury was again taken up this morning. The sensational features were absent tomorrow, much to the disappointment of the large number of spectators.

The attorneys in the case are most interesting features. The prosecution is in charge of County Attorney Teas and he is assisted by Towne and Harris. Attorney Crocker, a recent arrival from Michigan, has charge of the defense. He is a lawyer of experience and ability,
hence the tilt between the counsel are sharp, and backed by an abundance of brains and legal knowledge. Several who were present yesterday afternoon came back today just to hear the attorneys, men of such prominence in their profession not being every day incidents
in the municipal court.

The defense opened its side of the case this morning, the state having closed yesterday afternoon. Jacob Raab husband of Mrs. Rebecca Raab, was the first witness. He testified as to coming home at night and being informed by his wife as to what Dr. Stewart had said to her on the street.

Mrs. James Paullay, who resides in the same house with the Raabs, was next placed on the stand. She is a brunette in appearance and her dark eyes were half closed and her forehead wrinkled
several times as she attempted, apparently, to call to mind incidents referred to in Mr. Towne's penetrating cross-examination. This witness testified that which Mrs. Raab alleged the doctor used towards her, so Mrs. Paullay stated, were repeated and Mrs. Raab, at that time, looked grieved and finally was taken
with an attack of tears and lamentations.
Mrs. Paullay was an indifferent witness and was considerably flustered by the attorneys for the defense at times, but she managed to keep quite cool throughout most of the lengthy inquisition.

Paullay Reiterates It.
James Paullay, taking the stand, swore that on Sept. 5, 1903, in front of the Iron Exchange bank he heard Dr. Stewart address Mrs. Raab in the slanderous language which Mrs. Raab in her complaint alleged him to have used.

Paullay also had something to say about
the young man who swore yesterday that he perjured himself in the trial before the district court and that Mrs. Raab paid him $50 to give the testimony he did.

"He first came to my house one morning about a week ago," said Paullay, "and said, 'Jim, I'm in the soup. Last night
the superintendent at the power-house came to me and stated that he understood that a charge of perjury was about to be entered against me and that if it was a fact, he did not want me any longer in the employ of the company.'
He then went away, but I saw him again
that evening and he held me that he had made an affidavit to the effect that he had given untrue testimony in the trial at the district court. I asked him why he did it and he said that it was to save his job,
as he could not afford to lose it."

Paullay also swore that the young man declared that his testimony in the district court was all true, but that the affidavit was made so that he would not get discharged. He urged Paullay to do the same, but he declared that he had told only the truth and that if he went over

DOINGS OF CONGRESS TODAY.

The House Leaves Lumber on the Free List.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—There was a slim attendance on the floor when the house met at 11 o'clock today. Mr. Outwater from the committee on rules brought in a special order extending the time for the consideration of the tariff bill until Thursday Feb. 1 and giving over Monday and Tuesday to general debate on the income tax bill and thereafter under the five-minute rule. The resolution was agreed to.

The house went into committee of the whole to consider the Wilson tariff bill and Mr. Richardson took the chair. There was pending when the house took a recess yesterday an amendment offered by Mr. Boutelle, substituting the lumber schedule of the McKinley bill for the corresponding section of the Wilson bill.

Mr. Boutelle's amendment was lost, 79 to 112, and the committee took up the lead schedule. Mr. Morgan, Dem., of Missouri, proposed an amendment reducing the duty on white lead from 1 1/2 cents to 1 cent a pound and that on lead pipe, shot and sheets from 1 1/2 cents to 1 cent a pound, and making all lead ore, including that carried in silver ore, 1 cent a pound.

CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—Benjamin C. Faurot, ex-president of the L.M.A. Ohio, National bank, who was indicted on the charge of perjury preferred by William Graver, of Chicago, was discharged by Commissioner Hoyne yesterday. TO RESTRAIN CARLISE.

The Bill in Equity Prepared by the Knights of Labor.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—General Master Workman Sovereign and General Secretary John W. Hayes of the Knights of Labor, were ready with their bill in equity against Secretary Carlisle this morning, but Judge Cox, of the district supreme court, after consideration, named Monday next at 10 o'clock to hear argument as to whether the bill could be admitted.

It is a bill for an injunction sued out by James Richard Sovereign for himself and in behalf of the Knights of Labor, who are said to number 30,000 and to be "too numerous to be named," against John Griffin Carlisle, secretary of the treasury, and prays that said Carlisle and his confederates may be required to make answer on oath under what basis of statute or of necessity they claim the right to issue the bonds specified in the recent treasury schedule, and to specifically answer whether such bonds are to be made payable in United States gold coin or otherwise and why the necessities, if any, existing should not be met by the issue of the silver coin in the possession of the department, and especially why it is proposed to sell bonds to a greater amount than is required to make up the deficit on the $100,000,000 gold reserve.

They ask a preliminary injunction to restrain the selling of the bonds and alter a hearing the injunction be made perpetual.

Opening of the Manhattan.
The Manhattan wine house, 15 West Superior street, was opened today by J. D. Zien & Co. and was thronged with crowds of citizens all day. About 3 p. m. a magnificent lunch was set and the tables were kept loaded with good things until evening, when they will be again furnished fresh and kept going.

The 2-year-old French breed filly Maggiore won $30,000 for her owner this year. She has a record of 2:30 1/2 and made it in a two mile race.

When Ayres P. and running made went in 2:30 1/2, they were latched to an old fashioned skeleton wagon with high wheels, and the trotter wore no breech band.

J. S. Johnson is now training for a skating race with Harry Hulse, the Canadian crack.

Champion Fantasy's Future.
C. J. Hamlin denies that Fantasy, who holds the 3-year-old trotting record of 2:08 1/2, made in a race last year, would be retired to the stud. "But," he said, "she will have to go to the free for all class, and I hardly think she ought to be raced so hard in her 10 days. It all depends, however, upon how she trains on. We want her to have an easy year of it. Then when she reaches her 3-year-old form, if anybody wants to gamble about whether I have the fastest trotter or not, I will accommodate them."

Cheap Rates to California.
The Northern Pacific railroad has put into effect a series of low round trip rates to California points. Tickets are good until April 30, 1894, and are good for stop over under certain conditions.

These rates will enable those desiring to do so, to spend the winter in Southern California or to visit the midwinter fair to be held at San Francisco. The latter event will undoubtedly be second only to the World's fair just closed and will repay a visit as it will exhibit the resources and capabilities of California.

Mr. Hammond's first success of note occurred in 1889, when he won the dueling sword championship of the United States. In 1891 he won the championship in two classes—dueling sword and foil. Last year he won the sabers championship of the United States. The latter event was victorious with the dueling sword.

Deafness Cannot be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube gets inflamed, it has a running sound of ringing in the ears, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Cases often out of the ear are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness (cannot be cured) that can be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circular free. E. J. Conroy & Co., Toledo, Ohio.

MAYOR FILES A VETO

Resolution Ordering the Issuance of Water Bonds Meets With the Disapproval of Mayor d'Autremont.

Thinks it Best to Allow the New Council and Mayor to Act on This Matter.

Financial Condition of the City and Country Makes it Advisable to Delay Matters Awhile.

Mayor d'Autremont yesterday drew up his veto of the $800,000 water bond or ordinance passed January 20. His reasons for the act are: First, that there is considerable doubt that the ordinance was properly passed. It is not impossible that a bidder could successfully decline to take the bonds after having made an offer for them.

Secondly, when the issuance of water and light bonds was voted for by the people, all business was in a flourishing condition. Things have changed since then and the burden of taxation would be much more heavily felt at this time. Since a new council and a new mayor are soon to be elected, it would seem better to let them act on so important a matter, especially since the rate of interest is higher than the city has paid in the past. In a short time, also, business will probably revive and money can be secured at a much less rate if desired.

No revenue will come in from this proposed water main for years and a $400,000 sinking fund would annually fall upon the taxpayers, were this ordinance to become a law, says the mayor. It is impossible at the present time, without running deeper into debt, to pay the city's running expenses and interest.

The available cash in the treasury amounts to only $12,173. The unpaid Lakeside assessments amount to $150,000. Those from the old city of Duluth aggregate $600,000, while $600,000 more rest against the old village of West Duluth. That makes in all $1,350,000 due the city from property holders for improvements made.

Outstanding orders amount to $155,000; Duluth street improvement certificates, $100,000; and West Duluth street improvement certificates, $612,000. The bonded indebtedness is $1,865,150. Of course the unpaid assessments are credits but property owners may default or assessments declared illegal, which will throw an additional burden on the general fund.

The mayor makes the statement that Duluth has maintained, through these hard times, a standing superior to that of any other Western city. He does not believe that the property owners wish to add $800,000 to the present indebtedness, even for the purpose of giving a better water supply, when they pause to think how much they will be benefited by the proposed outlay.

WHAT PEOPLE SAY.

Secretary Buchanan Has Interviewed Railroad Passenger Agents.

Secretary Buchanan of the jobbers' union returned today from St. Paul. He said: "While in St. Paul I saw General Passenger Agents Teasdale of the Omaha and Whitey of the Great Northern railway. Mr. Whitney said that he was willing to make the required rate for all non-competitive points and where transshipment was not concerned. Mr. Teasdale said that he had not yet given up the fight, but that the best plan for the National Educational Association was to put up with the rate until the February meeting of the Western Passenger association when passenger rates for the summer, including the rates and terms for the great excursion, terms as the G. A. R., Christian Endeavorers and the National Educational association will be fixed. While the first of these will be held at Pittsburgh and Cleveland, outside of the Western Passenger association's territory, yet it will have to join in granting satisfactory terms to them and why should they not do the same to Duluth that is in their territory?"

Five Commissioner James Hart said today, "I am given the credit for destroying the banner in the anti-Baldwin demonstration last night. I did not do it myself, but I was and am so heartily in accord with the feeling that prompted the act that I am willing to shoulder it. I do not believe in publicly insulting any citizen of any denomination."

"It is a good thing not to undervalue the strength of your enemy, as was remarked by Marshall Ney," said Wm. C. Sargent today, "and I hope that Capt. Lewis' friends will not run away with the idea that he has a walkover. We Republicans want to work to our utmost and keep on working until the polls close, and then we can enjoy the fruits of the splendid victory that I feel in my bones awaits us."

Alec Fraser, who, it will be remembered, received an inquiry a few days ago as to the whereabouts of a man named Robert Macpherson, said: "I took the letter that I received from Scotland asking about Robert Macpherson to the Burns banquet with me, thinking that among so many Scots I might find out something by having it read publicly, but I found that nearly all of them had already seen the notice in 'The Herald.' I turned it over to Chief Tom Clark. It is surprising how quickly 'The Herald' spreads the news."

Did Not Burn Him.

Police Interfered With the Burning in Effigy of Maj. Baldwin.

The attempt to burn Maj. Baldwin in effigy last evening was made, but was not very much of a success. The projectors of the scheme are unknown, but they had placed all arrangements in the hands of a young man named Ted McKenna, who seemed to be immensely tickled at being delegated the honor if it might be called such. About 8 o'clock the procession formed near the city hall. Young McKenna was at the head carrying a banner, on which was painted a figure of a man, and the words: "This is the way 1,500,000 people feel toward Maj. Baldwin." Following came a band and an aggregate of $600,000, while $600,000 more rest against the old village of West Duluth. That makes in all $1,350,000 due the city from property holders for improvements made.

The band proceeded on down the street to Sixth avenue west and came back to go to the rear of the Palladio and burn Maj. Baldwin in effigy. As the procession reached Fourth avenue west the patrol wagon came dashing down the street and in it about fifteen great big policemen. Just as it reached the procession Sergeant McKeown, who had been following the crowd, darted forward, seized the young man and hustled him toward the patrol wagon.

Instantly there was a great rush from all sides. The "coppers" jumped out with drawn clubs and forced the crowd back. Mayor d'Autremont was on hand directing the police. The crowd was caused when a couple of policemen grabbed "Dote" and told him to get back on the sidewalk and the way from the street. The patrol wagon soon started for headquarters and McKenna was kept there about an hour when he was released.

Although a large crowd was gathered it was more to see the fun than anything else and there were only a few who were playing any part in the burning. Citizens generally without respect of party deprecated the affair and termed it a disgrace to the city.

DICKINSON FOR SENATOR.

Judge Dickinson of Duluth, Talked of as Washington's Successor.

Editor Pease of the Anoka Union, was in St. Paul yesterday and discussed politics. Among other things he said: "As the little need of holding a Republican convention during the coming summer. The state that has been fined up in these two cities may as well be placed in the field as the Republican ticket and save the time and expense of holding the convention. The result will be the same unless the country members can break the slate, and I don't see how it can be done."

"The slate is all made up now between these cities. It is Nelson for governor, Berg for auditor, Koerner for treasurer, Righ for secretary of state and, I think, for lieutenant governor. Should Charlie Holcomb get on the ticket for clerk of the supreme court, of course that will let Berg out, as they are both from the same congressional district."

"I would like to know for certain whether or not Nelson will be a candidate for the United States senate. That might alter some things. I was told yesterday that he had said he would not be. I also heard a new man mentioned for the senate yesterday, and that is ex-Judge Dickinson, of the supreme court, who is now a resident of Duluth. Judge Dickinson was seen by 'Herald' reporter this afternoon and said that he did not wish to be regarded as a candidate in any sense for the senatorship, as he did not want it."

City Clerk Abell was occupied all this morning the same as yesterday writing out orders for those who will be given twelve days' work on the second shift of men. Quite a number were also given pay checks for such time as they already have worked.

A Benefit Concert.
On Tuesday evening there will be given at the Spalding a concert for the benefit of the Infants' home. It has been arranged by the Young Ladies' association, an organization of young society women organized for the purpose of aiding in charity work. A glance at the program published in another column is enough to show that the concert will be one of unusual excellence.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

Matters of Interest Which Are Heard at the High School Building.

The seniors have arranged for a sleigh ride to West Superior for next Friday evening. The class will be entertained by two of its members, the Misses Woodward and Olive Smith.
Considerable disappointment exists among the seniors because the formal study of English literature must cease with the present semester. All have enjoyed the work and been profited by it under the instruction of Miss Cullyford.

The date of the concert by the musical society has been changed from Feb. 2 to Feb. 1.

It is a noteworthy fact that the attendance has not been diminished during these cold mornings.

The regular monthly sophomore class meeting was held on Thursday.
The Olympic Literary society held a meeting Friday to elect officers for the coming semester. The program was given, but the time was employed in voting by the Australian ballot system, printed ballots having the names of the candidates and the names of the electors provided for the purpose. The contest was somewhat exciting. Miss Laura White and Guy Fiske and Charles Morris acted as judges of election. The successful candidates were: Herbert C. Abbott, president; Charles Morris, vice president; Betty Bready, secretary; Walter Scott, treasurer; Jack McLaren, sergeant-at-arms; Ralph Davis and Richard Close, tellers.

The board of editors of the High School Annual have decided to offer two prizes of $5 each for the best story and best poem. All manuscripts are to be handed in by March 1, 1894. Competition is open to graduates and undergraduates. The second best story and poem will be published with honorable mention.

The examinations for the semester begin next Tuesday afternoon and continue until Friday night. The examinations in the morning begin at 9 o'clock, those in the afternoon at 1:30.

In the manual training department the boys have nearly completed a 5-horse power engine and a 25-light dynamo, which will be set up in the shops to furnish light and run the lighter machinery, also to furnish direct current for use in the physical laboratory. This small plant will be in the hands of and run by the boys who are constructing it.

The phoci pendulum, weighing over 200 pounds, was suspended the past week in the tower of the high school. The length of this pendulum is seventy-five feet and has an amplitude of eight feet. Its purpose is to show the angle of the earth, or height above earth level and the force of gravity at this point. It was made by the students of the manual training department. It is the aim to direct the work of this department into practical channels.

Students and teachers in all departments are studying up the work of the first semester. A number of new studies will be taken up next semester among which are English grammar, Latin, geometry, bookkeeping, Greek and Roman history, trigonometry, rhetoric and geology.

United States Court Case.
Answer has been filed in the United States circuit court in the case of Louis Hebert against Cyrus E. Brown et al.

HAVING A CONFERENCE.

Lake Erie and Lake St. Clair Canal People in Session.

D. Farrand Henry, chief engineer of the Lake St. Clair and Lake Erie canal, accompanied by Wilfrid C. Porter, of Detroit, are at the St. Louis. These gentlemen, it is understood, are in the city at the request of the Duluth parties who are interested in the canal project.

A meeting of the Duluth stockholders and several attorneys was held at the St. Louis last night, and the same parties have sat in solemn convocation all day, but a profound mystery enshrouds their deliberations.

It is reported however that the Duluth men are determined that this city shall have a proper representation in the councils of the promoters, and also that they shall be fully informed as to all expenditures, projects etc. While it is not asserted that the promoters refuse all or any information, yet it is said that their course of procedure has not been as satisfactory to the local men as it might have been. A satisfactory settlement of all points of difference is confidently looked for, and the future success of this great enterprise seems to be assured.
